CO-OPERATION MAY RESULT IN GETTING SCHOOL EXTENSIONS

Board and Council Appear On Better Terms.

VOTES MAY BE TAKEN

Request for $195,000 Debentures Likely To Go To People.

Co-operation between the board of education and the city council may get in progress an extensive school building program for the coming year to relieve the crowded conditions in the present buildings.

The failure to have new buildings under way this year was largely due

The failure to have new buildings under way this year was largely due to lack of co-operation last year. Estimates for new schools were not brought in until after the elections had been held. The city council refused to accept the responsibility of issuing the debentures for $195,000, which the board of education asked. It said such a large expenditure should be submitted to a vote of the people.

That there is a greater tendency toward co-operation was indicated at a committee meeting of the board today. Discussing the congested conditions, Trustee Thomas Rowe said that the board should get ready its plans immediately with a view to again asking the council for the required debenture issue.

The city council has forwarded to all why they cannot do so. He says there is no reason for friction between the two bolies.

Facilitate Business.

Matters would be facilitated if estimates were submitted, and the board of education would then be directly responsible to the people for its expenditures and the council would not be called to account by the citizens for the increase. One contention is that this plan cannot be carried out because the board can deal only with matters pertaining to this year. The mayor points, out that half the members of the board are automatically members of next year's board, and of the remainder at least 50 per cent are generally re-elected, so that a majority of the men who draw up the estimates are present the next year to carry out the work.

What Executor Will You Name?

Many years of experience have fully shown that in the performance of the duties of Executor and Trustee, Trust Companies are superior to individuals in care, promptness and business judgment.

Individuals, as a rule, rarely have the time and knowledge so essential to the proper execution of such duties, and are always subject to the uncertainties of of life.

An estate administered by The Canada Trust Company has continuous management. In the hands of an individual it is subject to changes arising from death or other causes which frequently involve heavy legal expenses.

ANGLICAN CHURCH HAS NOT INDORSED CAMPAIGN

Nothing Done Officially About Visit of Gypsy Smith.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Anglican Clergy Approves Gypsy Smith Campaign."
Under the above heading a paragraph was published in a local paper on Tuesday, October 7, which made it appear that the Anglican Church had officially placed itself behind the campaign of Gypsy Smith Lest this should lead to a misunderstanding, I desire to state that the Anglican Church cannot commit itself in anything officially without the consent of the bishop, and as the consent of the bishop has neither been asked for nor given to this, the Anglican Church is not committed to the campaign mentioned. What some of the clergy may decide to do on their own responsibility is one thing, and what the church officially does is quite another 'hing. does is quite another 'hing.

Please give prominence to this, and believe me, yours faithfully,

DAVID WILLIAMS,
