. Is it a Godless Institution? That the university of Toronto and Unive sity college are not godless institutions. certain bitter sectarians are anxious to show could not be better evidenced than in the pe tition presented to the senate of the universit ast night For eleven years there has ex isted among the students a Y. M. C. associa-tion whose numbers to day are 170.¹ The object of this association is to promote the moral and religious welfare of the students. It is christian, but it is not denominational The meetings of the association have been he in Mcss hall, which is also set apart for cedent. Free gymnasium, reading room, literary club purposes, etc. At present that build ing is unable to accommodate them and so the association last night petitioned the senate for a site on the college property whereon they might erect a building in which they could hold their meetings and which would be forever devoted to the purposes of

The senate may or may not grant th prayer; what we wish to point out is, that the existence of this voluntary association, it membership, above all its carnestness, form a sufficient answer to the charge of godless ness which has been repeatedly hurled at the Canada is a christian country, Ontario, Is christian province, and the fund and property of the university belong therefore to a chr tian community. In harmony with this relation the university is and ought to be a chistian university But that does not mean that it ought to be do nominational, or that its resources ought to be frittered among the denominational c leges. There is as much spiritual life, as much christian character about the students, pro fessors and governors of the provincial in tutions as there is about any or all of the d nominational colleges in the province put to gether. Christianity does not consist in subscribing to the creed of a denomination; no is education best promoted by letting any de nomination control what the state has se apart for that purpose. The state itself is the best judge, and the state is the one and the only one that can give us anything like a first class university.

Cable Reports on the Jamaica Question

It is worth while to give special attention to the different accounts we get by cable of what the London Times has been saying on th Jamaica question. tion. The associated press despatch is as follows: The Times urges Canada to reduce du ies on sugar imports from West Indies. Canada would thus open the West Indian markets to her own products, such as corn, fish and tim-ber, which she is able to export as cheaply and in as large quantities as the United Stafes. It would also enable Canada to compete with America in sugar refining and other mawu'ac tures by obtaining a cheap and plentiful supply of raw material. It rosts with the Canadians themselves whethay they will allow America to keep the monopoly of West In-dian trade. The Globe's singerial says:

The Globe's special says:

The Globe's special says: The London Times to-day (Nov, 13) in com-menting on the news of the Jamaica legisla-tive council having refused to enter into ne-gotiations for joining the dominion of Canada, remarks that the objections to the incorpora-tion of any of the West India islands with Canada are conclusive. There are over-whelming reasons also against the uroposal on the ground of political expediency. The Times suggests, however, that Canada should not allow the United States to obtain by fiscal agreements undisputed possession of the West Indian trade.

thus informs us: There is an important article in to-day's fines on the commercial relations of Canada and the West indies. The Times advises Can-ada to reduce the daties on sugar imports from the islands, and thereby obtain in re-turn a market for her corn, iish, and timber, which she can e-port as cheaply as the United States. The Times also thinks that by the im-portation of the raw material Canada could thus lessen the price of that article to the con-sit rests with Canada herself as to whether she will allow the States to keep the monopoly of the West Indian trade.

SIR: I have often heard of the excellen police protection which your city is said to enjoy, but my faith has been rather shaken in that respect. Last evening on arriving at North Toronio by the 9.45 express I proceeded on foot to the street cars and had barely gone a block when I witnessed a most brutal assault made by three roughs, armed with stones, on two respectable looking young men who pluckily stood their ground and finally proved a match for their cowardly assailants. I am an old man now or would willingly have helped the lads myself. I have to apologise for taking up so much space in your valuable columns, but hope that threugh your medium better protection will be provided for pedes-trians who, like myself, may not have the courage and fighting propensities theses lads seemed to have.
