There was a fair attendance this morning at the Bonsecours market, but business was rather dull on account of the rush towards the end of last week. There was, however, a small demand for ergs, which were plentiful and sold at 16c and 17c per dozen. There was nothing doing in the meat stalls, and a line has been drawn at fish which brings that trade to a standstill for a while. At the bay market there was a small supply on account of the

BEST MILK IR DUOING FOOD.

Professor Stewart, authority on such matters, says: "Neither corn meal nor bran is the best milk producing food. With the best clover hey, corn meal should be added rea part of the ration -but with corn folder, straw or poor hay, good wheat bran should be added instead of corn meal. Bran will balance poor fodder better than corn meal. But in making up the milk ration the feeder should seek variety in tood. Corn meal and bran tegether, are better than either atone. The kinds of food best in a milk ration depend upon how the foods balance each other.'

THE TREATMENT OF COLTS.

The treatment which colts receive has a tell ing effect upon them when they are grown up. Injuries and blemishes are like the leaves or trees—they increase in size as the body increases the search of the ground on which the feet of a horse is more or less affected by the condition of the ground on which the feet are treated in any kind of soil. If they are kept co fined to stables and compelled to stand continually upon hard, plank floor, the feet will be injured more or less by it; or if they are constantly kept on soft, loamy ground the feet will be soft and spongy, and in about as bad condition as if bruised up by being stabled continually.-Southern Cultivator.

UTILIZING COAL ASHES.

It is the general understanding that coal It is the general understanding that coal ashes are not of enough value as fersilizer to pay for hauling them out for that purpose, but when sifted the fine ashes will be useful on stiff clay soils, lightening them up and making them more friable, but the cinders should be kept off from any land you intend to cultivate. Many persons consider a few shovelfuls of fine ashes useful around their fruit trees and use them for that purpose, and the sifted ashes have them for that purpose, and the sifted ashes have given excellent satisfaction when used in the garden to prevent the attacks of the melon and cucumber bugs.

DEHORNING CATTLE. The practice of dehorning cattle is rapidly The practice of dehorning cattle is rapidly increasing, not only in the west but in some sections of the middle and eastern States. The chief objection urged against dehorning cattle has been the cruelty of the operation; a lesser one is that it detreats from the appearance of the animal. The second objection remains, but the great majority of those who have practiced dehorning contend that it it is no more painful, if as painful, as other operations generally practiced. However this may be, it is fairly safe to conclude that dehorning, carefully performed, is not a dangerous operation. The arguments advanced in favor of dehorning are: First, the prevention of terrible accidents in handling vicious cattle, estimated that the dehormed cattle.

operation. The arguments advanced in two of deborning are: First, the prevention of terrible accidents in handling vicious cattle, especially bulls; second that the deborned cattle can be turued loose in sheds and stalls without fear of their ivjuring each other, even if they are more or less or owded. The subject has received considerable attention at the farmers and clubs, and if reports of these meetings may be relied upon, the farmers and breeders who have experimented in deborning their cattle almost with one accord favor the practice. From these and other sources it appears that the preferred age at which to deborn is in the second year of the animal's life, and the spring is the season favored. The operation, it is avered, is more successful in moderate weather, then in either extremes of heat or cold. Preparatory to the operation the animal's head is made fast; then the horns are saved off with a suitable saw close to the hair, where a soft place occurs in the horns.

NEW YORK, April 2.—An Oriental mail beings some particulars of the carthquake in China just before Christmas. It proves to have been of appalling magnitude. Fifteen thousand people perished in the course of the four days, during which; at uncertain intervals, the shocks continued. This estimate is, of course, to some extent suppositious, because it is scarcely possible, after so tremendous a visitation, to ascertain for a long while the exact loss of life. How many have been injured appears to defy computation yet. The capital district of Yunan is absolutely one mass of ruips. More than five thousand persons were killed by the falling of houses. At Lainon, another Chinese town, the effect on buildings has been almost as town, the effect on buildings has been almost as terrible, with the additional horror of the earth yawning till a frightful chasm was produced, from which red colored water was ejected. The shaking of the earth seems to have been follow-ed by a subterranean convulsion of the most awful kind. Further north, at Lo Chan, where ten thousand met their doom, the aspect of the country has been completely changed. Large tracts of land suddenly disappeared in the course of the visitation, and in their place lakes formed.

We desire to call the attention of cur readers to the advertisement of the Carson River Dredging Co., which appears in the advertising columns. To those desiring an Investment which bids fair to return to investors a dividend more than has been paid, within one year, this would appear to be a good opportunity.

TEACH HIM TO SWIM. BY INCULCATING IN HIS MIND ALL THE VIH TUES AND THUS HE WILL STRIKE OUT FOR HIMSELF ..

Many an unwise purent labors hard and lives sparingly all his life for the purpose of leaving enough to give his children a start in this world, as it is called. Setting a young man sfloat, with money left by his relatives, is like tying bladders under the arms of one who cannot swim; ten chances to one he will lose his bladders and go to the bottom. Teach him how to swim, and he will never need bladders. Give your child a sound education, and you have done enough for him. See to it took his morals are pure, his mind cultivated, and his whole nature made anhaervient to the lime which sovern man and you have given him what will be of more value than the wealth of the Indier.

COMPLAINT AGAINST THE CANA-ENAN TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, April 2 -The minority report of the ways and means committee is published to-day. Of the free list the report says: The American farmer will appreciate the vicious character of the bill (the Mills-majority bill) as applied to him when he is apprised of the fact that while the preducts of his land and labor that while the Caurdo him when the state of his land and labor that the preducts of his land and labor that the labor that are shut out of Cauada by a protective tariff imposed by the Canadian Government, the Canadian farmer can send many of his products here without the payment of duty under the proposed bill Canada now collects duty upon number of American products, while our tariff laws admit Canadian products of like kind free of duly. This she has been doing for many years, although by her tariff of 1878 it is provided that certain articles may be imported into Canada free of duty or at a less rate of duty than is provided by this act by proclamation of the Governor General in Council which may issue whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar articles from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty, or at a rate of duty not ex-ceeding that payable on the same under such proclamation when imported into Canada. Some of the articles named are already on our free list, and yet they are dutiable under Canadian laws and no proclamation has yet been made by the Governor-General, and it is proposed under this bill to increase the free list with farm products, upon which a high tariff is now levied by the Canadian law, etc., etc., etc.

According to mail advices just received, the total stock of first product of best sugar in Germany and Bohemia on March 1st was only 147,300 tons, against 281,000 tons same time last year, and 380,000 tons same time 1886, and apparently indicating that there will be nothing to spare for shipment, and possibly no more than enough for wants of home refiners.
