Clubs Cautioned to Have a Man at Annual Meeting to Vote for Casselman.

LONDONER WELL LIKED

Mr. W. P. Irving, Formerly of City, Writes From Vancouver to Toronto.

It will be well for the hockey clubs of the O. H. A. to get away from the idea that they can vote by proxy at the annual meeting to be held in the Temple Building at Toronto Saturday morning.

Proxies are not allowed. Mr. Ken Casselman, who is in the running for the O. H. A. executive, is meeting with a great deal of encouragement, but every team is cautioned to have a delegate representing them at the meeting.

Rules of the Meeting.
The following will be of interest: The annual meeting of the O. H. A. will be held next Saturday morning at the Temple Building, beginning at 9 o'clock sharp. All the business will be transacted at the morning session, so that the delegates can go to the football match in the afternoon. Each club is entitled to one delegate only, and he must be a member of the club he represents. Proxies are not allowed. Fees must be paid, $2 per team, before the annual meeting. New clubs are also required to pay $5 entrance fee and to secure representation at the annual meeting must have their applications passed upon by the O. H. A. executive, which will meet on Friday night at the Telegram office. For any information address the secretary, W. A. Hewitt, Dally Star, Toronto.

Irving Boosts Casselman.
The Toronto Star says: Kenneth W. Casselman, of London, is a candidate for the O. H. A. executive, W. P. Irving, now of Vancouver, a retiring member of the O. H. A. executive, writes as follows: "I am taking this opportunity of advocating the claims of Mr. Casselman, for a position on the body of your association. London should have a representative, and Mr. Casselman is the man. Although I am removed from the scene of the great winter sport, my interest in the same has not by any means died out."

GARRY DOES NOT LIKE FOOTBALL

Just Because One of His Star Ball Players Got a Beating.

Garry Hymann, owner of the Cincinnati Reds, is opposed to football as a game for baseball players, at least if the diamonds men happen to be assets of the Cincinnati club.

Bob Bescher, of the Reds, has been starting weekly with a Cincinnati eleven. He is the merry little ground gainer, and last Saturday he took a rap at one of the officials, a fireman, who retaliated by cracking Bob over the head with a broomstick. Bescher is now under the weather.

The Cincinnati club has signed a young southpaw pitcher from Southwestern Texas, named Wingo Anderson. He has been pitching for the independent team of El Paso this year, and his work has attracted so much attention that the New York Giants, the Detroit Tigers and several other clubs were on his trail when he was contacted by the active boss of the Reds. He is said to have a record of 14 and 20 strike-outs in nine-inning games, and also a no-hit game to his credit. His right arm is paralyzed.

BIDDING FOR FIGHT FAR TOO RECKLESS

Promoters Who Figure on Pictures to Save Them From Loss May Be Fooled.

MANY HAVE LOST MONEY

And Only Three Made a Profit—May Have to Make Up $50,000 Deficit.

New York, Nov. 17.—Promoters from every point of the compass bidding unhand-of sums by wire for the privilege of losing money on the Jeffries-Johnson fight, think they have an ace in the hole in the proceeds from the moving pictures.

Perhaps it may be possible to make up a $50,000 deficit on the battle from the picture profits, but there are forty reasons why it will happen. It may interest some of the haphazard bidders to know that of all the pictures taken of important fight engagements only three have made a profit, and several have actually lost from $20,000 to $30,000.

Some Figures.
Here are some of the figures: William A. Brady and Klaw & Erlanger paid Hugh McIntosh $25,000 for the American rights of the Burns-Johnson pictures, taken in Australia, when the big black won the championship.

This clever combination of theatrical managers spent $7,000 more trying to make their investment bring a return. Tom McCarey, the Los Angeles fight promoter, went into partnership with Tommy Burns and Jack O'Brien on the picture privilege for their first battle—the square one.

The venture cost the trio $18,500 before they got through.

Gans-Nelson Fight.
The Gans-Nelson pictures, taken at Goldfield, were a financial flop, although the battle itself had all American appeal. Miles Brothers, who made the pictures, are still looking to "lex" Rickard and Billy Nolan for pay for their work. A chap named Henwood, from San Francisco, secured the picture rights to take moving pictures of the last Papke-Ketchell bout. He is out of pocket $10,000 more from the picture.

It was the general impression that the Sharkey-Jeffries pictures made money for the picture takers. On O'Rourke says that, on the contrary, they lost $20,000 after clearing $20,000 in New York City. These are the most important pictures in the moving picture line. Many other minor battles were pictured only to lose lesser sums.

The Money-makers.
Of the three moves to make big money were controlled by James W. Coffroth, the San Francisco promoter, now here to bid for Jeff and the big negro. The Britt-Nelson production was the best money winner, and the Johnson-Ketchell pictures, now being shown in several theatres of Greater New York, come next.

It is interesting to note that Coffroth hastened to dispose of his rights on the last named pictures and allowed someone else to take the business gamble on their producing the financial goals.

Two other important items figure in the profits, should any accrue, from the big show to be fought next month. One is how large the purse the boxers themselves will demand a share of the picture privilege, and the other is a generous demand at that. Then, again, no part of the country can guarantee sunshine on a given date in mid-summer except California.

Better Get Thinking.
In case of a night battle, the difficulty of faulty lighting will greatly reduce the value of the films. Cash show to pull them out of the picture, best take one more long look think before making any deposits.

WILLIAM HENDRIE WAS JUDGE AT GOTHAM SHOW

Hamilton Returns Home From Big Event at Madison Square Garden.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—William Hendrie, accompanied by Mrs. Hendrie and Miss Phyllis Hendrie, have returned home after enjoying the big international horse show held in Madison Square Gardens, New York.

Mr. Hendrie was invited to judge one of the most important events of the week. It was a competition between British and United States riders, consisting of seven men and six horses, and picked from the Royal Artillery and the Canadian Cavalry.

Mr. Hendrie awarded first prize to a G. Beresford, of the Seventh Hussars, who rode a bay horse named called Flight, who took the jump like a swallow, carrying 190 pounds. This was a record for the event. The severe test of walking, trotting and cantering. Mr. Hendrie says the English contingent was royally received and entertained by the New Yorkers, the whole week being one continuous round of banquets and entertainments to the English and Canadian visitors.

Hon. Adam and Mrs. Beck succeeded in winning two prizes, five seconds and three thirds. Alfred Vanderbilt had his celebrated park four-in-hand beaten. They were the same well-known pair, from London to Brighton, in England. Mr. Vanderbilt paid $15,000 for the two leaders.

Judge Moore, of Boston, Mass., carried off the event, having scored England from end to end for his far-ranging could buy. Mr. Moore is a wealthy man, owner of the Rock Island Railway. Mr. Moore's friends were on the mat, he is on "his feet quite sorry for him" and they all chorus, "Little enough for a good man."

TO CAN HIS SCOUTS

Clarke Griffith, of Reds, Pulls Off a Peculiar Move.

Clarke Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is going to can his staff of scouts. In view of the fact that Slough (Lamborne) picked up Dick Egan, Harry Gansar, Jack Rowan, Bob Bescher, and Bill Hottel for Cincinnati, it looks like a bad move on the part of the old fox. Without that bunch Garry Herrington's Redlegs wouldn't qualify for the championship. Griffith got a $1,000 bonus for finishing in the first division.

TOM LIPTON PLEASSED

Probably Will Challenge For America's Cup as Result of Trip.

New York, Nov. 17.—With his departure for England expected on the Lusitania today, the visit of Sir Thomas Lipton is said to have practically assured an international yacht race for the America's cup in 1911. Although no definite understanding has been announced in regard to the changes in the rules governing cup races, which Sir Thomas has been anxious to obtain, the yachtman is expected to accept the promise of a formal challenge. It is said today that Sir Thomas' negotiations with his friends in the New York Yacht Club have paved the way for this far-reaching move.

The secretary, John Westwood, said today that Sir Thomas was highly pleased with the results of his visit here in regard to the yachting matter.

Preliminary to sailing Sir Thomas will be the guest of the members of the Atlantic Yacht Club at a dinner at the Lotus Club, where many prominent yachtsmen are expected to be present. A mast of the Shamrock III, the last Lipton challenger, was presented to the city and dedicated today as a flagpole on the plaza at the Long Island Sound. BALTIMORE CLUB SOLD BY HANLON

Purchase Is Made By Jack Dunn, Former Eastern League Manager.

ALL HIS OWN MONEY

Negotiations Have Been On for Several Months—Terms of Deal Kept Secret.

Baltimore, Nov. 16.—The Baltimore Eastern League Baseball Club was sold today by Edward Hanlon to Former Manager Jack Dunn.

The consummation of the deal came at the conclusion of a long conference between Hanlon and Dunn and their attorneys, which began some time before noon today. This, in turn, was the result of negotiations that have been on foot for a couple of months past, it is said.

The title of the property sold is the Baltimore Baseball and Exhibition Company. The actual property is the Eastern League Club and franchise. Hanlon became sole owner of the property a few days ago.

Purchased It Himself.
Dunn has for the past two seasons been manager of the club, playing second base. He says that the purchase is for himself alone, and that he pays for it with his own money. The purchase price is withheld. With the club goes a lease of the baseball grounds covering several years. Dunn's attorney, Charles E. Knapp, becomes one of the directors of the club, as does Wilbert Robinson, who was one of the catchers of the Baltimore Club when this club was represented in a major league. Hanlon secured the club in 1932. Prior to coming here Dunn was manager of the Providence team.

Plan to Avoid Eating at Southern Hotel by Having Own Train.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Manager Frank Chance and his bunch of Chicago Cubs may tour the Land of Dixie next spring on a special train composed of two sleeping cars and a dining-car. President Murphy today took under consideration a plan by which the athletes will not be compelled to enter a southern hotel, but can live on their cars.

The president was actuated in examining the feasibility of this scheme by the report that his athletes would be agitated in the conditioning process if their meals were prepared from a menu arranged by a diet specialist.
