"NONPAREIL"
Billiard Hall!
 SHARKEY'S BUILDING,
 OFF. OFFICERS' BARRACKS, QUEEN ST.,
 FREDERICTON, N. B.

T. E. FOSTER, Proprietor

THIS HALL has been newly fitted up, and is handsomely furnished, and for room, light, and convenience, compares most favorably with any Billiard Hall in the Dominion. The Billiard and Pool Tables are pronounced by players to be superior to any now in use in this Province.
 They are the BRILLIANT NOVELTY, size 41 x 2 feet.

The main object in the construction of the Billiard Novelty, and the one most noticeable, is that it embodies all the more salient or most important features that have rendered popular all the other styles of tables of the J. N. Humphreys & Balke Co.'s make. The Billiard Novelty has all the advantages and good points, including the respective tables, and is a happy combination of all those celebrated tables, and has rapidly taken the foremost place in the estimation of all players of Billiard and Pool Tables. The Novelty is finished and handsomely inlaid in many different colors, made up from California Laurel, Burl Ash, French Walnut, Bird Eye Maple, Mahogany, Rose Wood, Tulip Wood and Ebony. It is supplied with the finest of Vermont Slate bed, Simons Cloth, and a first-class outfit of everything necessary.

A call is respectfully solicited from lovers of the game.
 Boys under sixteen not allowed in the Hall.
 Temperance drinks of all kinds, Cigars, etc.

SWELL COSTUMES.
 How French Actresses Dress When they Set About It.

Lucy Hooper writes enthusiastically of the costumes worn by French actresses, from whom we are said to obtain our fashions. "Oh, ye gods and little fishes!" she says, "what toilettes these French actresses wear when they set about it!"

"In the second act Mlle. Bar-tel's walking dress is pale gray silk with a skirt front and a vest in dark gray silk guipure, and the whole set off with reverse of ruby velvet, was lovely to behold and the perfection of quiet and costly elegance. It entirely eclipsed Mme. Pierson's morning dress in transparent white lace with a bournous like drapery veiling and corsage and forming the loose, shape-less sleeves." A prettier stage costume picture than that described by Mrs.
 Hooper was presented in Boston lately when Mme. Nilsson and Frau Materna stood together at the last Wagner concert. Mme. Nilsson was dignified and elegant in dark blue silk and velvet, the velvet being arranged in panels and edged with a brilliant bead fringe. The square neck corsage was finished with a wide white lace collar, deep as a cape behind, but narrow in front. Diamonds glittered in the lace in ornaments of different varieties, in crescents and stars massed to the dazzling flowers. Materna was bright in a yellow satin dress trimmed with green, the colors being of the marsh marigold with green leaves. The front of the dress was covered with embroidered lace and the corsage was also trimmed with lace.
 Both ladies wore long silk gloves of delicate hues. Some of the dresses imported from Paris are more adaptable to every day existence. A pretty suit, said to be for country wear, is of plain gray veiling and gray veiling embroidered with red flowers. The skirt is of plain veiling and plaited lengthwise. A drapery of the embroidered veiling forms the apron, which falls very long. The waist is of embro-dered veiling, the front of which opens over a plain vest. Down the front around the basque is a lace ruffle and around the neck is a deep lace ruching. The hat for this suit has a narrow brim and the crown is covered with roses and ribbon loops.

Embroidery is as popular as ever and jet has not lost its favor. The new lawns, muslins and pongees appear profusely decorated with embroidery. A dress of black dress outside of morning, is fas-tionable without its share of jet trimming.
 Many stylish little wraps are all of jet and glisten like armor. The principal wraps to suits are the shoulder capes with effect of high sleeves. Some pelering mantles are tied in front.

LOED ST. LEONARDS.
 The Disgraced Baron Threatens to Insist on Being Tried by his Peers.

LONDON, May 17, 1884.—Lord St. Leonnards, who was arrested last week on the charge of having attempted to assault a maid servant of his host and was refused bail and confined in the House of Detention at Clerkenwell, demands that he shall be tried by his peers. This demand creates more difficulty in disposing of his case. It was long ago decided, to be sure, that a peer's privileges could be ignored in cases of indictable offences. But several cases have occurred more recently which render this precedent of doubtful force, and are, at any rate, sufficient to justify the claim set up by his wretched lordship.

DESERVED BY FRIENDS.
 Lord St. Leonards becomes daily more obstreperous. He has up to date been unable to raise money enough to pay for the prison luxuries which he has ordered and consumed, and his friends are fast deserting him as they become convinced of the profound rascality of his act. The eminent solicitors who went from London to his assistance when he was first arrested have been unable to soften the committing magistrate into accepting bail and the friends who at first rushed to his rescue with offers of bonds have withdrawn all interest in the case. It is questionable if the noble Lord could to day secure bondsmen if bail were allowed.
 St. Leonards seems absolutely deserted by all his friends, and he now threatens to revenge himself upon the nobility for his outcast state.

A DREADFUL THREAT.
 His latest threat was made to-day. He declares that unless he is rescued from his present "disgraceful position" he will claim his privilege as a Baron to be tried by his peers. This is a potent threat. If carried out successfully in this case it would certainly result in popular outcry which might prove irresistible for the abolition of all such remaining antiquated privileges of the Lords. The last time this particular privilege was claimed was by Lord Cardigan, the hero of Balaklava, when he was arraigned for manslaughter for causing the death of his opponent in his celebrated duel. The tenure of the British aristocracy is sufficiently frail without being further jeopardized by this threatened attack, and it is reported that efforts will be made to change the determination of the criminal.

A BURGLAR'S LOVE-MAKING.
 (San Francisco Post.)
 It has often been said that nothing save business success and money constitutes a claim to social recognition on this coast; but, as even with such illustration of that fact as the Sharon trial before them, our Eastern friends can hardly understand how absolute said rule is here, we can hardly expect the following perfectly true incident to be believed out of our own state:

One night not long ago the daughter of one of our best citizens was awakened by a noise in her room, and, upon sitting up, discovered a man disguised in a black mask standing beside her bed and calmly contemplating her features by the aid of a bull's-eye lantern.

"Don't be alarmed, Miss, he said; 'I haven't taken anything yet.'" "Bless me!" said the girl; "I do believe it's a burglar."

"Of course it is," said the housebreaker, with an ungrudging smile, as he lit a cigarette. "And I am proud of it."
 "What do you want?" demanded the young lady.

"Well, I did want to sample your jewelry case," said the robber, "but you looked so all-fired pretty lying there with your auburn hair—just my style—that I couldn't help waking you to see if you also had black eyes. I'm terribly fond of light hair and dark eyes, myself."

"Well, I have," said the young lady, glancing at the mirror. "But I must look a fright in this—this dress."
 "On the contrary, white is very becoming to you," said the disciple of Jimmy Hope, tenderly. "By the way, are you engaged?"

"That's tellin'," said the girl.
 "No, but are you—honest Injun?"
 "Well, yes, I am—to a young lady; but I don't care for him so very much."
 "He's poor, isn't he?"
 "Oh, awfully."

"Exactly," I thought as much. Now, my dear girl, don't you know there is nothing in this love-in-a-cottage business?
 You don't want to peg along nursing babies in some stuffy back room for the next ten years, do you?"

"N-n-o," murmured the girl.
 "Then why not let this fellow slide and take me? I'm pretty comfortable fixed.
 Business has been good this season, and our profits are large. Our firm is now running a tunnel under a Marysville bank, and I've got a fourth interest. Besides, I am secretary of the Burglars Protective Association. What d'yer say?"

"Couldn't we go abroad next summer?" asked the girl thoughtfully.

"Why, certainly. I expect to have to.
 Just think over the matter, and I'll drop in some night later in the week. I know how to get in." And, shouldering his kit, the secretary stepped out of the window and went off to open a jewelry store for an engagement ring.

And the next day the young lawyer received back his letters and photograph.
 "Our girls know on which side their bread is buttered, and you can bet on it."

THE MIDGETS MARRIED.
 The Two Smallest Specimens of Humanity in the World Tied Up for Good or Ill.

LONDON, May 13.—Miss Milly Edwards and General Mite (Mr. Frank J. Flynn), who have been for some time drawing large attendances at St. James' Hall, Manchester, Eng., brought their receptions to a close on Saturday. Love has been busy with their two little hearts, and as a result an interesting ceremony took place in Manchester yesterday—no less than the marriage of these, the two smallest people in the world. General Mite is nearly 20 years of age, and weighs only nine pounds. Miss Milly Edwards is about 17 years old, and weighs only seven pounds. The ceremony of marriage between two such morsels of humanity was one of the most extraordinary sights ever witnessed. After the wedding they departed for the Continent to spend their honeymoon, and will visit Amsterdam, Hamburg, and probably Brussels. They will then return to their native land, America, and retire into private life.

A PAINFUL OCCURRENCE.—Some of the most painful sufferings that afflict mortals occur from rheumatism. Either the acute or chronic form may be eradicated from the blood by an early use of the grand purifying system renovator, Burdock Blood Bitters.

A WIDE RANGE OF USEFULNESS.—The great household remedy so popular with the people—Hagyard's Yellow Oil—is alike valuable for external and internal use, curing rheumatism, sore throat, croup, frost bites, burns, bruises, and all lameness and soreness of the flesh.
