

Pacific Coast Officers' Association

AFFILIATED TO THE "OFFICERS' ASSOCIATION," ENG.

ROOM 2, SURREY BLOCK, 639 YATES STREET

VICTORIA, B. C. 23rd March 1923

Lieut. Genl. Sir Arthur Currie K.C.M.G.

As a former member of the Pacific Coast Officers' Association, you will remember that, in the Autumn of 1921, the Association agreed to amalgamate with other organizations of service and ex-service men forming the British Legion. In pursuance of this agreement there was formed the Grand Army of United Veterans, and notices were sent to all members to this effect.

Since then our Association has remained, so to speak, in abeyance; no subscriptions have been received, although, in so far as correspondence with the Officers' Association in London and with its branches in various portions of the Empire, it has continued to function in furnishing information and affording financial or other assistance to ex-officers or their dependants, in accordance with their necessities to the best of its ability.

In so far as the main object for which the Association was formed, namely the assistance of, and the finding of employment for officers are concerned, the amalgamation has not accomplished any useful result.

It is now, therefore, very desirable to resume activities on our own account, and with this object in view your co-operation is invited.

A room has been rented for the use of members in writing and receiving correspondence, etc., in the Surrey Block, 639 Yates Street, Victoria.

The subscription will be three dollars per annum, and it is confidently hoped that all those who originally joined the Association will forward this amount to the Honorary Secretary.

In accordance with an arrangement kindly offered by the British Columbia Employment Service, any ex-service officer may register through the medium of the Association, which will forward his application.

If you are aware of any position being vacant, or about to become vacant, you will be doing good service by at once notifying the Honorary Secretary of such vacancy.

C. L. ROBERTS,

Honorary Secretary
