Velours

For Dressing Jackets, Kimonos and Bathrobes

These are a lot that you can save from 5c. to 25c. a yard on. The prices now are 10c., 15c., 20c. and 25c. They were from 25c. to 35c. a yard. The patterns are entirely new, and the goods are of a nice soft texture, and of sufficient weight to insure comfort.

The above goods are some that were bought from a manufacturer of Dressing Jackets and Kimonos, after he had finished making up his season's stock. We got them at a considerable saving, and pass them on to you at a low price.

Kimonos Ready-to-Wear.

The same manufacturer had a lot of samples which were bought at one-third less than their regular prices. They are here for you to take advantage of this saving. About forty of them at prices ranging from $1.45 to $4.50. Only one of each pattern.

LOCAL NEWS.

An entertainment by the bachelors and bachelorettes of Exmouth street church will be given this evening.

W. A. Cathers has purchased the grocery business on the corner of Queen and Germain streets, formerly conducted by Robert Ritchie.

Sale at Miss F. Pym's, Broad street, beginning Wednesday, Nov. 14th. Trimmed hats from 25 cents up, dress hats $1 to $3.50. Wings and feathers at reduced prices.

John Milne, managing director of the Northern Life of London, Ontario, who is a guest at the Royal, entertained a number of his agents from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick at lunch today.

The Carpenters' Union, it is stated, intend asking for an increase in wages next spring and are only waiting for permission from the general executive before their demands are formulated.

A meeting of the St. Vincent's Alumnae will be held in the rooms of St. Joseph's Y. M. C. in St. Malach's hall this evening.

A few weeks ago W. A. Holt's little daughter fell from her crib to the floor, striking on her head with great force. The little one lingered in a comatose state until Friday morning, when she passed away.—St. Andrew's Beacon.

Col. McLean has announced that the N. B. R. is "in the market." It is to be hoped that a buyer will be found. If a man were to offer a paper of pins for $10, he might think it was in the market. The price, however, would render the chances of sale somewhat slim.—St. Andrew's Beacon.

A missionary meeting will be held in Queen Square church school room for the evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. T. H. Bullock will address the meeting on the convention of the World's W. C. T. U., recently held, and Miss Crombie, who has returned lately from Japan, will speak of that country and her work there.

The anniversary services of the Church of England Institute will be held in Trinity church on Monday, November 26. The preacher at 8 p. m. will be the Rev. Dr. Symonds, Rector of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal. Dr. Symonds will lecture for the benefit of the Institute on the following (Thursday) evening. The annual convocation will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 4.

A man who arrived here from St. John a few days ago and put up at a house on Albemarle street last night, fell from a second storey window of the house to the sidewalk early this morning and later was removed to the G. Hospital in the ambulance. At the hospital an examination showed he was not apparently badly injured, but as at first supposed. The question of how he came to fall is being inquired into.—Halifax Echo.

Miss Myrtle Holder, of Main street, North End, one of St. John's most proficient nurses, has taken up institutional work in the Moncton Hospital for the winter months. Mrs. Holder enters that institution as head nurse, and will probably give instruction, as it is the intention to make the hospital a training school for nurses. Upon this work, even for a season, Miss Holder relinquishes a lucrative practice in New Brunswick generally.

A Waterloo street lady who was proceeding home with her children on the Saturday night of the laundry fire, says she saw a party of men in a taxi cab, who were looking about the buildings which were afterwards partially destroyed. They were dressed out of a bottle and were endeavoring to light their pipes. Many matches were thrown down before they went out, some of them right on the very doorsteps of the buildings. Then they went into the steep alley. This was about 10.30 o'clock.

ANOTHER POSITION.
Miss Katie Crawford, of Westfield, has been selected to fill the position of stenographer for the Great West Life Assurance Co. Miss Crawford is a graduate of the Currie Business University.

THIS EVENING.

HOUSE ON SPAR COVE ROAD WAS BURNED

Building Owned by Mrs. Graves Totally Destroyed—Was a Long Distance From a Fire Plug.

About 11.30 o'clock this morning an alarm was sounded from box 121, for a fire in a house on Spar Cove Road, owned by Mrs. Graves. The house was a long distance from the nearest fire plug and when the hose in No. 5 hose wagon and No. 2 chemical had been all run out a second alarm was sent in bringing No. 4 hose wagon and engine to the scene. The water was relayed from No. 5 engine to No. 4 engine, but although this was done as quickly as possible the building was almost totally destroyed before water was got to it. The building was a two-story wooden structure, formerly owned by a Mr. Stewart, and was purchased some time ago by Mrs. Graves who at the time of the fire had Robert Mulherin doing the carpenter work in remodeling the place. A large amount of work had been done and the house would have soon been ready for occupancy. Mr. Mulherin is an old man and was working on the lower floor when he heard the cry of fire. He hastened upstairs and was met by flame and smoke, which seemed to suddenly sweep through the place. Before he could get to the street his hair and mustache were quite badly burned and part of his clothing had caught fire. He says he does not know how the fire started.

The building was burned to the ground and some difficulty was experienced in preventing the flames from spreading to a couple of old buildings across the street. The residents became alarmed and moved some of their furniture out. There was no insurance on the building and Mrs. Graves suffers a loss of about $300.

Box 121 is on the Stetson mill and when the second alarm was sounded a number of persons thought the fire more serious than it was.

FORMER ST. JOHN BOY WINS SUCCESS ABROAD

Oscar Ewing, of North End, Elected Representative in Massachusetts

As a result of a state election for representative held at Ipswich, which is in the fourth representative district of Massachusetts, Oscar H. Ewing was elected by a majority of 1,633 over his opponent, Mr. Hobbs. Mr. Ewing is a St. John boy. He is a son of the late William Ewing, formerly a well known builder in the North End. At 15 years of age, Mr. Ewing, a poor lad, left St. John and went to Ipswich, where he learned the trade of a barber, and has since by hard work helped himself along until he occupies his present proud position. Mr. Ewing is a brother of Mrs. Albert Coates, Wright St., and Mrs. Frank Lane, of St. Patrick street, and has many friends in this city. Mrs. J. McCracken, of Wright street, is a cousin.

THREE INTERESTING CASES IN CIVIC COURT

Chris. Nichols Wants Pay for Talking—An Unpaid Note Causes Action—Doctor Sues for One Dollar Fee.

There was a large docket in the civic court today and Judge Ritchie had a busy morning. Among the cases was one in which James Stephenson & Son were the plaintiffs against a man named Beatty, of Loch Lomond, in an endeavor to secure eighteen dollars for an unpaid note.

James Stephenson alleges that the note was for goods sold and delivered when the note came due the defendant did not pay; he was sued and arrested, he was hauled out and gave a bill of sale to another party on all he possessed.

J. King Kelley appeared for the defence and gave an affidavit that Mr. Beatty telephoned from the Ben Lomond House this morning that he could not get into the city as his horse had taken ill. Mr. Kelly asked that the case be postponed for a week and that Mr. Beatty's bail be released. The bail, however, was not released but Mr. Stephenson agreed to a postponement and said that if the case came up next Thursday he would show some persons up in court.

Considerable time was taken up over a case in which a local physician sued a patient for one dollar. The patient defended the suit and claimed that he always paid when treated, that the only time he went to the doctor he got no farther than the door, and that the physician must have charged a dollar for having the door bell sounded. The cross-examination brought out a number of amusing answers from the defendant. He said he did not know what was the matter with him and had paid the doctor who did not know. He claimed that he paid a dollar a crack for an electric shock which did not do him any more good than if he had put a nickel in the slot for a shock.

The doctor's books, however, showed that the dollar was due and the patient had to pay the bill and costs. Among the cases adjourned was a suit brought by Christopher Nichols against Andrew and Peter Petropoulos, the bootblack parlor proprietors. Chris claims that the Petropoulos brothers owe him the sum of $9 for services rendered as interpreter in a number of cases, chiefly in consulting for them with their lawyer. He claims that he lost money while at this work and that he had been agreed that he should be paid. The Petropoulos brothers claim that any interpreting that Nichols does was gratuitous.

W. H. Trueman appeared for the plaintiff and W. W. Allan for the defence.

The case is being resumed this afternoon.

Come Here For Overcoats

Wisdom always pays, but it pays better to be wise beforehand than afterward. Buying overcoats offers ways in which "ignorance may be bliss", but the later knowledge that the clothes are not as good as they looked, embitters the bliss of getting them at a cheap price. We combine high quality with a moderate, reasonable price, and we guarantee our overcoats to give satisfaction.
