tain Pacha, rose at his entrance, cloak with sleeves, and a hood over his head, similar to that of our monks, to protect him from the northern breeze, which blows here every afternoon about three. He has the air of a man not more than 50 years old, with all the vivacity of a Frenchman, and the eve of a hawk."

Sir Edward Codrington has intimated to his constituents at Devonport, that he has been offered the Portsmouth command, and that, notwithstanding it involves his retirement from Parliament when the proper time comes to move for a writ, he has thought it due to himself and family to accept it.

. The Spectator, by far the ablest organ of radicalism, says, "Conservative influence is taking a deep root in the land, and spreading far and wide."

Colonel Pasley continues his explosions of Gunpowder against the Wreck of the Royal George, at Spithead. The total number of guns recovered up to the present time is six iron 32 pounders, four brass 24 pounders, one brass 12 pounder and four gun carriages.

At the present moment there are in the stamp offices vacancies for 7 stampers. The emolument each will receive is about £50 per year, and there are about a thou sand candidates.

The London Common Council has voted the freedom of the city, to be engraved on a piece of plate of the value of one hundred guineas, to Mr. Rowland Hill.

By a rain-guage kept at the hall of the Leeds Philosophical and Literary Society, it appears that in the month of September this year has fallen sixteen times as much rain as in the same month last

The number of individuals who have committed self destruction in London within the last week or two, alas! has been greater than ever known before in such a period. As far as can be ascertained, there have been no fewer than 40 inquests on suicides in the course of the present week.

The Synod of Glasgow and Ayr, at its late meeting in Irvine, proposed to denounce, in an overture, the folly and vanity of the late Tournament at Eglinton; and to appoint a day on which Ministers and People might have an opportunity of repenting them of the sins they had committed in attending it.

CHINA.

Advices have come to hand from Canton to the 15th June. The Horatia, from Canton, of the above date, bound to New York, had been spoken with, and the intelligence was carried to St. Helena by which course it reached this country. It appears that, up to the 15th June, the trade with the Chinese was still stopped, and all intercourse continued suspended. The shipping had generally left, many of them in ballast; and the Reliance, Captain Marguis, had not stand to this day, that " no | nell, the Private Secretary of Lord gone to the eastern passage. These were our whole visit, which lasted upwards | signed to them within the power of an hour. The Viceroy, besides of the Chinese authorities, pending his ordinary dress, wore a wide the appeal which has been made to the British Government. We gather from this that captain Elliot has strpped all English vessels, bounds to Canton, from proceeding up the river, until he has received instructions from the home government; but there is every reaso; to believe that measures will be devised for carrying on the trade of the present season by "outside" means. We scarcely think the chinese government go on well without any importation of the precious meta's, and will soon be glad to come to terms when they find the defalcation which the stoppage of trade has produced upon their finances.

SPAIN.

The Madrid journals and letters dated the 17th inst., have been received. They contradict the report that insurrections had taken place at Cadiz, Malaga and Seville. The principal article of intelligence contained in these letters and papers is a repetition of the statement that General O'Don nell was preparing to attack the Carlists of the Maestragze, on the advanced on them from the north. the supply of the society in various Queen's speech. It congratulates | foreign stations, which are as yet her Majesty on the oappy change in the situation of the country, reminds her of the promptitude with which the Chamber had entertained and passed the bill respecting the fueros at her Majesy's desire, and expresses a hope that the constitution, liberal institutions, and economical administration of the public money, &c., will follow the pacification of Uniform Penny Postage. We observe by our advertising columns that the efficacy of Mr. Rowland Hill's plan for carrying into effect the great experiment of universal Penny Postage, by means of stamp ed envelopes, will be disputed by a writer in the forthcoming Nov. number of the Polytechnic Journal; on the ground that prepay ment in money, at the time of post ing letters, will be the only means of securing public convenience, preventing forgery, and collecting the revenue in the cheapest way.

The Mercury is exceedingly an gry with us for having "hurled a charge of deliberate perjury against the Roman Catholics, and taken upon ourselves to say that oaths cannot bind them." We ask him if the Roman Catholic members of Parliament did not take an oath not to interfere with the settlement of property, or to disturb or weaken the Protestant religion and Protestant government of this king lom, and if they did not after warde vote for the appropriation of the property of the Church in Ireland to secular uses? That is what we call perjury; our contem porary may have some other name for it. We ask him further, if it was not decreed by the Council of Privy Seal, with a seat in the Ca-Constance, and if the decree does | binet; and that Mr. Henry Tuffof all English agents in China to ble statutes and expositions of the ready announced himself a candi-

Our contemporary may be able show that they can; but he has not done so yet. As for the partry electioneering purposes to which he has turned our arguments, his Roman Catholic friends are welcome to the compliment which he pays them, in insinuating that having been prepared to vote with the conservatives, they will now, because we have given an honest expression to our opinions, will continue contumacious for turn their coats and march over to any length of time. > Pound Wise.—Mr. Rowland Hill, the projector of the insane Penny Postage scheme, has been installed in a room at the Treasury, Whitehall, hitherto occupied by one of the Secretaries, with a salary of either £1200 or £1500 a-year.-Some persons may think, perhaps, that St. Martin's-le-Grand presented a more appropriate sphere for this gentleman's labours; but to this rumour says that Lord Lichfield objected, down to a threat of resigning if any attempt were made to place this Viceroy over him. At any rate, Mr. Hill has managed pretty well for himself, and has illustrated the proverb, which says, "If we look after the pence, the pounds will take care of themselves." Taking Mr. Hill's salary at the lowest alluded amount (£1200), it will require the postage of 288,000 letters to pay it .- Argus.

POTATOES. - The Government have effected the ruin of the fruit-growers, and if what we have heard be correct, the potatoe-growers are in some danger of receiving a similar favor. We have reason to believe, having received information from a source on which we can implicitly rely, that an application is now under the consideration of the Lords of the Treasury, to lower the present duty on Foreign Potatoes, and to alter the mode of estimating it. We warn the Potatoe-growing districts, which supply the London markets, to lose no time in looking into this matter.-Maidstone Jour-

Meeting of Parliament. From an announcement in the Gazette, it appears that the Parliament, which stood prorogued to the 24th inst., has been further prorogued to Thursday, the 12th of December. The notice does not include the customary words, "then and there to meet for the despatch of business," and the presumption therefore is, that, should nothing extraordinary intervene, Parliament will not meet till about the usual period - Liverpool Courier, Oct. 30.

The Centenary Meeting for this town was held on Tuesday evening last, in the Wesleyan Chapel. The proceedings commenced at seven o'clock. J. Munn, Esq., presided, and introduced the business in an animated and appropriate speech. The Rev. Messrs. Pickavant. Ellidge, Snowball, Sutcliffe, England and McMurray, and Mr. Tocque of Carbonear, addressed the assembly, explained the object of the meeting, and pointed out the many good effects, both temporal and spiritual, which have been and are being produced through the instrumentality of Methodism. A spirit of devout gratitude and hallowed liberality characterised the meeting, and was evinced by the flow of subscriptions which were announced from the platform. Last evening about 120 of the friends of the above cause took tea in the Court House. J. Munn Esq. in the chair—the Rev. gentlemen above named were also present and explained the objects of the great centenary movement which is now exciting the christian world; great harmony prevailed, and it is gratifying to observe, that many persons of other religious denominations also attended these meetings and contributed liberally. The list for this town, we understand, amounts to about £100.—Mercurg, Dec. 6.

The Patriot is very sensitive about the public character and professional reputation of the Newfoundland Blackstone. But we can tel! the Patriot that months in a very delicate state of if no complaints have been preferred publicly against its learned protegee, it is not because there are no grounds for them—the dissatisfaction alluded to by the Ledger is spreading far and wide.-In no colony but Newfoundland would such a farce as is annually played off in the Southern District be tolerated for one moment.—Times, Dec. 4.

> Agreeable to proclamation the Supreme Court commenced its sittings on Friday last. The Criminal Calendar, we are sorry to learn, is unusually heavyexhibiting, as it does, cases of a most lamentable character; and the Grand Jury (of which John Sinclair, Esq., is foreman) have already returned True Bills against the following persons :-

> James Devereux, John Murphy, John Byrne, and William Fitzgerald-for murder.

JOHN DAY-for rape. MARY BRINE-for receiving stolen

John Ryan-for obstructing Sheriff's officer in the execution of his duty.

A Bill of Indictment has been laid before the Crand Jury by Her Majesty's Attorney-General against Benjamin Cave (aged 13 years) for the murder of his brother.

JAMES DEVERBUX, seaman, and John MURPHY, labourer, (named above, and against whom True Bills had been found for the murder of Thomas Oars, fisherman, on Thursday the 9th May last) were tried yesterday, when the Jury returned a verdiet of "Not Guilty," and the prisoners were according discharged, but not, certainly, without receiving a very salutary admonition from the Hon. Chief Justice BOURNE. - Ibid.
