Entertainment par excellence and amusement in particular are pro-vided at the Apollo Theatre to-day for motion picture fans of the city The program is one where hilarity reigns and mirth holds sway, featured by two of the justly celebrated Keystone comedies, featuring a gal axy of the screen's most noted fun makers, Charles Chaplin, Mabel Normand, Chester Conklin and Ot-hers. In "Mabel's Married Life," one of Chaplin's earliest and besi pictures, the illustrious Charlie cavorts quaintly in support of Miss Normand, while in "Mabel's New Job," Chester Conklin appears with the vivasious Mabel. Two such features as these pictures are sufficient in themselves to constitute a draw ing card, but in addition to the regular program of comedy and drama pictures is shown.
