Wheat Harvesting Has Commenced

The harvesting of fall wheat commenced last Saturday on the farm of J. W. Low, which adjoins Cardston on the west. Sixty acres of the finest grain is down and in the stook. Harvesting in general will commence about the middle of next week, and from then on will be the busiest, yet happiest days of the year for the farmer.

Conditions of Crop In The West

Crop conditions of the end of July are perhaps not quite so rosy as many expected them to be. In spite of all the rain that fell in June and which made many people worry for fear that the country was getting too much, there is a general complaint of want of rain from all over the west and this has undoubtedly lessened the probable average yield, to what percentage only the threshing machines can tell.

C. A. Anderson Passes Away

Mrs. C. A. Anderson received a sad message over the wires on Thursday morning, to the effect that her husband had died at Twin Falls, Idaho.

Mr. Anderson, who was one of our well known esteemed citizens, was here on Friday 31st, but was called away to Idaho on business in connection with mining stock.

His death coming so unexpected is a sad blow to the family, and the Star joins in with the many friends in extending its sincerest sympathy.

The remains will be shipped to Brigham City, Utah where they will be laid to rest.

Mrs. Anderson left on yesterday's train for the south.

BANKERS VISIT CARDSTON DISTRICT

Greatly Impressed With the Fine Condition of the Grain

C. W. Rowley, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Calgary; J. P. Bell of the western headquarters of the same bank at Winnipeg, and L. P. Strong of the Pacific Elevator Co. Calgary, accompanied by C. G. K. Nourse, manager of the Bank of Commerce, Lethbridge, spent Monday evening and Tuesday morning in Cardston. They came over from Lethbridge in Southards' "Rambler" and passed through Raymond, Spring

Coulee and Raley enroute here. The occasion for their visit was to find out for themselves the prospects of this year's coming harvest in this immediate locality. As this was their first visit to the district, they were much amazed and impressed with the fine condition of the crops here. Accompanied by Mr. R. W. Pilling, the party on Tuesday morning started on their return trip going by Aetna, Kimball and Raley.

Time 23 Seconds

A matched race between Lee Austin's Brown, ridden by Frank Woolf and Haggerty's Bay, ridden by young Davidson, was pulled off here at the race course on Saturday evening. The race, $\frac{1}{4}$ mile was for a purse of \$50.00 and caused considerable excitement, the Brown winning by a length, time 23 seconds. Two other horses were entered from across the line, but they failed to appear. A large crowd was out to witness the event which took place about 6:30 p. m.

Warning to Farmers

Mr. H. Boothby of Crossfield, Alta. was fined $15.00 and costs last Saturday for not advertising a stray mare, which had been on his farm. The law requires that an animal taken up in this way shall be advertised within thirty days.

Grand Wedding Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Tanner (nee Miss Orilla Woolf) came in on Monday from Salt Lake City. A reception in their honor was given the same evening at the residence of Mrs. Daines. The large house was crowded with many friends and a very pleasant evening was spent. A sumptuous repast was spread, to which probably a hundred guests were seated. A large number of beautiful presents to the bride testified the popularity of both parties. The happy couple will make their residence this summer on the Cochrane Ranch.

Money Pinch Is Over

June's increase of several million dollars in Canadian bank deposits indicate pretty clearly that the money pinch is over. The brilliant crop prospects and the optimistic predictions of the United States steel magnates point to a decided improvement in financial conditions.

Farmers' Help Can Be Supplied

Farmers who need help for the coming harvest are requested to enquire at the office of Mr. W. Straiton who will endeavor to supply their wants, and those who are seeking employment are requested to list their names at the above office.
