LIFE IN NEWFOUNDLAND always easy to smile, but there is no

There is little room in Newfoundland for the specialist. The average man in that colony can fish, build houses, construct smacks, cultivate his garden and do many other things with about the same degree of efficiency. He is a seaboard dweller and necessity compels him to turn his hand to everything. Hon. P. T. McGrath, editor of a St. John's newspaper, and an extensive writer on marine topics, contributes to Chamber's poundland's history, in which he deplores the fact that vast areas of fertile land newspaper, and an extensive writer on marine topics, contributes to Chamber's Journal an interesting article on Newfoundland's history, in which he deplores the fact that vast areas of fertile land in the interior of the island have rarely been trodden by human foot. He says:

"The late Lord Salisbury, epitomising its history almost till our own day, described the island as "the sport of historic misfortune." So long was Newfoundland regarded as merely a fishing station that her rights were habitually ignored. In Nova Scotia representative government was established one hundred and fifty-five years ago; but Newfound

The financiers have already discounted about all known adverse factors, and by the time harvesting begins it is likely to be found that the world has plenty of money at the ordinary rates of interest.

Mr. McGrath declares that the climate of Newfoundland is much milder than In Ascot Week of Newfoundland is much milder than that of the neighboring provinces of Canada, and says that in parts of the country the thermometer rarely drops below zero, while in the interior and on the western slopes fog is unknown. The temperature, he explains, does not unformal as well as the most delightful as the most delightful as the royal functions. dergo nearly such great alterations as that of Quebec, Montreal, or Ottawa.

Life in Newfoundland has many comgiven on the Saturday in Ascot week,

The garden party this year will be given on the Saturday in Ascot week, June 21, and about 6,000 invitations are to be issued from the lord chamber-lain's department. Special trains will leave Paddington for Windsor, and carriages and motors will be in waiting at Windsor Station to take the guests to the castle.

Ordinary summer town clothing will be worn—Ascot frocks by the ladies probably, and tall hats and morning coats by the men.

Tea and strawberries and cream, etc., will be served from decorated marquees on the logal gave not take the guests to the castle.

There is no proper inspection of cattle in this province. A short time ago one of the local government's immigration officials declared that a great deal of the milk sold in St. John came from the lord chamber-lain's department. tion officials declared that a great deal of the milk sold in St. John came from cows kept in shockingly unsanitary quarters and milked by farm hands who paid little attention to cleanliness. Such milk could not possibly be free from dirt and germs, and could not be sold in the larger American cities, where laws the larger American cities, where laws the properties of the country of the countr farms which supply milk for city consumption the sanitary condition of the barns is alarming. A proper inspection would remedy this, and the extra expense would be worth.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

Lieutenant-Colonel H. J. Grasset, chief f Toronto's police force since 1886, is ixty-six years of age today. He was forn in Toronto and entered the British army in 1857. He commanded the 10th Royal Grenadiers in the North West Reland did not enjoy it until seventy years later, nor was she granted the full measure of responsible government until 1855. Moreover, when a royal seat of learning—King's College, at Windsor, Nova Scotia—was established, with an imperial endowment, it was a penal offence to plant a potato in Newfoundland.

A Hamilton man lost a ten-foot snake, and before he recaptured it the town was in a panic. The loser indignantly said that his pet was perfectly harmless. "No doubt," said all the rest of Hamilton once asked one of his neighbors to stay to luncheon with him. The visitor was not often in the way of dining with dukes. They were waited on at table by a servant in livery, who anticipated all their wants. The guest could stand this no longer and took the serwant to task in these words: "What are ye dance, would remedy this, and the extra expense would be small in comparison with the results obtained. How long will the authorities continue to neglect such an important safeguard of the public health?

If the Commissioners and Board of Trade men are going to talk with Mr. Hazen they might fairly ask him when and how St. John is going to handle the winter export and import traffic of the G. T. P.

"Smile your way to success," is the advice handed out to young men by Edward Chambers who was elected vice-president of the Atchison, Topeka & Sante Fe system the other day, after climbing from a freight handler's job. That sounds easy, but is it? It is not interested the strace and powder invites a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin, eruption, enlarged powers and powder invites a coarsened, roughened condition of the skin, eruption, enlarged powers and winkles. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmettes and try what I recommend. Ask your druggist for an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax and begin using this tonight. Apply like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep this up for a week or two. The wax will iterally absorb the coarse, color-less or blemished top skin, but so gradually as not to discommode you at all. Just as gradually the clear, velvety, naturally-tinted underskin comes to the surface. And mercolized wax becomes your everlasting friend.

For those wrinkles and large pores, mounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. This has remarkable powers as long. Tel. 1618-11 to goode called for and delivared to the neficial results come quickly.

"To realize just what this policy meant it is only necessary to point out that while the area of Newfoundland is alimost as great as that of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island— Canada's Maritime Provinces—combined, the population of Newfoundland is only two hundred and fifty thouseand, while that of the maritime provinces is about one million. Such is the outcome of the policy of indifference, neglect, repression, and at times positive persecution practiced towards Newfoundland by the short-sighted governments of the Steward and Georgian periods."

Mr. McGrath, while vagretting the fact that progress in Newfoundland has been slow, maintains that, in yiew of her history, the wonder should be, not that the island has made so much.

It may not be generally known that in comparison even with the Maritime Provinces, Newfoundland has gained greatly of late, for while our population has increased fifty-nine per cent. In the last forty years, Newfoundland's has been doubled in numbers and quadrupled in tonnage, and she has succeeded in the scal and whale fisheries when Scotland and Nova Scotia have practically abandoned them.

FORECASTS PROGRESS ALONG EDUCATIONAL LINES The report of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief

The report of Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education to be presented to the board of education today forecasts advanced education in agricultural and technical lines. The report speaks of the appointment of R. P. Steeves of Sussex as director of elementary agriculture and outlined the work connected with the position. It is expected, he said, that in conjunction with the various women's institutes throughout the province, elementary domestic science will be introduced into the country schools among the female pupils and the study of agriculture will be provided for the boys. He believed that the recommendations contained in the report of the technical commission would be adopted by parliament and that they will take effect in somewhat the same dianner as the agricultural grants. While the country schools will devote particular attention to agriculture, the city schools will devote their attention to some form of hand work, leading up to the manual training work, and domestic science. The school of agriculture at Woodstock is already under way and it is expected that the one proposed for Sussex will soon be undertaken. The report also referred to the addition which is being made to Normal School to relieve the congestion. The new ell will provide room for the model school and also for the manual training depart.
