negleoted women ? And who will go to toll them that by My Incarnation and My Orosas I have obtained eternal redemption for them I I have died to set them free !" Oh, nisters, is there one here this evening who will heed the call, and with full consearation and esmest purpose, reply, "Here am I! Oh, Lord, send mel

Amherit. Nov. 1et, 1898.
"Opportunity comes," said the old proverb, "with feet of wool, treading soft." You must bape the instinct of an artist for the approaches of this good genius. You must listen for it.-Rev. Samyel Johnson.
" It is comparatively easy to become interested in one individual sinner, eapecially if we have a personal interest in him, or if he has something pioturesque about him-solf-but to be interested in sinful humanity so as to make sacrifice to save it is truly Christ-like."
Pandila Ramabai has returned to India and in a recent address says :-
"On my arrival in New York lant spring, when I inquired into the teachings of Ohriatian acience, I recognized it as the asme philosophy that has been taught my people for four thousand years. Aa I was born and educated in this philosopby and took my degree of Pandita in it, I am acquainted with its literature and its influence, and I want to witness to its degradation. The difficulty is that these American disoiples of Hinduism have never sppreciated the good thinga God has done for them. They are not interested in God's word because they do not study it."

The Pandita adds :-
"Now if you want to have a philosophy that will be useful to you in your life, and that will allow you to be useful to others study the Gospel of John and the firat Epistle of John."-Woman's Missionary Friend.

Doung Deople's #epartment.

WANTED.

Wanted ! young feat to follow Where Jesur loade the way, Into the telds where harveat Is rip'ning dsy by day ;
Now while the breath of morning Scenta all the dewy alr,
Now, in the fresh, sweet dawaing, C Sollow Jesus there)
W'anted' 1 young hands to labor; The fielde are broad and wide, And harvest walta the seaper Around on every side.
Node are too poor or lowly, None are too weak or small, For in His Service holy The Mater needs them all.
Come 1 for the Saviour calla you: Come for tha work is great: Cume ! for the houre are hasting ! Come 1 ere it be toolate 1 Come, and be burden bearers. With bim, your glorious Lord;
Come, and be happy sharerı In His most blest reward.

- Miss Stock, in English Maynan,

Peduapuram, India.

Dear Young Friends:

Two weoks ago I started a littlo Sunday Sohool dnwn in the town, and the hospital asaistant, Mr. Paul, is a Christian, and his houne has a nice large room in the front, right on the atreet. People of various castes live all roand about. So this room is our meeting place. Let me tell you about to-day's session of our little schoritl. We met a little after $7 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Besides throe who live in the house, there wore eleven present, all giris but three. The order of service was as follows: a very short prayer singing and practioing a little hymn ; a short talk with questions about the appearanoe of the angel to Zachariah. announaing the birth of John; another practice at the hymn: reviem of four questions in csteohism previously taught and tesohing two new questions; talk on the birth of Jenus; some more hymn practice and sume more catechism; a hymn and prayer. The talke wef" based on pictures from old lesson rolls, and so will be remembered. The now lesson in the catechism conveyed thene two great truths to my little Hindu beholars: (Gixd is everywhers, and Godia a Spirit, therefore we canm: ses him. Think of little idolatera learaing the second uf these great trathe.

While we were hard at work a bright little girl, neatly dressed, game in and sat down in the middle of the others. Ther there was such a commotion, and while they all

