

etc. One can then go down to Coventry, Kenilworth, Warwick, and Stratford-on-the-Avon; then to Oxford (everyone who goes to England should see Oxford); then to London.

American Medical Editors' Association.

The 39th annual meeting of this society was the most successful in point of attendance and general interest ever held. The rapid increase in membership is an assurance that in the future the meetings of the American Medical Editors' Association will be an important feature annually. Sixty-four new members were elected. The papers presented were of unusual interest, were thoroughly discussed, and will appear in the form of a bound transaction early this fall. The papers read were as follows:

The Future of Medical Journalism, by James Evelyn Pilcher, M.D., President.

Shortcomings of Physiology the Chief Obstacle to Medical Progress, by C. E. DeM. Sajous, M.D.
