

NO EXTRA BOTTLES FOR FESTIVE TIME

Eight Doctors Blacklisted—
Too Generous With Prescriptions.

Many people in the city of Toronto who were looking forward to getting an extra "bottle" or so by legitimate means with which to celebrate during the forthcoming festive season will be somewhat disappointed to learn that no relaxation of the ordinary regulations will be allowed by the Ontario License Board.

There was, as a matter of fact, some talk of limiting each prescription obtained from the friendly doctor to a supply of only six ounces of the best, but after due consideration it was thought that this would be something in the nature of a real hardship to inflict at the season of good-will. There will just be the one familiar bottle for each prescription, no matter how bad the insomnia may be, how weak the heart or how excruciating the rheumatic pains.

Doctors on Black List

It is also given out that eight doctors in and around Toronto have incurred the displeasure of the Ontario License Board for too promiscuously issuing prescriptions and their orders will not in future be honored by the government vendors. They will remain on the black list until they have convinced the license authorities that they will be less generous with their thirty patients.

The increase in the price for Canadian whisky recently imposed by the license board has not had any detrimental effect on the demand, while the supply continues good.

CATHOLIC CHARITIES BENEFIT

John Sullivan, retired cattle salesman of Toronto, left an estate valued at $142,811, consisting of household goods, mortgages, bonds and debentures and cash. By a will dated Dec. 8, 1916, the deceased left legacies to several Roman Catholic charitable institutions in Toronto and Liverpool. Legacies were also left to the testator's late bookkeeper in Birkenhead, Eng., and to several relatives in Canada and England. The remainder is left conditionally to the deceased's widow and family.

BIG LAWSUIT SETTLED

In the appellate division yesterday morning, A. Singer announced that the action brought by Stanley Short, Port Credit, and his son, Eldred Short, against Ald. W. W. Hiltz, to recover $18,000 damages for injuries received by the plaintiffs when Mr. Hiltz's automobile crashed into their buggy near Port Credit, had been settled at $9000.

The Citizens' League concluded their two-day session of delegates from all parts of the province at a public meeting in the hall of the Forester Hotel last night. The hall was very full and the delegates were no doubt much interested in the proceedings. After the chairman, Mr. J. H. C. Macdonald, had declared the meeting open, Mr. J. H. C. Macdonald, who had been elected president of the league, declared his intention to enter the contest for the seat of the late government in the House of Commons at the next general election. He said that he was a member of the league and that he was a member of the House of Commons. He said that he was a member of the league and that he was a member of the House of Commons.
