THE WEATHER

Forecasts—Northeast and north gales with local snowfalls. Tuesday, northerly winds, fair and cold.

Synopsis—A disturbance has developed off the coast and northeast gales with snow are now prevalent in the Maritime Provinces.

LOCAL NEWS

Francis Willard memorial service will be held in the W. C. T. U. parlors, Germain street, at 3 p. m. Tuesday. All interested are invited.

The Atlantic express due to arrive here at 11:55 was two hours late today. It is believed that the delay was caused by the storm.

A cablegram was received on Saturday by Dr. Puseley from Judge Trueman announcing Judge and Miss Trueman's safe arrival at Liverpool.

Mr. Roger Hunter's condition is today reported as not being materially changed. He is practically unconscious and no hope is entertained for his recovery.

Harry Forbes whose name has been mentioned in connection with a dispute over the non payment of rent, wishes to say that he is not in any way responsible for the debt. The house was rented by Mrs. Dan Taylor and he and his family are merely boarders.

On Sunday morning Edna Margaret Allen, infant daughter of George and Margaret Allen, died at her parents' home on Kennedy street, aged two months. Burial will take place at 2.30 on Tuesday.

The year books for 1906 of St. David's church were issued to the congregation yesterday. They contain excellent portraits of Rev. A. Graham, pastor of the church and the late David Willett, for years an elder of the church.

In the thirteenth rink this morning the finals in the Gregory Pins competition were played. The rinks skipped by Mrs. F. D. Miles and Miss McLaren played off and the trophies were won by Miss McLaren's rink. The match was a close and exciting one, and until the last had been played it was either rink's game. The score was 8 to 12.

Mr. R. W. Frink and Mrs. Frink arrived home on Saturday from New York, where they attended the marriage of their son, Henry Walker Frink, and Miss Mary Yale Howard, daughter of W. H. Howard, of Sutton, Ontario. After a wedding trip, which will include a visit to Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Frink will return to New York, where they will reside.

The funeral of the late Thomas A. Rankine, which was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, was very largely attended. Rev. Lang and Campbell conducted the burial service at the late home, Wentworth street. Interment was in Fernhill. The funeral was borne by members of St. Andrew's Society walked in a body among the mourners.

TAKING PRECAUTIONS AGAINST THE SMALLPOX

Boarding House on South Wharf Has Been Placed Under Quarantine.

The sailors' boarding house at the end of South wharf has been quarantined by the police and health authorities, as four of the men who are ill with smallpox in a lumber camp at Musquash recently lodged at this house. A guard was stationed there this morning.

Secretary Burns of the board of health in communication with the doctors at Musquash this morning. They have decided that the men are suffering with smallpox.

So far the cases are mild ones, the sufferers being able to move around. The provincial health officer has been summoned and he will arrive here tonight.

A meeting of the local board is being held this afternoon and the matter is being discussed.

TODAY'S STORM IS A SEVERE ONE

Three Above Was the Coldest, But High Winds Prevailed All Day

A severe wind and snow storm has been raging here since early last evening. The wind has been blowing at a rate of about 35 miles an hour. The day has been bitterly cold the mercury being down to three above zero.

At two o'clock this morning the wind was blowing at a velocity of 20 miles an hour; at three o'clock, 25 miles, between five and six o'clock, 35 miles, and at seven o'clock 40 miles. The snowfall was light, but it made walking very disagreeable. An inch and seven-tenths fell.

The highest temperature yesterday was 35. The lowest today was 3 above. The storm has been worse at Point Lepreau than here. At 11:30 this morning the wind was blowing at a rate of 30 miles an hour. Early this morning the velocity was 45 miles.

Storm signal No. 4 was hoisted last night owing to the movement of a disturbance which has developed off the coast. At noon the wind was blowing 25 miles an hour off Sable Island. Indications are that the storm is not yet over. The wind is now blowing from the northeast and is bitterly cold.

THIS EVENING.

Kellie's vandeville at Kellie's. Jere McAuliffe at Opera House in "Why Women Sin." St. Stephen's church guild meets. Fortnightly Club meets at A. H. Wetmore's residence, Mecklenburg St. St. Andrew's church guild meets. Victoria Co. No. 1, K. of P., meets in Castle Hall at 8.

HE WAS A STRANGER AND THEY TOOK HIM IN

Soft Scotchman From Amherst Relieved of His Cash by the Sheffield Street Gang.

There were four prisoners in the police court this morning. Two were Saturday drunks and were fined $4 each.

John Grant, a Scotchman, was found wandering about Sheffield street about 6.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and was arrested by Sgt. Baxter and Officer Marshall and complained that the proprietor of a Sheffield street dive had stolen his new shoes. He gave a description of the man who took his boots and this morning Policeman Marshall found James Martin on Charlotte street and arrested him on suspicion of stealing. On account of the arrest of these two drunks evidence was brought out that was thought might convict Amelia Francis for selling liquor on Sunday in her unlicensed house on Sheffield street, and that it might also be shown that Grant was a witness.

Clara Burns, a colored woman with Curran's car works as a company, and John O'Leary, who, the police believe, secured a bottle of liquor for the "easy mark" for three dollars and the help of him to drink it. To use Magistrate Ritchie's words Grant was just the kind of an individual that the Sheffield street crowd are looking for. Grant pleaded guilty to being drunk, was fined $4 and remanded as a witness. Martin pleaded not guilty to stealing, and consenting to have the case tried before the police magistrate, Grant was called on as a witness.

The witness was well dressed with practically worn out. The witness was very stupid this morning and appeared like a man who has not fully recovered from a dose of dope. The magistrate had considerable difficulty in extracting evidence.

Grant said that he was a Scotchman, 48 years of age, and a carpenter by trade. He arrived in Canada last May and has been employed in the Rhodes came to St. John at 6 o'clock Saturday morning in search of work. Got a couple of drinks in a saloon near the station and then wandered about until he fell in with Martin, who took him to his place on Sheffield street. In the house were a white woman and a colored woman (the police say Mag Sullivan and Clara Burns). Grant says that he took off his shoes to warm his feet, that Martin and the white woman left the house and did not return, and he and the colored woman were left alone. On Sunday morning he found that his new boots had disappeared and he had nothing to do but put on an old pair that Martin had left. In company with the colored girl he went to another house on Sheffield street kept by a colored woman (the police say Amelia Francis).

CAN GET NOTHING BUT A GOOD NAME FROM ENGLAND

Army Veteran, Out of a Job, Seeks a Living in Canada

A. E. Thomas, of London, England, was a passenger on the Empress of Ireland, which arrived here on Saturday. He is a veteran of the Indian and South African wars. Mr. Thomas states that work was plentiful in England for a short time after the South African war. The returned soldiers had little difficulty in securing employment. Now conditions are quite different. He says that he went to the foreign office in London shortly before leaving for Canada. It cost him five guineas to register his name. He was told to apply to a certain place for employment and when he arrived there found the position had been filled. "I couldn't buy work," said he, "so I came to Canada. I can get good recommendations from England and that is about all."

MRS. MARGARET MEGARITY.

Mrs. Margaret Megarity, widow of Irvine Megarity, died this morning at the home of Joseph McDade, her son-in-law, 73 City Road. Mrs. Megarity was a highly esteemed lady who will be much missed by a large circle of friends. She was in her 73rd year and had been ill for only four days, death being due to congestion of the lungs. Mrs. Megarity is survived by two sons, Andrew I., the haymarket Square grocer, and William, an I. C. R. engineer, living on Rock street, and four daughters, Mrs. Hamford McKnight, of Apohaqui, Mrs. R. A. Phillips, of Cole's Island, Mrs. Joseph McDade, and Miss Anna Megarity, of 72 City Road.

How's Your Money Spent, Mr. Local Advertiser?

THE STAR is the Most Valuable St. John Medium for several very sound business reasons. In the first place it is a lively one-cent paper in high favor in all classes. In the second place it has only 230 outside subscribers, all the rest are city buyers—nearly 6,400 in all. Therefore when you want to reach St. John people patronize the paper that circulates most freely among them. Other evening papers send from one-third to one half their issue out of town each day.

THE STAR covers St. John like a Blanket.
