PASTOR IS AWAY WHEN

HIS DAUGHTER ELOPES

Girl's Mother at the Marriage

Ceremony, But Father

Was Fooled.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—Miss Nora

Brown, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs.

Charles Brown, of New Cumberland, eloped from her home to Lemoyne with Alfred Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of Bowmansdale, and the pair were married at the residence of J. A. Shur by the Rev. W. H.

Weaver.

The girl's mother had full knowledge of the impending marriage and gave the bride away at the ceremony, although the bride's father is not even acquainted with the bridegroom.

The Rev. Mr. Brown was in Lancaster, and when he returned home he was much disturbed, and at one time discussed the plan of having a warrant issued for the Rev. Mr. Weaver, who did not know that he had figured in a more or less clandestine marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin had already gone to Atlantic City on a honeymoon trip, and the bride's father finally decided to give the pair his blessing.

At his home Zacher found Sam

Masgre. After a fight between the two men, both were arrested.

When they were arraigned Zacher said he had been away from home for some days. He said that after his dream last night he hastened to this city, arriving at 3 o'clock in the morning. He said he went to his home, where he looked, in a window and saw his wife sitting in a chair. Mas-gre then got into the house and off, had to leave the city by the breaking of a horse, and the girl went ashore at West Head.

The girl blew for assistance and the lily responded, but after breaking her hunger in attempting to get the girl from the house, he was forced to return to the city for help.

Finally the girl was borne down river by the tide, with both in pursuit.

They secured it with some difficulty and towed it into the Mill Works where it was found.

Amos Wortman, who was arrested on the charge of setting fire to R. W.

Graves' house and barn at Mechanic

Settlement, and sent up for trial by Magistrate Hornbrook at Sussex, has been elected to become tried under the Speedy Trial Act, and was yesterday brought before Judge Wedderburn at Halifax.

Seven witnesses were examined, after which the case was adjourned until Tuesday next, in order that a witness might be brought from the United States to testify. The case being a rare one, will be a difficult problem to deal with.

THE GREATER MORRIS & ROWE

CIRCUS.

North America has many national parts, but it is probable that the only one of those that has ever had a distinction of possessing a real, live graffe is the Big Redwood National Park, located in the California Santa Cruz mountains. It is true that the park is now dispossessed of its long-necked acquisition, but the fact remains that "Nosey," the pride of the Greater Morris & Rowe menagerie rounded its primeval depths for the period of six days and as many nights.

Ordinarily any animal with a collar rack the length of that possessed by graffe will, upon gaining freedom, take to the open. But when "Nosey" gave his keepers the slip at the Morris

& Rowe Circus headquarters last winter and made for the hills, he found himself in a forest of unusual proportions. He threaded his way through the big redwoods as easily as a sled upon a well-oiled track and once
