

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World
—Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pains in the abdomen and a weakness there and often after meals a soreness in my stomach.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can work with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM S. BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A regular 2 cent a mile passenger rate on the railroads should be asked for and granted. It is not guessing much to say that traffic would soon nearly double if this were done. A railway rate war has shown what might be done if the low rates were permanent. All restrictions as to the limit of the ticket should also be annulled.

In every line of business the demand for labor is insistent. The farmers cannot get the help they need, manufacturers are behind with their orders from the same cause, and construction is being held back because of the inability of contractors to find men. All this spells prosperity, the only fly in the ointment being that the cost of living keeps on soaring at a rate much more rapid than that of the income of the average citizen.

The predictions made by old line insurance companies relative to beneficiary societies and their ultimate increase in rates has come true in numerous cases, and will apply to more with the passing years. Gold dollars cannot be purchased by 10 cent pieces in life insurance or sick benefits any more than the transaction can be put through over the bank counter. Value received is a necessary condition in all permanent business affairs.

"The average working life of a locomotive engineer is only eleven years and seven days." So says Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood, and we presume he is speaking from inside knowledge of the case. Evidently the high speed of to-day and the enormous increase in traffic are not favorable to the longevity of the man at the throttle. We have to pay in some way for every extra mile in speed, and the payment is in flesh and blood.

An American, who recently took up his residence here, gives the following reasons why he likes Canada: "I find here a country where the laws are enforced rigidly and quickly without regard to wealth or poverty; where crime is almost unknown, and the punishment of crime swift and sure; where character at least at present writing counts most in public or private life; where the standard of civic and commercial honor is high; where labor troubles are practically unknown; where freedom is real, not imaginary; where the people are the actual rulers, not mere pawns in the hands of political gamblers.

No town, country or community will ever prosper where there is a division or strife of any nature. In helping others you invariably help yourself. "Opposition is the life of trade," and merit wins. No town will prosper and grow where a lack of enterprise and push on the part of its citizens is felt. The true motto of each and every citizen of a town is and should be to assist and help your neighbors encourage business of all kinds—there's no danger in gorging the market in this line—unite in the matter of improvement in making the town attractive and giving it a home-like appearance. When this is done people from a distance will form a good opinion of the place and it will be a good inducement for them to locate with us and become permanent and substantial citizens.

Preparations are being made by the Dominion Government for a redistribution of seats for the Dominion, but it is understood that two more sessions of the house will be held before an election takes place under the new plan. Under the redistribution it is said that Middlesex and Huron will each lose a member, while Lambton, Elgin, Oxford, Kent and Essex will retain their present membership. Some ridings will disappear altogether. According to the last census report Essex county has a population of 67,647, Elgin 44,312, Lambton 51,332, Middlesex 49,765. Middlesex gets a member for every 24,882, Elgin for every 22,156, Lambton for every 25,666, Essex county one for every 33,723.

The suggestion has been made that in Canada it would be well if Parliament would enact a law similar to that existing in the State of Illinois, which makes it an offence punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, for any one to drink intoxicated liquor or to be intoxicated on any passenger train, or in or about any railway station. The act also gives a railway conductor the power to arrest such a person and keep him in custody until he can be handed over to a police officer at the first convenient station. In addition to that, a conductor who refuses or neglects to perform his duty is guilty of an offence, and on complaint of the other passengers can be summoned and fined for neglect of duty. Such a law should be effective in protecting passengers from the very common nuisance of intoxicated travellers.

"Good boarding house, 25 roomers. Always full." Another argument for abolishing the bar.

Apprentice Farmers.

South Australian conditions have been found so satisfactory by recent British immigrants that many of them have nominated friends and relatives for assisted passages. This privilege has been found to operate as an efficient agent in the encouragement of land settlement and in the provision of an environment that creates the home life of the mother country. A despatch to The Christian Science Monitor of Boston, Mass., gives the latest statistics regarding the fruit products of South Australia, "The Garden State of the Commonwealth." The area devoted to apple culture has been steadily increasing and now comprises 23,214 acres. In addition large crops of pears, apricots, cherries, plums, oranges, lemons, peaches and nectarines are raised, besides berries, almonds and olives. The enumeration discloses the kind of climate South Australia possesses.

The latest policy of its government has in contemplation the introduction of British boys for the purpose of training them as farmers. On their arrival the lads will be indentured for three years with selected farmers, under close supervision, and initiated into the various departments of farm work. The state will act as guardians, retaining part of the lads' wages and handing over the amount, with accumulations, on their attaining the age of twenty-one years or earlier at discretion. In this way, it is anticipated, the state wards will at the close of their apprenticeship receive from $350 to $500 and be enabled to become share farmers and ultimately land owners.

Measles and the Child.

A medical authority in England has just complained, with much indignation, against the belief entertained by too many mothers, that children must have measles and might as well be subjected to the contagion when young and be done with it.

He denounces this as a pernicious superstition, and one which has done incalculable mischief. He quotes figures for Stepney to show that in twenty-two years measles have caused as many deaths as scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever combined, although that might be an unusual showing. There are evil consequences left by measles, particularly in the hearing and sight.

The old idea that measles, whooping cough, and mumps are diseases which every child must undergo, and that the sooner they are over and done with the better, is a foolish idea and should be discouraged. A child does not require to run this gauntlet and is fortunate to escape any or all of these ailments.

"He who puts his hand to the plow," screamed the cross-roads orator, "must not turn back!" "What's he to do when he gets to the end of the furrow?" asked the auditor in the blue jean overalls.

Mushrooms, or foods containing mushrooms, must not be eaten after having been allowed to get cold, as they are apt to develop injurious properties and become poisonous. Either eat all that is cooked or throw away what is left.

The safety of travel on English trains is shown by the board of trade report on railway accidents for 1911, just issued. Only one passenger was killed on an average of every 94,700,000 journeys. This calculation takes no account of journeys made by season ticket holders, so that the risk is really less than the figures indicate.

A newly made widow, calling at the office of an insurance company for the money due her on her husband's policy, was met by the president, who said: "I am truly sorry, madam, to hear of your loss." "That's always the way with you men," said she; "you are always sorry when a poor woman gets a chance to make a little money."

Remember.

The man who blacks your boots to-day, And envies you your rich cigar, Next year may have the right of way While touring in his private car. It isn't safe at men to jeer. However awkwardly they tread, They yet may find their proper sphere. No man's a failure till he's dead.

A Good Rule.
"Good earning power on the husband's part and good saving power on the wife—this goes a long way towards making home happy."
The speaker was the local parson, who had newly united a loving pair and was now holding forth at the wedding dinner.
"In a word," he continued, "the husband should make the money first, and the wife should make it last."
An ignorant woman asked a gentleman what was the difference between oxygen and hydrogen. He replied: "Oxy-gin is pure gin, and hydro-gin is gin and water."
