JUDITOR'S REPORT OF JOWN FINANCES

Interesting Comparison Between Estimates and Actual Expenditure

(From Our Own Correspondent.) ancial statement for 1917 is just country rate, which had not yet been coming from the binders. So far as the Board of Education and Library accounts are concerned there is nothing to it. A page for each and on that a simple recapitulation of receipts and expenditures. So brief is this part of the work that the question suggests itself, "Why not other than that of the board, the

The introduction thereto, however, is ambiguous, in that the chairman men_ tions or includes the account of the was equal to the requisition and twice in stating the amounts turnied over to the town; the casual perly in his "miscellaneous" acreader is apt to be misled.

The commission did not, as stated, pay the debenture, but turned over to the town treasurer a sum of money from which the debenture The revenue statement and the expenditure account, however correct this error.

Perhaps the plainest way of putting matters for the ordinary reader is to say, that the town paid $7683 .-12 for hydrant rent and wa. terworks debentures and received from the waterworks department $5011,23 or $2671.89 less. Against this latter sum, the wa terworks paid about $2,000 on rethe remaining $671.89 might balanced against the water used for flushing the sewers and the general cost of superintendence and pump-The big item against which there is no income is the sewer debenture, which must stand as an annual outlay without pecuniary re-

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"Watch Your Step," presented at the Grand last night, proved a fit-ting finale to the musical comedy season which has been signalized by so many productions of stellar quality. "Watch Your Step" is a livery, tuneful production, replete with catchy musical numbers and enlivened by an abundance of the lat-est dances. The chorus proved pleasing alike in appearance and ability, and was costumed with ex-ceptional attractiveness.
