HAMILTON; July 15.—Lieut.-Col. Latt was given a right royal welcome by citizens of Hamilton last night, en a parade of the entire ength of the Hamilton garrison, he the Home Guard, military organizans and the Boy Scouts of the city ested the returned officer thru the city the armories addresses were given stimulate recruiting. An especially bealing address was given by Col. batt, who, after acknowledging the retion given to himself and Lieut. Wilm Young and Capt. Balkard, told the lang men where their duty lay, when empire is in need of men to flock to colors.

An Address of Welcome.

The parade marched along James, King.

of Lieut. Young on South James street.
where the three officers were picked up.
The route was from there along James street to the armories. Major F. A.
Hatch, the chairman, presented an address of welcome to the returned officers.

When he rose to reply, Col. Labatt was greeted with loud cheers. He said that it was not fair to the men whom he had left at the front for those at home to shout before the time for shouting arrived. "It is necessary for every man. woman and child to put their shoulders to the wheel if we are going to win in Surg.-Gen. Ryerson Gives Stirring Address at Great · Meeting.

SHOOT AT AMBULANCES

Common Practice of Enemy in Inhuman Scheme of Warfare.

Unsurpassed for patriotic fervor absolutely unique in personnel, and over-crowded to the corridors was the war meeting addressed last night at the Canadian Foresters' Hall, College street, by Surgeon-General Ryerson. The attractive auditorium was ablaze with flags and decorations, and the audience was so thrilled with interest that the assemblage ignored the heat and vociferously urged Dr. Ryerson to continue, when several times he about to close his address.

Sir John S. Willison Surgeon-General Ryerson was in khaki. He was accompanied by his son, Lieut. Ryerson, the gallant young artillery officer who is on furlough, recovering from wounds he received while attempting to recover his slain brother's body from the battlefield.
Mayor Church was present for an hour, but had to leave at 9 o'clock to give an address to the Queen's Own at the armories. Lieut.-Col. Mason and Rev. Alfred Hall, senior chaplain of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, were also on the platform.

A Cherished Name.

Sir John Willison said that while the name of Ryerson had long added lus-tre to the fame of Ontario, it had never been so cherished and revered in the households of Canada, and especially in Toronto, as at the pres-ent time. The great sacrifices made for the British Empire by Dr. Ryerrived. They were made in the great cause of human liberty, and would have their reward in the greater consolidation of the British France. er consolidation of the British Empire and all that the empire represented as an outcome of the war.

A Royal Welcome. Dr. Ryerson was greeted with an ovation when he arose to speak. After the prolonged cheering had subside he expressed appreciation of the reception and of what he felt it was intended to express. He said that it was his intention to give a simple statement of the impression made upon him by the conditions which had ome under his notice in the western theatre of the war. The outstanding feature, to his mind, was that the German war party aimed to spread forror and destruction widespread regardless of all principles of humanity for the purpose of terrorizing all who opposed their aim at world domination. Their methods, so far as the French and British were concerned, were to make ruthless attacks upon the doctors and members of the Royal Army Medical Corps of the British force, and the Medical Corps of the French. There was a marvelous contrast between this brutality of the Germans, and the patient heroism of the French inhabitants of the war devastated regions. The industry an frugality of the French was displayed a remarkable degree, close up to the fire zones. Considering that every man in France, from 18 to 45 years of age, was either in the army, or

Many Determined to Quit. CARDIFF, Wales, July 14. — (9.40 p.m.) — The executive council of the South Wales Miners' Union today voted against a proposal to recommend to the men that they continue work from day to day until an arrangement could be concluded with the miners. The meeting was a pro-tracted one, the executive council, like the miners, being sharply divided on points at issue.

Reports received from the coal fields show that a large proportion of the men have determined to stop work. This is particularly the case in the mid-Rhonnda, Merthyr and Aberdare districts, where non-unionists are numerous and no more pacific than the unionists.
