WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 22ND, 1913

TRAFALGAR DAY, OCT. 21ST.

"At Trafalgar yet once more we taught him."

Trafalgar—a name to conjure up English pride, a day to be observed by men of British blood the world over, and a day to hand down to our sons for them to take heed and remember

"The fleet of England is her all-in-all Her fleet is in your hands And in her fleet her Fate."

Trafalgar Day is the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar, October 21st, 1805 when Nelson defeated the combined naval forces of the French and Spanish after hoisting the famous signal

"England expects every man to do his duty."

It was at daybreak on that eventful morning when the English fleet was some twenty miles from Cape Trafalgar on the south west coast of Spain that the enemy was discovered six or seven miles to the eastward. Nelson was upon deck and the order was given to bear down in two lines, Collingwood leading one line in the "Royal Sovereign" and Nelson leading the other in the "Victory."

As the enemy was showing a bold front Nelson asked Captain Blackwood what he would consider as a victory, and Blackwood answered that the capture of fourteen sail of the line would be a glorious victory.

"I shall not be satisfied with less than twenty," said Nelson, and then gave the signal which conveyed the immortal words,

"England expects that every man this day will do his duty."

Soon afterwards

"With thunders, and with lightning and with smoke—Peal after peal, the British battle broke."

Nelson himself fell, shot from the mizzen-mast of the French ship "Redoubtable."

"They have done for me at last" he said to Captain Harding, "my backbone is shot through."

He was carried below, covering his face with his handkerchief, that his crew might not know who had fallen. Dr. Beatty, the ship's surgeon, tended him but his wound was seen to be mortal and he only survived three hours by which time, however, the battle was won and twenty of the French and Spanish ships had struck their flag and surrendered. And so was fought and won the greatest naval battle of the long Napoleonic wars, and

"England confessed that every man that day had done his duty."

On the 9th of January, 1806, the body of the dead hero was borne to its last resting place in the crypt beneath the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

"To thy country thou canst back Thou, conqueror, to triumphant Albion canst

A corse. I saw before they bear pass On the comrades of thy perils and renown.

The frequent tear upon their dauntless breasts fell I beheld the pomp which gather'd round

The trophied car that bore thy grac'd remains Through arm'd ranks, and a nation looking on."

Forty-six years afterwards he was joined by another great hero, Wellington, and Tennyson in his "Ode on the death of the Duke of Wellington" published in 1852, makes the spirit of Nelson say:

"Who is 'he that cometh, like an honored guest,

With banner and with music, with soldier and with priest,

With a nation weeping, and breaking on my rest?"

And he is told,

"Mighty Seaman, this is he Was great by land as thou by sea Thine island loves thee well, thou famous man,

The greatest sailor since our world began

Now, to the roll of muffled drums

To thee the greatest soldier comes For this is he Was great by land as thou by sea His foes were thine; he kept us free O give him welcome this is he Worthy of our gorgeous rites And worthy to be laid by thee."

And they now sleep together, the heroes of Trafalgar and Waterloo, the two who, one on sea and the other on land, in the agony of England's fate, best fought the fight and achieved the victory.

We are in receipt of a nicely printed and bound book, a report from the Commission of Conservation, Ottawa, on the Long Sault Rapids and St. Lawrence River. It contains maps and other illustrations. The book is edited by Arthur V. White, M. E.

DOLLARS FROM MILK

The Cow as a Bread-winner Helps its Owner to Coin Money

In 1909 the representative of one of the largest condensed milk companies in the United States, interviewed the Town Council of Tillsonburg, Ontario, with a view to securing their co-operation in the establishment of a milk factory in that town. It did not take the live merchants of Tillsonburg long to realize that the five or six thousand dollars, which the company proposed to distribute to the milk producers around Tillsonburg each month, would soon go into circulation over the counters of their stores. As one merchant put it—"The increase in the price of milk would enable a farmer to buy at least one hat per year more for his wife in addition to many other equally necessary things."

On the first of October, 1909, the factory opened its doors and 21,000 pounds of milk went into the condensers. After four years operation it is interesting to note the effect of this industry in the neighborhood. Prior to the establishment of the factory farmers had been getting from 80c to $1 per cwt. for milk. In 1910 the price had risen to $1.48 1/3 per cwt. The price is now $1.65 per cwt., with prospects of going higher next year. From receipts of only 21,000 pounds from a few patrons the factory has increased its capacity until it now takes care of 312 patrons and 181,000 pounds of milk in one day.

The industry in question, The Borden Condensed Milk Company, had hitherto operated entirely in the United States, but the tariff, coupled with its growing trade in Canada, were the factors which induced it to locate a branch in Tillsonburg. The Company's scientific methods and its educational efforts to improve cattle-raising with a view to better milk production, have been of tremendous value to the country. Cows have gone up in price. Where formerly an ordinary grade Holstein sold at $40 to $50 it now brings from $80 to $100, and there has been a corresponding increase in good milkers and pure breeds.

Some interesting figures are available from some of the patrons. One farmer from eight cows during eight months time received $1,057.16 in cheques from the Borden factory. Certain parts of the Western country are eminently suited for dairying, and there is no doubt that within a few years condensed milk factories will be established at different points in the West, thus creating a profitable home market for milk and cows.

CANADIAN WOOL

The Home Market is the Best Market For Canadian Wool

In the fiscal year of 1911 Canada imported about 6,500,000 pounds of wool, while her exports amounted to approximately 1,300,000 pounds, according to the report of the Department of Agriculture. This shows that we are importing about 5,200,000 more pounds of wool than we export, and when to this is added the 11,000,000 pounds of wool which is produced in Canada, some idea is formed of the great importance of the manufacture of woollen goods in Canada.

Doubtless there will always be some grades of wool which our woollen manufacturers must import, just as in a great sheep country like the United States, with a duty on raw wool, manufacturers have to import certain grades which cannot be grown in that country. Every farmer should secure a copy of the report of the Sheep Commission, which is now available at the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. It shows the backward condition of the sheep industry of Canada at present, and indicates the profits that are to be made in raising sheep for meat and for wool. If Canada's trade policy is maintained, and the British Preference is not increased, there is bound to be an increase in the demand for wool from Canadian manufacturers, who, even under present conditions, obtain part of their requirements of Canadian wool.

The experience of the United States during the past thirty years has shown that the home market is the best market in which the American can sell his wool, and the same is true of Canada. Flavor the egg with sweet, wholesome food.

MORE PAPER MILLS FOR THIS COUNTRY

Eastern Provinces May Benefit From Several Industries Soon to be Established

Consumption of paper is growing to such an extent in the United States that Canada is becoming an ever-increasing factor in the situation. Newsprint enters the United States duty free, except that produced from Crown lands timber, so that 80 per cent. of Canadian paper enters the United States exempt from tariff tax, as that proportion is produced from privately owned lands.

May Have to Move Over Here

The International Paper Company has large areas of woodland in Canada, but, as they are all Crown lands, wood pulp made from that timber cannot be exported, and the International may be forced to build mills in Canada to get the use of these timber areas. It is naturally to be expected that they will want to make some use of their tracts. The trouble with the International Paper Company is its lack of sufficient wood lands in the United States. It has a capacity of 1,700 tons of newsprint daily, a good sales organization and good water powers. By scrapping its mills across the border, or perhaps putting them on special papers, and building mills in Canada, it could probably use its valuable water powers in more profitable ways.

There is now a slight over-production of newsprint in Canada and the United States, probably amounting to 50 tons daily. That situation helps to knock out the old, poorly arranged and ill-equipped mills.

Favorably Situated

The foregoing information has special significance for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The great paper market in the United States is New York, with Boston, Philadelphia and other Atlantic cities also using vast quantities of paper. Both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are exceptionally well situated for the shipment of paper to United States ports. With the development of the vast water powers of the two Eastern Provinces there is no reason why paper cannot be manufactured as advantageously in the Maritime Provinces as in Ontario or Quebec. A rapid expansion may be looked for in the paper business in the Maritime Provinces if the Canadian-Made Policy, that has actuated Federal and Provincial Governments during the past few years, is rigidly maintained. Every Canadian will subscribe to a policy which has as its object the export of the finished product from the Canadian paper mill rather than the pulp wood from private or Crown lands. A dollar's worth of pulp wood is multiplied into five dollars by the time the finished paper leaves Canada. That is, the money paid for the wood and the wages for cutting it are only about one-fifth the total amount paid for the different processes of manufacture from the wood to the finished product and the wages that are paid throughout the processes. From the fact that the wages paid for the manufacture of the paper are circulated several times over by the wage earner before they go back into capital, it is evident that we should retain all the processes in Canada.

Steadily Gaining

The proportion of pulpwood produced in Canada, which is consumed in manufacture in this country, is steadily gaining. Last year it amounted to 46.9 per cent. as against 44.2 per cent. in 1911. The effect of legislation restricting the export of manufactured pulpwood is noticeable in Quebec, as in 1912 only 55.5 per cent. was exported against 62 per cent. in 1911.

Under a reasonable trade policy there is bound to be a tremendous growth in the pulp and paper business in Canada in the next few years.

SELF-HELP IN THE FACTORY

Employer and Employee Co-operate in a Big Rubber Company

An employees' mutual benefit society has just been organized by one of Canada's largest rubber companies for the purpose of rendering assistance to employees in cases of sickness and death and of supplying them with medical attendance. Men are entitled to $4 per week for the first ten weeks they are incapacitated by sickness or accident; women and all others earning at the rate of 12 cents per hour will get $2.50 per week for the same period. A clause provides that no benefits shall be paid in cases where sickness is the result of intoxication or immoral conduct. The sum of $30 will be paid to assist in defraying the funeral expenses of a deceased member. The establishment of such societies as this improves the relations between employer and employee. Moreover, experts state that little difficulty will be encountered in adjusting a system of workmen's compensation to the conditions created by such societies.
