"TIP" O'NEIL ARRIVED TODAY WILL SPEND WINTER HERE.

St. John Baseballist is Bound to the Boston American Team for Next Season But May Play With Washington—His Season's Record.

John O'Neil, more familiarly known to lovers of baseball in Canada and the United States as "Tip" arrived in the city today on the Boston express, accompanied by his mother who has been spending the past two weeks with him, at the Hub. Tip is looking the picture of health, and the warm hand of welcome that is being extended to him by his hosts of admirers and personal friends certainly is very pleasing to him. He is suffering from a slight cold but it is nothing of any consequence and he is naturally pleased to be home again.

A Times reporter called on "Tip" at his home and was very kindly received. He modestly declined to discuss his records, but as the reporter had them in his possession admitted that they were correct.

The magnificent showing which he made is well known to all followers of the game. That he was not given a fair deal by the Boston Americans is a fact, unquestionable. He never knew what it was to go on the field from April 15, when the season opened, until away on in June, and after that date he was placed in one or two cases of emergency and then turned over to Washington. He had no opportunity to warm up. In one instance he was put in at a moment's notice to fill Parent's place, and he had hard luck which damaged his fielding record. His showing, when he was given a fair chance, proves conclusively that the confidence reposed in him was not misplaced. He went to Washington on July 4th, and he played on the regular team in every game up to the closing of the season. His batting average was away up and for the time he played the official record shows that he is one of the league, considering proportionately, the number of games. The American league record shows that altogether "Tip" played in 112 games. He was 419 times at bat, made 40 runs, 96 hits for 110 bases, or an average of 229. This places him in seventy-first position out of 131 players. His fielding average is .918. He had 142 put-outs, 8 assists and 19 errors. In the number of bases stolen Tip showed up well, being headed by but thirteen men of the 131. He stole 21 bases. Four men are credited with 122 and three with 23. The leader was Ray of Cleveland, who played 132 games and stole 40 bases.

Asked if he had made any arrangements for next season, "Tip" replied: "I am still under contract with the Boston Americans. Once you sign with an American league team that contract is binding until you are released, or dismissed."

"I understand," remarked the reporter that you were given the first chance to sign with Washington for next season.

"Yes I was, but we have to wait for the meeting of the baseball commission and their deliberations." In reply to the question as to whether he met any of the old-time St. John baseballists during his travels "Tip" replied: "I met Yapp. He was playing excellent ball at Brooklyn, and is feeling fine. I also saw Coakley, who is now at Philadelphia, and who formerly played with Noonan in this city. Big Jack McLean is now manager of a bowling alley, at St. Louis. I also met many other St. John boys and they are all doing well."

Tip will remain home during the winter. Mrs. O'Neil, who returned with him, enjoyed her trip immensely, and her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is enjoying good health.

It is understood that a number of "Tip's" admirers intend entertaining him at a banquet at an early date.
