MILLERTON.

Given in the Methodist Church on Thursday night under the auspices of the Maple Leaf Mission Band, a musical and dramatic performance of success and much credit is due to the actors who took part in it and also to the orchestra.

A worker who for some time past has been ill is now recovering and is able to be with us again.

A photographic concert which will be given at the Temperance Hall Wednesday evening promises to be a great success. The proceeds will go to Nelson Division and W. Division.

It seems to be the order of the day in this locality. You see canvasses and pass one another and neither is friendly greeting for the other.

Hunters are plentiful but are generally unsuccessful. One young hunter from an afternoon shooting not far from here with at least six partridge.

A photographic concert which was held at the Temperance Hall last Wednesday evening was a decided success. Chorus was led by some of our leading singers. A recital by Miss Nicholson was given in most charming manner. Notwithstanding the large numbers being absent from the attending Nomination etc. a large number was in attendance.

A hallow'een passed off quietly as far as Millerton itself goes. Perhaps more so than did some of the gates which our boys found heavy enough.

Where tell me where is "my lassie taffy" was the cry raised by a young lady who, hallow'een as she discovered an empty plate and a dog with something similar, was looking for it.

Not a few of Millerton's young men attended nomination in Newcastle last Wednesday. The Indian town Branch train was held one hour later than usual to accommodate passengers from different points along the branch.

It was apples on Wednesday night but gooseberries were in the lead Friday evening. The Wilson Cove horse-bridge which has for some time past been in a dangerous condition, gave way under the weight of Mr. P. M. Henderson's horse on Sunday.

Hurray for "Rob's" on the 7th.

DOUGLASTOWN.

Mr. Hutchinson's and Mr. Doyle's mills have closed down for the season.

Mr. Peter Peck left for his home in Denmark on Monday.

Mr. Andrew Burr of Chatham was in town Sunday.

The Misses Cunningham left for Boston on Monday.

Miss B. Coughlan of Chatham spent Friday with Miss Connolly.

The Bean Supper and Fancy Sale held Tuesday Evening was a decided success. About $35 was realized.

Miss M. Lawlor of Newcastle is spending a few days with Mrs. T. Hayden.

The Baud went to Newcastle Saturday night to meet Albert McCallum one of the soldiers from South Africa, but were disappointed as he remained in Halifax for a few days.

Mrs. Mc Kendy is putting some repairs on her home.

Election is all the talk down here now, and it is hard to say who will lead here.

BLISSFIELD.

Frank Bartlett and Peter Lyons shot a fine moose a few days ago. The spread of the antlers was fifty inches. The moose when dressed, weighed about 900 pounds.

Mr. Thomas Morehouse, while working in the woods, was struck by a falling tree. His face was badly cut and he suffered much from loss of blood.

Mr. McLean of Chatham, spent a few days, in this place, visiting his sister last week.

Rev. Mr. Robb held service in New Salem Hall last Sunday. As there is no stove, and the weather is getting cold it is uncertain whether the services will be continued later this fall unless a stove can be procured.

Mr. R. Morehouse went to Blackville a few days ago with a load of apples for Mr. Jas. Fowler. Mr. Fowler's orchard yielded about sixty barrels of apples this season.

A hallow'een party was held in New Salem Hall. Quite a number from Blackville were present and the Hall was filled with young folks. Games were played and

"I remained in Ottawa during the last session continuously until April 25th--when I came home for a short time and afterwards went back"--

dancing was indulged in by the lovers of the "light fantastic" The candy provided was excellent and the music grand.

Mr. Z. Gilks has been making repairs on the school house in District No 23. The work has been much needed and has given satisfaction.

Miss Maud Fowler, Miss L. McLean, Mr. McLean, were the guests of Miss May Frieze of Oaktown, on Sunday last.

CHEER UPON CHEER.

humanity and equality. He then spoke of those who had not returned and would never return, and felt that we should weep with those who weep as well as rejoice with those who rejoice. He believed this was a proud day for Newcastle, a proud day for the Dominion of Canada. Our soldiers had elevated the British empire and wielded it together, and if another call was made they would be willing to go forth again.

Mr. Snow's address was a powerful oration and it stirred the assemblage profoundly. He was given three cheers at the conclusion of his remarks.

After the band had played "The Soldiers of the Queen," Mayor Morrison introduced Rev. Mr. Brown.

J. M. AITKEN.

The speaker felt that the boys had received a royal reception in the true sense of the word. He told of witnessing similar functions in London, but he felt that Newcastle had tipped the scales. We had gone beyond our mark. It was a real letter day for the town. He believed that our Canadian soldiers had done more to unite the British empire than anything yet produced. The colonies had been cemented with the mother country by the life's blood of the Canadians. He felt that our boys had electrified the world. England never knew the power of Canada before.

Our soldiers had gone forth many never to return. Paarlberg had drank the blood of many a noble life. He felt that every man who had fallen deserved the Victoria Cross. They had not received that cross, but they had received another crown, and the command of the Great Commander in Chief. Continuing the speaker thanked the soldiers present for what they had done for the British nation. He thought the war in South Africa was one of the greatest ever fought. No nation but Great Britain and her colonies could have fought those Boers successfully. In conclusion he thanked the audience for their attention and hoped the blessing of God would rest on the returned soldiers. Cheers were then given for the speaker.

Mr. Brown's address was a masterly oration and held the audience spell bound throughout. We regret not having space to give both his and Mr. Snow's addresses in full.

Mayor Morrison thanked the citizens for their kindness and also the speakers, after which he was accorded three lusty cheers.

Three cheers were then given for the soldiers, after which the crowd dispersed.

The soldiers were carried through the streets on the shoulders of several stalwarts and it was sometime before the people would allow them to return to their homes.

In the evening residences and stores were illuminated, the bands played patriotic airs and rockets were set off. It was a gala day in the history of Newcastle and one that will never be effaced from the memories of its citizens.

In the spacious Town Hall, the Mayor and members of the Board of Aldermen gave the Khaki lads a dinner, Saturday night. About fifty were present. Mayor Morrison sat at one end of the table and on his right and left were the guests of honor. Ald. Hennessy occupied the seat at the other end and on his right and left were the members of the council, officials, dignitaries, etc. Mayor Morrison was toast master. The following was the toast list:—"The Queen," responded to by all singing the "National Anthem"; "The Army and Navy," responded to by Major Malby and Captain Sergeant; "The Canadian Contingent," responded to by Rev. Mr. Brown; Our Guests, responded to by Serg. Anslow and Privates Aitken, Munroe and Harris; "Municipality of Northumberland," responded to by Councilor Campbell; "The Town of Newcastle," responded to by Ald. Hennessy, Hixson and Williston; "The Bench and the Bar," responded to by Judge Wilkinson and Samuel Thomson; "The Clergy," responded to by Rev. Messrs. Snow and Pickles; "The Ladies," responded to by Rev. Mr. Aitken and W. A. Park; "The Press," responded to by H. B. Anslow. Ald. Hennessy proposed the toast of Mayor Morrison. The Mayor replied Judge Wilkinson proposed the orchestra. Mr. T. M. Stewart responded.

Mr. Henry Wyse did the catering and it is safe to say those present never sat down to a better cooked or more enjoyable repast.

MEDITATION OF A BACHELOR MAID

A woman never really gets interested in a man until he pays some attention to her—dearest friend.

HAS A CHANCE.

The man whose life hangs on a thread, perhaps beyond all hope, is better off by far than he whose life hangs by a rope.

NOTES FROM SQUASHVILLE.

The weather is very warm for the time of the year and promises to be warmer Wednesday and Thursday.

Hay fever was quickly followed by an epidemic of political fever.

The elite has started a debating society. The first subject for discussion will be "Can a man love and have a good appetite at the same time."

A WOMAN'S idea of a mean woman is one who wouldn't knock a bug off another woman's neck if she had anything against her.

SOME men would never be what they are if it hadn't been for women that refused them and it made them mad.

A YORKSHIRE vicar recently received the following note from one of his parishioners:

"This is to give you notice that I and Miss Jenima Arabella Brearley are coming to your church on Saturday afternoon next to undergo the operation of matrimony at your hands. Please be prompt, as the cab is hired by the hour. Forewarned is forearmed."

ONE DAY a man called at the office of a certain newspaper and said to the editor:

"Sir, your paper says that I am dead."

"Well," replied the editor, "if it is in our paper it is correct."

"It is not correct, for here I am alive," rejoined the other.

"Well it can't be helped," said the editor.

"If I had got up in the House as some of my critics think I should have done and denounced the Government on all occasions I would not have got anything for the County," Mr. James Robinson.

THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

(Boston Advertiser.)

The tramp problem is evidently growing serious in a number of towns throughout Massachusetts. Inquiry in several sections of the state develops practically the same reply—that "tramps" are getting very troublesome and complaints are increasing. A number of overseers of the poor are now engaged in studying the question with a view to the possibility of joint action, later on. The case does not require much study. Experience has shown that the best way to get rid of the lawless element among tramps is to insist that every tramp found in a Massachusetts town shall be obliged to do work that will pay for the lodging and food given him. The professional tramp hates work as venomously as he detests soap. He will never go of his own choice to a place where he will be required to work. Consequently if the tramps are a curse to rural Massachusetts, it is chiefly the fault of the towns themselves, because they have failed to deal intelligently with the tramp problem.

"I want nothing for myself. I seek only for the welfare of Northumberland" Mr. James Robinson.

AT CREAGHAN'S—Special goods, Supplies, Camp furnishings, Beddings, Blankets, Mens Clothing, Shirts, Underwear &c for lumbermen and travellers.

"But I expect you to contradict it" said the injured man.

"No, I can't do that," said the editor, "as we never contradict anything that appears in our paper, I will do the only thing I can do; tomorrow I will put you in the list of births."

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER.

DEARLY BELOVED—

Who hath woes, who hath babbings, who hath contentions; verily he who goeth upon the road to travel.

He goeth forth in the morning with a light heart and a starched collar, and returneth at eventide with a soiled raiment and a blister on his heel.

He goeth forth like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour, and every one he meeteth smiteth him.

He goeth unto the place where they do entertain strangers, and that which he ordereth of the servant she bringeth not, but that which he deth not order is set before him.

He sayeth to the keeper of the house, "Behold I would be awakened at the fifth hour of the morning that I may depart into another country." And behold before it is yet light the keeper of the house knocketh loud against the door saying in a loud voice "Arise that thou mayest depart upon thy train."

And he who would arise awaketh in haste and putteth his right foot into his left shoe and girdeth himself quickly.

He putteth his clothes on hind side before so great is his haste thereof.

His collar which should be girded about his neck is coiled in the upper story of his hat.

And behold when he arrived at the place from whence he should depart he findeth that it is only the third hour of the morning then he leaneth against the telegraph pole and in his heart he revileth against the keeper of the house wherein he slept.

Or, perchance he asketh to the servant knocketh not until the ninth hour, and when he railleth the hired man looketh at him with a look of scorn.

He goeth forth to ride upon the railway then cometh a beautiful maiden arrayed like lilies; she taketh a seat afar off, but the dowdy woman with five children and a wart on her nose taketh the seat nearest to him.

Verily he who goeth upon the road to travel, is of few days and variegated rations today he hath much that is good, tomorrow his food is of the withered grass, yet not so cleanly.

If there be much water there is no towel but if the water be gone there are towels five in number and a piece of soap.

Verily, verily he hath cause to murmur an exceedingly great murmur. Amen!

The wise woman never flirts with a man she distrusts.

It's loife that's loike a base ball game—when a feller makes a hit he must run loike th' devil t' make it count.

A PUBLISHER'S MISTAKE.

The following from THE PRINTER and PUBLISHER speaks for itself—

Editor PRINTER and PUBLISHER—I presume that with your experience as publisher you are aware that libel proceedings have no terrors for our Guild. I will not, therefore, say that one is impending over you, but I ought to go gunning after you for putting me before the country not only in one but two false positions. I enclose two clippings from THE PRINTER and PUBLISHER for September. In one you produce a flattering picture of me and represent me as editor of the Chatham World, in the other as of the Chatham, N. B., Advocate.

I don't own the earth, and am sure that the editor of the first-named paper would not entertain any proposition, just now when a Federal election is pending, which would involve the placing of the tiller of his little craft in hands other than his own. As to the Advocate which is published in Newcastle, not Chatham, it gets along very well without my assistance, while I am content to remain in my humble position of editor of the Miramichi Advance, which I established here twenty-six years ago.

I presume that the publisher of The World will order a large number of THE PRINTER and PUBLISHER containing the picture of its alleged editor for distant circulation.

Truly yours'

Chatham N. B. Sept. 28, 1900. D. G. Smith.
[Mr. Smith has our abject apologies. His case was on a par with the error made in saying that Hon. J. V. Ellis was connected with the St. John Sun. The opinion which the editor of PRINTER and PUBLISHER has of himself for making these two mistakes is unfit to appear in these respectable columns.—Editor PRINTER and PUBLISHER.]
