

"Article 5A.

"Pit coal (hullas) comprised under Tariff heading 31 of the Spanish Tariff at present in force when originating in and proceeding from Great Britain and Northern Ireland will benefit by a reduction of 40 per cent on the duties of the Second Column of the Tariff which may be in force at any time. This reduction will be applicable to an annual quota of 750,000 tons.

"Article 6.

"Articles produced or manufactured in Spain, that is to say, the territories of the Peninsula, the Balearic Islands, the Canary Islands and towns under Spanish sovereignty in the North of Africa, from whatever place arriving, shall not be subjected on importation into His Britannic Majesty's territories to other or higher duties or charges than those paid on the like articles produced or manufactured in any other foreign country.

"Article 6A.

"In order to remove doubts it is hereby agreed that the most-favoured-nation principle is to be invariably applied (subject to the proviso in the second paragraph of Article 5) in such manner that articles produced or manufactured in the territories of one of the Contracting Parties imported into the territories of the other shall not be subjected to higher duties than the lowest duties accorded to any similar articles produced or manufactured in any other foreign country whatever may be their specific denomination; and, in this connection, it is specifically agreed that Spanish wines of whatever character and by whatever name known shall not on their importation into Great Britain or Northern Ireland be dutiable under a scale less favourable, or at a higher rate, than the wines of a similar character imported in similar containers from any other foreign country, and shall not be subjected to any Customs formalities which are not applicable to such wines of any other foreign country as are of the same character. The above-mentioned similarity of character between still Spanish wines and still wines of any other foreign country shall be established exclusively on the basis of alcoholic strength."

ARTICLE 3.

The following words appearing at the end of Article 12 of the Treaty signed at Madrid on the 31st October, 1922, shall be deleted:—