

REPORT.

On this the Twentieth Anniversary of the Act of Incorporation, the Executive Committee of the Associated Alumni of King's College, Windsor, beg to present their usual Annual Report.

The year that has passed has been marked with no event of special interest to the College. The usual routine of duty has been performed, and every effort made to maintain the efficiency and standing of the Institution.

Your Committee referred in their last Report, in terms of congratulation, to the fact, that after much exertion, and the sacrifice of a large portion of the invested funds of this Association, the New College Hall and Library had been presented to the Board of Governors free of debt. They have now to regret that notwithstanding these efforts on their part to increase the usefulness of the College, one of the objects for which this building was intended has not yet been accomplished. They refer to the increased accommodation which it was proposed to give to the valuable collection of books, now contained within the circumscribed limits of the present College Library; and they respectfully recommend that this meeting should devise some means for carrying the original project into effect.

Your Committee hail with pleasure the addition which the staff of Professors has received during the past year, by the appointment of John McLeod, Esq., of the University of Glasgow, as Professor of Mathematics, who entered upon his duties in September last, and to whose salary the funds of this Association are pledged (by a resolution passed at the last annual meeting) to the extent of $200.

Being convinced of the utility of this appointment, and the desirability of confining the labors of each Professor, as far as possible to his own particular department, your Committee earnestly recommend the continuance of the grant for the ensuing year.
