

Baldwin received following letter: "Dear Mrs. Baldwin, I received the W.A. report a few days ago, and see that there is $100.53 of Lion's Head debt still unpaid. I cannot tell you what a disappointment it was to me at the Annual that this was not fully met—it was even more than a disappointment—my faith was staggered. We had prayed so earnestly that it should be paid, and I was sure it would, so I felt rebellious and could not heartily join in the Decology when the Bishop called for it; but since then I have seen that it was my own fault. Although I had prayed and given something, I had not given to the extent of feeling it, so I now enclose a cheque for $100.53. I have made it payable to you and please do not say from whom it comes; I want only you to know, and send it to you because you asked me to join you in prayer that it would be made up. I feel so increasingly what a blessing the W.A. is to us all." Yes, we may all thank God and take courage; but have we not here more than one lesson we will do well to lay to heart, and ask God to bless us. And many hearts will repeat the words, "I feel so increasingly what a blessing the W.A. is to us all," and the more we realize this surely our mission work will begin at once, and at home; in our endeavors to induce those who have not yet enrolled themselves in the W.A. to do so.

The Secretary for Educational work, Mrs. Falls, writes that she has received from the Rev. Geo. Gander, a most kind and appreciative letter, saying that Mrs. Gander and he quite agree in the plans of the Committee sent out by the Annual Meeting of the Education Committee. This meeting was held the evening before the Annual Meeting and, by the kindness of Mrs. Boomer, the Convener, many delegates were present, and had an opportunity of seeing the children and judging for themselves of the value of this branch of W.A. work; which, though it has many warm friends, has even yet scarcely obtained that full and helpful recognition from all our Branches it surely merits. The devotion and labours of the Committee are as unremitting as they are loving; their earnest deliberations proved how entirely they have the welfare of the children at heart. It is an anxious task, for they are hampered by want of funds, and while knowing how widely the work might be extended, they have to carefully plan and contrive to make their receipts cover the outlay need
