THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., SEPT. 25, 1896.

Local and Provincial.

The schooner Harold Borden arrived yesterday with a cargo of Sydney coal.

Rev. P. M. Macdonald, pastor of St. Andrew's church, is to preach a sermon for young people on Sunday morning.

The evenings now begin to feel quite like autumn. A fond farewell must be said to hammocks and verandahs for this season.

Miss Welton's new styles of Hats, just arrived, are selling almost as fast as they are asked. Call early for they are scarce.

We understand that in the near future two of our hitherto confirmed bachelors will take unto themselves matrimonial honors. Cupid is getting in his work, so to speak.

The ordinance of baptism was administered to a candidate in the Baptist church on Sunday evening last. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. LaPlante.

Mr. J. M. Shaw has this week had the front of his shop painted, and the windows hung with very attractive blinds.

Mr. Harry Newcombe, of Centreville has a well eight months old which gives 5 feet and would now dress, according to competent judges, 400 pounds. Can this be equalled in the county?

The ACADIAN begs to return thanks to Mr. C. A. Peticola for a basket of delicious plums handed in to us this week. The basket was made up of several varieties, all of which were fine fruit.

MONEY TO LEND ON MORTGAGE.—Apply to E. S. Crawley, Solicitor, Wolfville, N.S.

The new time-table of the Dominion Atlantic railway, which went into effect on Monday, will be found in another column. The trips of the "Bluebird" have been suspended for the season, and the regular trains are running on pretty nearly the same time as in other years.

Mr. Harry O'Key, of Fort Williams, was last week unanimously chosen as the second Lieutenant of No. 9 company. He intends taking a course at the Fredericton Military School in order to qualify. Six other members of the company intend going also, most of them for the course beginning October 1st.

Mr. W. J. Balcom yesterday morning did a very nice thing. He walked into the ACADIAN office—which in itself is evidence of a desire for better things—and deposited a basket of delicious plums on our table. They were of a fine flavor, and large size, and the staff did ample justice to them. Who can beat this?

The boys of "No. 9" were on Thursday last week agreeably surprised by receiving two barrels of apples, one from Mr. Arthur C. Starr, of Starr's Point, and the other from Mr. Clarence Davis, of this town. The kindness of these gentlemen was much appreciated. Some members of the company were also remembered by their young lady friends with boxes of plums, pears, etc., which were generously shared with the less fortunate individuals.
