WITHOUT A POLICY.

The Parliamentary discuss of the sed loan of $1,000,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific Company to aid in the ompletion of the prairie section, the loan to pay 4 per cent., and to be secur ed by the Grand Trunk Pacific and also by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, showed that there is far from unannn ity on matters of railway policy in the ranks of the Opposition. Mr. Borden does not stand up for his old "ownershin" ideas, and although a few of th lighter-headed of the younger Tories squint at it favorably, the mass of the Opposition will have none of it. cussion vesterday served only to il lustrate that the Opposition is without a policy, and that, although eager to embarrass the Government fears to place itself in a position of hostility to the interests of the West, the member from which strongly support the Gov-ernment's policy of building the road. Thus far, the speeches made in Opposition to the scheme have been mostly time-killing and general fault-finding, rather than in support of any definit policy as preferred to that pursued by the Government. It is doubtful if the Opposition will stand up to be counted in a division hostile to the loan, which involves no risk or loss to the people, while it contributes to the immediate success of the great transcontinental

IS IT WISE?

The Synod of Hamilton and London is thankful for the measure of Bible in theria, struction made possible in our Public Schools, and it regrets that it has been made so little use of, attributing this failure to the lack of "provision for ex amination in Scripture lessons," and it resolves to metition for such changes in to be a lack. The first thing the Synod will have a lot of S. H. Blakes buzzing about its ears. Will a lot of well-meaning people never learn that the worst service they can do for religious teachtempt to unload the duties of home church and Sunday school upon state schools? Let them first calmly sit down and agree upon what religion to be taught by the power of the state. That ought to be casy-but it? Of course, if only MY religion is taught, all right; but don't try to force of the state!

We also had an interesting discussion on Rural Mail Delivery. I need not go into this further than to say that the Postmaster-General showed that where the system has thus far been put in operation it is working smoothly and satisfactorily, and is thoroughly approved of by those who have secured the service.

I may further say that a charge of three dollars is made for each box, the charge being collected when the box is delivered. This is the only charge made by the Department in connection with the matter. A box will be sent to each person signing the petition asking for it. Those residing on crossroads can be served if they desire as well as those living on the regular mail route. This is done by having their boxes erected at the point where the roads intersect.

The judgment of Sir William Meredith, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal, on the motion of the defendant Mills, in the libel suit of Robinson vs. Mills is one of much importance to newspaper workers. Under the ruling of the Master in Chambers, now reversed, any newspaper worker "editor" of a department, might be sued for damages and could not obtain security for costs. The Chief Justice holds that any editor or newspaper writer or printer is entitled to demand security for costs. Before Robinson can go on with his suit he must deposit such sum as will secure to Mills his costs in case the charge fails. (2) Make habitual, open and notorious adultery a crime. (3) increasing the penalty for procuring for immoral purposes. (4) Making the possession of immoral literature a crime.

Rev. Dr. Pigeon, of Toronto, was the principal speaker on this subject. He believed the church was not responding either with enthusiasm or in a financial way. The object of the movement was to lend a helping hand to the local option campaigns and other efforts along the line of social purity, which may come up in any part of the Province. The policy of the church was not, however, to send men and money in such places, where no good could be accomplished. send men and money in such places, where no good could be accomplished, but that the people in the communities where the affliction rests should work hard that the ground work might be laid for the coming of men interested in this work, who would then help in the fight. He considered that it was a very lax policy that allowed Canada to have the laws of the country in such a state that those who cannot gain a livelihood in the United States, in this immoral business should seek Canada as a refur more strict on this traffic than in Canada, with the result that the people are coming to Canada in droves.

Dr. Pigeon went on to point out the revelations that had come to the memby bers of the committee in the white slave traffic, which was rapidly absorbing the young womanhood of the land, and there seems to be no end of the evil. Dr. Pigeon condemned that part of the moving picture business which has a tendency to show immoral views. The committee with which he was connected was doing practical work, and it needed the assistance of every member of every congregation throughout the Province, to bring matters to a successful issue.

Rev. J. A. Wilson, Hamilton, read the report of the Young. Bertin Red. A large volume of correspondence was submitted relating to the society, all of which were dealt with. Conservative press and the Conservative electorate behind it, is back to the old Conservative game of giving away public lands to the corporations. It is well for the West that there is no Conservative Government in power in Otta-wa to give away the remaining lands to the railways. The Liberal Government during its thirteen years of office has not given a single acre of land to a railway—which accounts, no doubt, for the marked hostility of the Western Tailways to Liberal candidates in Federal elections. They know their friends.

A TRIAL OF CUTICURA PROVED SUCCESSFUL

"About four years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was taken very ill and was soon in a high fever. I did not leave my bed for four months, and during three of those months I could not move voluntarily, the pain was so intense. My skin peeled, and the high fever played havoe with the lustre of my hair, which came out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back, — two on the shoulders and one at the waist. I could have cried the first time I saw myself in a mirror. I had lost fully thirty-six pounds, and looked like a consumptive. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. When I was able to get around, I had all my friends advising remedies, and all guaranteed 'sure cures.' I tried many, but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura Resolvent I had had no real relief. That gave me such an appetite that I felt half starved about all the time, and I immediately began to gain in weight, my complexion cleared, and I felt better. The bed sores went very soon after a few applications of Cuticura Cointment, and when I used Cuticura Cointment, and when I used Cuticura Soap as a shampoo and Cuticura Ointment as a massage, my hair began to regain its former glossy appearance. I am really all made over, and cannot say enough for the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Lavina J. Henderson, 138 Broad St., Stamford, Conn., March 6 and 12, 1907."

New patients are coming every few days, and old ones are leaving who, during their period of convalescence have become attached to the place, through the kindness of the doctor, nurses And matron, and the pleasant friendships formed among all. But is the order of things in such an institution, and since the opening of the new dispensary, changes will be even more rapid, for now more patients come up who have only the beginning of lung trouble, instead of those who have only a fighting ellunce of recovery, and take longer to regain their health. Those about to leave are usually very much concerned about the last test of the lungs. They go up to the doctor's office with serious faces, then when the tap, tap, tappping of the doctor's skillful fingers is finished and the cheering "well done" is spoken, they come Itway with faces like the sunshine, and go home fitted to fight out their battle with tuberculosis to a finish, and to help others to do likewise.

Ottawa, March 30.—There is a possibility that the situation in regard to naval defence may develop some striking features within the next few days. It is stated in political circles, with some authority, that there is a good deal of dissatisfaction in the Conservative ranks with the attitude taken by the Government and endorsed by the Opposition, and that as a result of communications the Manitoba and Ontagio Governments have practically agreed to contribute a Dreadnought to the imperial navy. Premier MeBride, of British Columbia, it is said, has tele-graphed that if anything of the nature is contemplated his province desires to participate, and it is anticipated that the Province of New Brunswick will fol-low suit.
