

Can an Inn, then, such comfort impart, midst the squall,
Of Waiter! Boots! Chambermaid! O'ert! and all?
Far from home, far from spouse, far from children and friend
Canst Traveller find by all care at an end?
The reason my muse in few words shall explain:—
To contrast we owe all our pleasure and pain:
For Cause and Effect are confounded in this,
That Bliss leads to Woe, and then—Woe leads to bliss.
