

MR. PIERSON'S VISIT AND DEPARTURE.

By a Special Reporter.

As has been stated in last week's Messenger, in connection with the visit of Mr. Pierson to this country, a series of some of the most remarkable services and meetings have taken place at West Troyden Baptist Church, where Dr. Spurgeon is minister.

Well, they had a talk together, and I was a very modest young man—sat still and listened, which, perhaps, accounts for some of the excellences you may have seen in me since. I remember asking afterwards of my brother why he visited me, and I added, "He seemed to be a very able man." I then concluded that those two were great men, and I have not changed my opinion since.

ONE MAN WHO STOOD TO THE FRONT IN A WAY PERFECTLY UNEXPECTED. I wondered then, and have wondered since, however Dr. Pierson did what he was enabled to do—well, what the Lord did through him—at that time. And, if I ever cease to love Dr. Pierson, I feel that the stones of the place would cry out against me.

mainly unchanged, that the glory of the Lord may be seen in that place; and if you hear anybody suggest that either Dr. Pierson or myself would do anything unwisely to hurt the true cause of the Lord, in that place—deny it, deny it!

May be and his dear wife, whom we welcome heartily also to-night—may they both of them be preserved in the goodly measure of health that we are glad to see them in here to-night. May the Lord's blessing be upon them in their travelling, and when they return to their own land to be with their children, and to give a welcome to one that is coming back from Japan, well, may God's blessing be upon them.

Dr. Pierson then rose to address the meeting, and as Mr. Spurgeon said, I hope that you will not forget in the gratefulness of your reception that I am needing your silent prayers to God now, that I may speak to you words that He shall approve, for the position in which I am placed to-night is one that is very liable to misrepresentation, and might very easily be taken occasion of by the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme.

I am told that I have come to England to form some new enterprise. All I have to say is, I think I did not know it, and I have heard many other things. Well, all I have to say is, if those things are true, I am the one that does not know anything about them.

MY WORK IN AMERICA.

which I will say is as full and promising as any work I have done in Great Britain. Then the young man wrote and asked if I could not come and make visits to the various universities of Great Britain and Ireland, and visit the students there that were clamouring for a visit from me.

THE DAY OF MY OWN BAPTISM.

Now, do not think that I have not for some considerable time been more and more inclined to take the position. I was brought up in an altogether different communion, and with quite different conceptions of the relation of this ordinance to the believer's life.

Well, I was never so humiliated before God as I have been since coming here by seeing my own littleness, and I never had such rapid conceptions of my Master before. Since I saw you I have entered on the greatest blessing of my own personal life.

I have entered into a life of grace that I have never known before. I dare not speak of it, but it is a very precious thing that God has prepared me for this kind of work by giving me the most precious anointing He ever gave, the most delightful experiences of His love and power and presence. All the experiences of my previous life are nothing compared with what I have had since the 15th day of August last. Oh, I yearn over you. If I could have had such a blessing while in the Tabernacle, oh, my beloved, what those two years might have been!

And afterward, when I was preaching on "Hesper and he baptised every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins," I felt still more unaccountable. At last I went home, and I told the Lord that I believed I had had a heavenly commission, and that I proposed to go on a mission to it—and I have been!

LITERARY NOTES.

To many thinking men and women the "institutional church" seems hardly, as yet, an established reality. Its purposes, scope, and management are not widely comprehended; and yet the movement is one of the most remarkable of the modern philanthropic and religious world.
