

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

Vancouver's New Water Supply—Corporation Contracts—The Municipal Finances.

An Old Suspected Murder Again Under Investigation—No More Typhoid Fever.

(Special to the Colonist.)

VANCOUVER, Oct. 27.—Water was turned into the main this morning. The local papers say the pressure in the city rose from 80 to 110. Your correspondent, however, on examining the gauge could detect no increased pressure whatever from yesterday.

The new water supply is being established at Mount Pleasant. The new water supply is being established at Mount Pleasant. The new water supply is being established at Mount Pleasant.

A new son of England society is being established at Mount Pleasant. The new water supply is being established at Mount Pleasant. The new water supply is being established at Mount Pleasant.

During the past three months 1,463 loads of garbage have been destroyed at the city cemetery, at a cost of $73,000.

C. Parada, found guilty of stealing $150 from North Beach Hotel, by Judge Walkem, at Kamloops, was sentenced to 18 months' hard labor.

The Council have contracted for broken stone for street paving, and as the appropriation for that purpose is exhausted, have arranged that bills will not be presented till next year.

The case of Gold vs. the Bank of B. C. was before Mr. Justice McCroight this morning and adjourned because sufficient jurors did not appear.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 26.—Fog is seriously interfering with shipping on the river, and between the logging camps up the coast.

Three potatoes, aggregating 14 pounds, and the largest 28 inches in circumference, were brought down from Langley's ranch, Abnott, to-day.

James Wise, an old pioneer, was thrown from his carriage last evening and had his left arm fractured.

The doctors say that typhoid fever has nearly disappeared from the city since the new water system was introduced.

Whonock Harry, an Indian fisherman, disappeared mysteriously last May and was supposed to be drowned.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Joseph Ogilvie, Ash street, last evening. A. L. Clements, C.P.R. agent at Port Hammond, was united in marriage with Miss Ruth Ogilvie, Rev. Mr. Robson, assisted by Rev. Principal Whittington, of British Columbia College, performing the ceremony.

PILOT BAY.

The Kootenay Lake Reduction Company Rapidly Pushing Ahead in That Section.

The Only Thing Now Needed is Transportation and That is Coming.

Dr. Hendry, who is just down from Pilot Bay and the Kootenay country, reports a very favorable condition of affairs in that section.

"The country," says he, "has been steadily coming to the front for some years, but the last year and this have been more than ordinarily good. When I say this, I do not refer to any one place, but to the entire district. The difficulty has been that the money for developing the country has been brought in from the outside, and this is necessarily a slow way to get ahead, but that is the early history of most mining countries. Now that the region itself is beginning to produce there will be much more rapid progress in the future.

"The thing most needed now is better transportation. The country has been kept back on account of a lack of means for getting its productions to the world. We have hope that the C.P.R. will construct through the Crow's Nest pass, and this, with the Great Northern connections, and the Nelson and Fort Sheppard road, which when completed put us in fairly good shape so far as transportation is concerned.

"The Kootenay Lake Reduction Company have their works located on Pilot Bay, which is a most favorable location. There is splendid wharfage and the most favorable surroundings. There are 900 feet of wharves in connection with the smelter, and the company have now erected a nine-roomed office building containing fire proof vaults and an assay office, 25x50, with a wing, 25x25. These are in brick and iron, and are very substantial. There are also a warehouse, 35x60 feet, a blacksmith shop, 24x40 feet, a carpenter shop, 24x60 feet, two stores; a boiler house, 42x60 feet, and the smelter building, 60x128 feet.

"The sampling works are 98x128 feet, and the calcining furnaces are located in a building 98x170 feet. The boarding house is three stories and a basement, and will accommodate about 100 men; everything about it is in good shape.

"There is also now in process of erection a refinery, which will be 120x245 feet. This will contain all the most improved equipment. We make all our own brick, having for that purpose three drying houses, 36x60 feet each.

"The smelter will have room for three 100 ton stacks, and though but one will be built to commence with, everything is so arranged that the capacity can be increased with but little trouble when occasion demands. I do not care to praise up the country too much. The best way is for those interested in this region to come up and see for themselves. This is all that is needed to advertise Kootenay."

VICTORIA CITY WATER.

Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie's Opinion of Its Purity and Flavor.

Yesterday's Session of the Royal Commission on Epidemic Diseases—Medical Evidence.

Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie does not, it would seem, think very much of Victoria city water, to judge from the way he expressed himself at yesterday's session of the Royal Commission on epidemic diseases, and he took no great pains to conceal his opinion.

The circumstances were these: Dr. Hugh Watt, M.P.E., had, in the witness box, been relating his experiences with the cholera epidemic, first before he went up to Cariboo, and afterwards, when Dr. Milne had gone East while the smallpox was still what might be called epidemic. There was nothing special in the evidence, which was merely a repetition of testimony already in.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie and Dr. E. A. Prager, questioned the witness as to his opinion regarding the steps that should be taken by the cities of the Province, and Victoria in particular, to guard against a threatened invasion of cholera. Amongst the requirements Dr. Watt suggested were: water supply, and the water supply should be so arranged that it should be in a position to demonstrate the fact that we have valuable quartz mines.

The increase on all exports, including animal produce, agricultural products, etc., is $7,846,053.

The fact that in discussing plans for next year Anson does not mention Chicago with emphasis leads me to believe that he has hopes of changing his base of operations for 1893. Indeed he has expressed a desire to place his headquarters in Chicago.

A few more games and the double season of 1892 will have passed into history. It has not been a success by any means. Why it has not I propose to show in a future article. The reasons are of a simple character that they, too, can be easily pointed out.

Nothing has occurred during the last week to change the force of a foreboding which the Clevelanders cannot be headed in their dash for the prize. Only another "Garison finish" by the Bostonians can but the Ohio club out of a championship, and with this in view the Eastern League and New York team can repeat last fall's great sport.

The team under President Von der Ahe's management was very much demoralized while it was on the eastern circuit, but St. Louis chief may have excellent business qualifications adapted to the national game, but he is clearly out of his sphere when he undertakes the management of a team of players. Comiskey's great work is clearly shown by contrast.

A remarkable phase of this season in baseball was the early and disastrous failure of the Western league, while other organizations comprising smaller cities in their circuits went through to the very end of their schedules. The Southern league, the Eastern league, the New England league, the Pacific Northwest league are all finishers. The first three have recently wound up their individual campaigns and gone into winter quarters in good condition to resume business next spring. The New England league did not drop out, it seemed impossible to keep the organization afloat for a fortnight, but every other club kept up the fight and played over ninety games—the complement called for by the constitution. Much of the credit for this "heavy business" must be given to the management of the King, of the Brooklyn, whose long head and valuable experience in major company made him a valuable leader for the New England league people.

The success of the Southern league must be gratifying to every lover of the game. The south is a good field for the sport if it is honestly and earnestly played. Several seasons in late years questionable methods practiced by magnates and players of Southern league clubs almost destroyed confidence and interest in the game through that section. The high plane which can be made permanent by a continuation of this year's policy.

Somewhere out west they have nominated Billy Sunday, the ex-baseball player, for Congress. Billy left the profession long ago, but he is a man of the highest character, and he is a man of the highest character, and he is a man of the highest character.

Cleveland should put up a monument to Captain Tobson. When he was injured weeks ago Davis was called in from the outfield to play in his place at third base. Davis did so well and the team kept winning so steadily with the nine thus arranged that when Tobson entirely recovered he put up all his personal ambition behind the club's interests and refused to go back to his place at the risk of turning the tide of victory. O rare Pat Tobson!

ELIZA ARCHARD CORNER.

VICTORIA CITY WATER.

Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie's Opinion of Its Purity and Flavor.

Yesterday's Session of the Royal Commission on Epidemic Diseases—Medical Evidence.

Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie does not, it would seem, think very much of Victoria city water, to judge from the way he expressed himself at yesterday's session of the Royal Commission on epidemic diseases, and he took no great pains to conceal his opinion.

The circumstances were these: Dr. Hugh Watt, M.P.E., had, in the witness box, been relating his experiences with the cholera epidemic, first before he went up to Cariboo, and afterwards, when Dr. Milne had gone East while the smallpox was still what might be called epidemic. There was nothing special in the evidence, which was merely a repetition of testimony already in.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie and Dr. E. A. Prager, questioned the witness as to his opinion regarding the steps that should be taken by the cities of the Province, and Victoria in particular, to guard against a threatened invasion of cholera. Amongst the requirements Dr. Watt suggested were: water supply, and the water supply should be so arranged that it should be in a position to demonstrate the fact that we have valuable quartz mines.

The increase on all exports, including animal produce, agricultural products, etc., is $7,846,053.

The fact that in discussing plans for next year Anson does not mention Chicago with emphasis leads me to believe that he has hopes of changing his base of operations for 1893. Indeed he has expressed a desire to place his headquarters in Chicago.

A few more games and the double season of 1892 will have passed into history. It has not been a success by any means. Why it has not I propose to show in a future article. The reasons are of a simple character that they, too, can be easily pointed out.

Nothing has occurred during the last week to change the force of a foreboding which the Clevelanders cannot be headed in their dash for the prize. Only another "Garison finish" by the Bostonians can but the Ohio club out of a championship, and with this in view the Eastern League and New York team can repeat last fall's great sport.

The team under President Von der Ahe's management was very much demoralized while it was on the eastern circuit, but St. Louis chief may have excellent business qualifications adapted to the national game, but he is clearly out of his sphere when he undertakes the management of a team of players. Comiskey's great work is clearly shown by contrast.

A remarkable phase of this season in baseball was the early and disastrous failure of the Western league, while other organizations comprising smaller cities in their circuits went through to the very end of their schedules. The Southern league, the Eastern league, the New England league, the Pacific Northwest league are all finishers. The first three have recently wound up their individual campaigns and gone into winter quarters in good condition to resume business next spring. The New England league did not drop out, it seemed impossible to keep the organization afloat for a fortnight, but every other club kept up the fight and played over ninety games—the complement called for by the constitution. Much of the credit for this "heavy business" must be given to the management of the King, of the Brooklyn, whose long head and valuable experience in major company made him a valuable leader for the New England league people.

The success of the Southern league must be gratifying to every lover of the game. The south is a good field for the sport if it is honestly and earnestly played. Several seasons in late years questionable methods practiced by magnates and players of Southern league clubs almost destroyed confidence and interest in the game through that section. The high plane which can be made permanent by a continuation of this year's policy.

Somewhere out west they have nominated Billy Sunday, the ex-baseball player, for Congress. Billy left the profession long ago, but he is a man of the highest character, and he is a man of the highest character, and he is a man of the highest character.

Cleveland should put up a monument to Captain Tobson. When he was injured weeks ago Davis was called in from the outfield to play in his place at third base. Davis did so well and the team kept winning so steadily with the nine thus arranged that when Tobson entirely recovered he put up all his personal ambition behind the club's interests and refused to go back to his place at the risk of turning the tide of victory. O rare Pat Tobson!

ELIZA ARCHARD CORNER.

WOMAN'S WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS.

Proposals to Establish Naphtha Lanch Works and a Depot in Victoria.

Captain O'Brien to Raise the Premier—Potato Culture in the North.

Dr. W. R. Hall, representing the Pacific Naphtha Lanch Company, of Tacoma, who has been in the city for the past few days, says that if he can find sale in Victoria for four boats the company he represents will open a naphtha lanch factory here. At present the duty on bringing these boats over from the Sound takes off almost all profits on their sale, whereas if the company had a factory on this side the line they would be able to save trouble and make money. The company also intend building here, if they succeed in getting as many as ten or twelve boats. The company also intend building here, if they succeed in getting as many as ten or twelve boats. The company also intend building here, if they succeed in getting as many as ten or twelve boats.

The steamer Cariboo and Fly returned to port from the North yesterday morning, having been delayed by making separate trips to Kitikualit, Kitinat and Bella Coola, for each of which places she had 25,000 feet of lumber from the Claxton mills and Palmer's survey party was fallen in with; all members of the little company are well and their work is progressing rapidly. The Fly's cargo for Victoria included 30,000 feet of lumber from the Claxton mills and 500 sacks of fine potatoes as ever feasted the eyes of an Irishman. The "murphies" are the first shipped by the Indians of Bella Coola, who have grown hundreds of tons this season. Besides the lumber and potatoes, the Fly had as cargo two fine totem poles for the World's Fair, and as guests of the captain from Alder Bay, Mr. J. A. Cariboo, manager of the Royal Canadian Packing company, and Mr. H. Kirby, manager of the Royal Canadian hotel.

O'Brien gets the contract. Captain O'Brien, master of the ill-fated Weimora, who has been in town for several days, was yesterday awarded the contract to raise the wrecked Premier and put her in such condition that she can be brought to dock. The contract figure is close to $5,000. In reference to the Claxton mills and Palmer's survey party was fallen in with; all members of the little company are well and their work is progressing rapidly. The Fly's cargo for Victoria included 30,000 feet of lumber from the Claxton mills and 500 sacks of fine potatoes as ever feasted the eyes of an Irishman. The "murphies" are the first shipped by the Indians of Bella Coola, who have grown hundreds of tons this season. Besides the lumber and potatoes, the Fly had as cargo two fine totem poles for the World's Fair, and as guests of the captain from Alder Bay, Mr. J. A. Cariboo, manager of the Royal Canadian Packing company, and Mr. H. Kirby, manager of the Royal Canadian hotel.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

WANT THEIR WAGES NOW. Having won their case in the courts, the 13 convicted sailors of the British ship Bankura are now taking the necessary proceedings through their legal representatives, Mr. J. P. Wall, to secure the wages due them on the ship. The vessel owned by Captain O'Brien, it will be remembered, was for a long time master of the Premier, and his knowledge of her, gained by old acquaintance, will stand him in good stead. The vessel was wrecked on the coast of the mainland, and Captain O'Brien says she can remain as she is all winter without sustaining any damage, provided common sense precautions are taken.

ANSON'S PERSISTENCE.

The Secret of the Veteran Manager's Success.

A DISAPPOINTING EXPERIMENT.

O. P. Caylor Says the Double Championship Scheme is a Failure—The Collapse of the Western League and the Success of Other Minor Leagues.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has a "cinch" on the pennant for the following year.

HE disappointed Anson with his hard luck. Anson then he turned his hard and down. On Tuesday for ninety-three. His hopes were crushed at one fell blow. He summed up all he had said. But if you give him any show he'll talk of prospectus year ahead. What poet (not myself of course) was it who said that man "never is but always to be blest?" I think that sweet singer had Anson in his mind when he wrote such sentiment. The Chicago Cubs have been in active service on the diamond for eighteen years, but has never been whipped to a finish. If he doesn't win a championship this year, it is his right to place, with the persistence and confidence of a bluebottle fly in midsummer, and insists that he has