

AT MURDER TRIAL IN CONVICT'S GARB

Allan Coleman in Montreal Court Faces Charge of Killing Policeman.

Montreal, March 31.—In the garb of convict, Allan Coleman, alias Dr. E. Durand Carr, and J. J. Huntly, who has been brought here from New Westminster, B.C., where he was serving a three-year sentence for forger, charged with the murder of Constable Chicoine, on June 13 last, today faced his former associate, Frank Collins, also a convict, as the latter related the details of his relations and activities with Coleman, including an alleged admission by the latter, stated to have been made in the Alberta Hotel here, on June 23, in which Collins asserted that Coleman had shot the constable, with full particulars as to how and where the shooting took place.

There was a tense moment in court when Collins, having been given permission to examine the large horn spectacles worn by the accused, was about to go over to the dock to obtain them. He was stopped at the last moment by counsel for the defence, who, himself, took the glasses from Coleman and passed them over to Collins. The need to examine arose in connection with a question of identification.

OUTLOOK OMINOUS IN MINERS' STRIKE

(Continued From Page 1). waymen and the transport workers actively to support the miners, a sympathetic strike, the outlook is ominous. Some persons point out that there is an increasing likelihood of the entire Triple Alliance, numbering almost 3,000,000 workers, laying down their tools. They point to the fact that an identical situation, as regards the railroads, will be almost certain to come up again in August, when government control of the railroads ceases. On this account they argue, the Triple Alliance may see fit at the present time to make the miners' cause a test case. The temper of the miners for the walkout is indicated in their strike order, which includes the officers and the other workmen who are essential to keep the mines in working condition. This, however, it is declared, will be countered by the government employing naval men to go into the pits, if it is necessary to take such action to prevent the ruination of the mines.

Many Mines Will Be Ruined

The government's plan, it is understood, even contemplates measures to take the carrying on of the vital services even in the event of a walkout by the entire triple alliance, in order to avert such a contingency as continuing, and in some quarters, the belief is expressed that the government will employ naval men to go into the pits, if it is necessary to take such action to prevent the ruination of the mines.

N. Hincks of Toronto, secretary of the latter organization, and also by Sir George Burn of Ottawa, its treasurer. Dr. Hincks asserted that fifty per cent of Canada's immigrants were feeble-minded, that applied whether to the west than the east. In Canada there were as many cases of mental disease, but only the advanced or chronic cases of mental trouble were looked after. The estimate was 160,000 mental cases. Sir George Burn cited cases of killing that had astounded the community and declared that much of this sort of thing could be averted if due treatment were given to so-called "simple" persons.
