GERMANS MAKE DESPERATE EFFORT TO STEM TIDE OF BRITISH ADVANCE

"Anzac" Consolidating Positions Won After Hot Fighting at Pozieres—British Advanced Successfully West of the Village, But on Right of Pozieres Were Held Up By Wire Entanglements and Heavy Machine Gun Fire.

LONDON, July 23, 2:45 p.m.—The battle on the British front in northern France was resumed today along the whole line from Pozieres to Guillemont (a length of about five miles), the war office report of the afternoon says. The British captured the German outer works near Pozieres by assault and carried the fighting into the village. Longueval was also the scene of a desperate struggle. Violent fighting is in progress.

Kuropatkin Driving Wedge Deep Into the German Lines

Russians Reported to Have Penetrated Five Miles Into Territory Defended by Von Hindenburg—Nearing Hungarian Frontier.

LONDON, July 23.—From the eastern frontier comes further reports of continued Russian successes. Gen. Kuropatkin has cut Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's line at several points and, according to an unofficial report, has penetrated a distance of five miles. Russian official reports of the operations in this sector (Riga) are exceedingly reticent, but Von Hindenburg's line was considered the strongest on the whole eastern front, and that the Russians were able to break it is regarded as most significant here.

CAPTAIN KOENIG HAS A BIG CARGO OF CANADIAN NICKEL

Probably the most interesting topic of the moment to the great mass of American citizens is whether the German undersea boat Deutschland will be able to get away from Baltimore with her cargo of nickel and rubber for Germany, and get past or underneath the fleet of allied cruisers waiting for her to come out of American waters.

ANZACS' SPLENDID WORK A Reuter despatch from the British front in France, filed at 3:30 p.m. today, says: "Following a heavy bombardment last night British troops and Anzac forces the wire entanglements and progress was made in the direction of Pozieres and Guillemont. Despite desperate resistance the Anzacs succeeded in establishing themselves in Pozieres, where they are now consolidating their lines. It is reported that the casualties were comparatively light.

ANZACS WON CHIEF GLORY METTLE WITHSTOOD TEST

Their Vim Carried All Before Them at Pozieres, and Their Losses Were Surprisingly Light—Great British Offensive Reaches End of Third Phase.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES, IN THE FIELD, July 23, 5 p.m.—The Australians are the glory of today's action, which takes the form of a series of counter-attacks. Not once in the three weeks have the Germans been able to resume the offensive, and they are now being driven forward, in regard to a good number of the positions, by a good German counter-attack.

PROMINENT SCIENTIST SUMMONED BY DEATH

Sir William Ramsay, Noted Chemist, is Dead in England.

LONDON, July 24.—(2:27 a.m.)—Sir William Ramsay, 62, eminent as a chemist, died Sunday at Beachcroft, Herts., Bucks.

WAR SUMMARY: THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

FERCE combats were being fought between Britons and Germans on the line between Pozieres and Guillemont at a late hour last night with the battle still undecided. The British were able to attack the Germans almost immediately after they had repelled counter-attacks launched with the object of driving them back and relieving pressure on the third system of the enemy's defence.

PANAMA

Every kind of a good hat—imported straws and panamas—reduced to half-price to make an early clearing. Absolutely imported the best of English made Panama hats. Panama hats, 140 Yonge street, Toronto, and in Hamilton 20-23 King street west.

It is considered encouraging that the British were able to renew their offensive operations so soon after repelling the German counter-attacks, and considering the great number of men that the enemy has managed to attempt to stem comparatively feeble. It is estimated that the British and the French have taken in three weeks of fighting since July 1, 26,000 prisoners, over 140 cannon and hundreds of machine guns.

By location of the shellbursts in the morning it could be seen how far the British had wormed their way up overnight. Thus all the army there is a sense of exultation, which seems to be no one to become tired. The death of comrades is accepted as something inevitable, and there is a strange absence on the part of the British of any grimaces. They go it as part of the day's work.

Nevertheless the Miner's latest attitude, in spite of the friendliness of the Canadian governments at Toronto and Ottawa, is as follows: But there is no question of the advisability of legislation to bring the nickel industry into the hands of the public good. This influence has been used to prevent the International Nickel Company from paying their share of taxation on their output for procuring their illegitimate concessions.

It is not generally recognized that the Crichton ore runs at $50 a ton, or more than six times as rich as the Hollinger grade, and two and a half times that of the Tough-Oak ore, regarded in the nickel industry as a standard of high-grade mining.

Again we repeat that Canada has been humbugged, or worse than humbugged, into taking care of the International Nickel Co. against the interests of the Canadian people and to their benefit and distributed in such a way as we now know that the Deutschland can get all the nickel she wants or any other undersea boat that may follow her into American ports.

We have put it up to The Globe newspaper day after day to say what it thinks as to our proposal to prohibit the export of the ore unless the mine is returned to Canada, but it says nothing. It has said a great deal favorable to the International Nickel Co. within the last few months. And it has said a great deal against the armament trusts of Europe, but when it published a list of chief officials of the International Nickel Co. as a member of that enterprise, it pointed out in reply that the nickel trust was the key of the armor plates trust in America, and for that matter in Europe.

We are rather tired of reading the news bobbing up here and there in the Canadian papers to the effect that Canadian nickel is not getting to Germany but what about The World's statement that Germany owns and controls the International Nickel Co.?
