A cover crop of clover sown in the middle of summer will help much in enriching the soil. Such treatment brings the trees back to new life and puts them in shape to produce good fruit.

Late Cabbage

A. H. MacLennan, O. A. C., Guelph, Ont.

For late cabbage, the young plants must be started in a seed bed that can be covered because of the cabbage fly that appears in late May and early June. A plot eight feet by 12 feet will hold enough plants to set an acre. The large headed types should be planted about 36 inches by 24 inches, and the smaller early types, 24 inches by 18 inches.

Three Crops on the Same Ground

This illustration, from a photo taken by an editor of Farm and Dairy on the farm of Mr. W. E. Anderson, Peterboro Co., Ont., shows the way in which market gardeners are enabled to make a profit on their high-priced land. Here we may see tree fruits, raspberries and potatoes all in the same field.

When transplanting to a field, about half of the larger leaf surface should be pruned off to reduce transpiration, and a batter of clay and cow manure should be made in which the roots of the young plants are immersed and carried to the field. They should be taken from this and planted direct. This treatment will give the plants a start in the ground because they have both moisture and fertilizer at hand in the shape of a film of this batter adhering to their roots.

Market for Vegetables

I am on a small farm, only 20 acres, and want to get started in growing garden truck. I have tried it for one year, expecting to sell to the nearby towns, but there are so many retired farmers in our towns who grow garden truck to sell that there is very little money in it for me. Could you recommend some buyer to whom I might ship at a fair profit? Kindly give me the names of two or three if possible.—D. W.

There are, of course, large houses in Toronto. These, as a rule, give first-class satisfaction. Of course, there is always the danger of running into a glut. The Dawson, Elliott Co. and William Davies Co. are two such firms. Some make a practice of shipping to smaller towns in those they have some grocer who handles their goods.—A. H. MacLennan, O. A. C., Guelph.

Grand Rapids lettuce is best for hot-bed or greenhouse. It is also a good variety for outside.

CONCRETE watering-troughs and feeding-floors help to keep your live-stock healthy.

HORSES and cattle watered from a concrete trough are less likely to contract disease. Concrete is sanitary, easily cleaned—does not rot or leak. Once built, a concrete watering-trough will last forever. You need never waste time "patching it up." Like all concrete improvements, its first cost is its final cost.

MANY diseases of hogs are directly due to feeding from the filthy, unwholesome mud of the barn-yard. This manner of feeding is also wasteful, because the grain tramped into the mud, in such a condition that not even a hog will eat it. Concrete feeding-floors, with concrete swill-troughs are clean, sanitary. They keep hogs in better health and save feed.

WATERING-TROUGHS and feeding-floors are only two scores of valuable, every-day improvements that may be made of concrete. All are fully described in our 160-page, illustrated book,
