

xvi CHOIR DANCE OF THE RACES 289

none can tell what the new American nation will be. We can only watch the wonderful patterns and colours that form in the great ballet and choir dance, the mingling in the labyrinths of destiny, the disappearances and the emergencies, the involution and the evolution. It is something enacted within the mystery of the human race itself.