

Big Brother is watching you

This is the Student Code of Behavior. It is the university's version of the Canadian Criminal Code, and, until last year, included sections which if ever enforced would actually have infringed upon federal law. Now it includes only university regulations.

If you commit a real offense under this code the only action Campus Security (the guys in the green suits) can take is to turn you over to the real police, who may then charge you.

Alternatively, if you commit a university offense, the Campus Law Review Committee will look sternly at you and suggest (see part 3 [section 1, parts a through d]) you are either probated, reprimanded, suspended, or expelled. Breaches that will bring such punishment upon your head include getting caught cheating on exams, drinking in non-designated areas, vandalizing, or otherwise breaking any of the rules enumerated below.

So before you contemplate performing an illegal act, you'd better read this.

PART I: AMENDMENT OF THE CODE

(1) The Code may be amended by General Faculties Council in exercise of the authority vested in it by sec. 39 of The Universities Act.

(2) The Code must be published in each issue of the University Calendar and on at least one occasion annually in the Gateway.

(3) Amendments to the Code shall come into force only upon being published with the Code in its entirety on at least one occasion during each session prior to the appearance of the University Calendar which contains the amendments. Such publication shall take place in the Gateway or in another publication having wide circulation on Campus.

(4) The Executive Assistant to the President shall maintain the Official Copy of the Code and all amendments thereto.

PART II: OFFENCES

Any of the following activities of conduct or attempts thereof or participation therein shall constitute an offence and be punishable:

(1) Cheating, plagiarism, fraud, deceit, or other forms of academic dishonesty.

(2) Subjecting any person to physical or mental indignity, injury, or violence.

(3) Disturbing, disrupting, or otherwise interfering with studies, laboratories, lectures, work, or other lawful activities of fellow students or staff.

(4) Intentionally damaging, destroying, or moving without authority or permitting to be damaged, destroyed or moved without authority, the property of the University, or of any student or staff member.

(5) Unauthorized use of University property within the University, or use of or entry on such property in an unauthorized manner.

(6) Raiding or unlawful entry of University residences of areas thereof.

(7) Smoking during classes, laboratories and examinations.

(8) Tampering with or misusing of fire or safety equipment including signs and notices.

(10) Failure to obey the lawful instructions of any University official or employee acting in the performance of his or her duty and failure to obey all published or posted regulations relating to the use and entry of University buildings and facilities.

(11) Failure to provide identity at the request of a University official or employee acting in the course of his or her duty where:

(a) The University official or employee finds the student committing an offence or

(b) The University official or employee has reasonable and probable grounds to believe that an offence has been committed or is about to be committed.

(12) Initiation ceremonies involving physical violence, hazing or personal indignity.

(13) Failure to obtain approval, permission or to otherwise follow procedures where required under Administrative Requirements, Part IV of the Code.

(Note: for duties of the Campus Security Services, see the Office of the Vice-President, Facilities and Services).

(2) University clubs, organizations or individuals wishing to invite the general public to on-Campus events or to sponsor off-Campus speakers are responsible for so informing the President's Office and for making related arrangements including space reservations, protection of persons and property, and payment of any related costs.

(Note: additional information may be obtained from the Vice-President, Facilities and Services).

(3) All students living in or attending at a University residence are subject to the rules and regulations of that residence. Rules and regulations in force including any amendments are posted at the business office of the residence, or in the areas affected.

(4) All persons owning, operating or parking vehicles on University property are subject to the current Traffic and Parking Regulations of The University of Alberta. Information about Traffic and Parking Regulations in force, including any amendments, may be secured from the Parking Supervisor's Office.

(5) Persons desiring to carry on commercial activity on property under the government and control of the Students' Union should obtain permission from the Students' Union.

(6) The University of Alberta comes under the preview of the Alberta Fire Prevention Act, R.S.A. 1970 c. 115 and the regulations therein. The University of Alberta Board of Governors has approved and adopted a University Fire and Safety Code that is applicable to students, staff and visitors.

(7) Members of the University community may put up posters and notices on "open" notice boards as long as the posters and notices do not create a nuisance. Enquiries concerning other displays or signs on University property should be directed to the Dean of Students. Notices may not be affixed to trees or shrubs. The libraries, food service areas, the Administrative Building, and University Hall are to be kept free of any but official notices.

(8) By agreement with the Edmonton Musicians Protective Association, orchestras organized and playing on Campus need not consist wholly of Association members, but all orchestras brought in to play for University functions must be made up of Association members. For further information students should contact the Secretary of the Edmonton Musicians Protective Association.

(9) The Campus Law Review Committee reviews the rule and regulations of the University relating to student disciplinary matters on a continuing basis.

Members of the University community have the right to speak to and make representations concerning the above at any duly constituted C.L.R.C. meeting.
