An Everyday Entertainment.

By RUTH CAMERON.

When I looked at a friend in the mirror one day I was struck by the difference in the mirrored image and the real face.

"You don't look at all the same in the mirror as you really do," I exclaimed. "You look much better in reality."

In return she examined my mirrored face. "Why, you're different, too," she said.

Since then I've looked at many people in many mirrors and find that the same is true in practically every case.

The majority look much better in reality. A few look less attractive, and many simply look different. I suppose this is due to some flaw in the mirror. But it seems to be true of all of them.

And even if we could each have a perfect mirror we would never see in it the face we turn to our friends. We would only see a specially composed mirror face. People who unexpectedly see themselves in a mirror often fail to recognize themselves. I know one woman, a trifle near-sighted I must admit, who dodged herself for two or three minutes in a department store mirror and finally was informed of her mistake and led away by a floor walker.

It's an interesting thought, isn't it, that we really never know just how we look? We go through life presenting a certain face to all about us and never know just what that face is. Think of it! We who are most intimately concerned and interested in its appearance never see it.

What about pictures, says someone? Pictures are worse than mirrors. One picture says one thing and another. Gather together a half dozen snap shots of yourself taken within a few months. Include a sit-for-you-

A Bronchial Cough, Perhaps Weak Throat Use "Catarrhazone"—Dead Sure Cure.

Wonderful Success Reported in Thousands of Bad Cases.

How many thousands are there who would gladly pay any sum to be cured of bronchitis or catarrh. Many could be cured if they would just use common sense in selecting their remedy.

Bronchitis of course is an inflammation of the bronchial tubes which were made for the passage of air alone, and neither the moisture of an atomiser nor the liquid of a cough syrup can get where the trouble really is. The diseased parts can only be reached by a remedy that can force its way through all the breathing organs. Doctors who have used "Catarrhazone" say it is the only rational cure for bronchitis. It cures by inhalation.

You breathe in its healing balsam, inhale its soothing antiseptic vapor and relief is immediate.

Simple to use, delightful and pleasant—nothing compares with Catarrhazone which is the cure of the day for all bronchial and throat troubles.

Mr. H. B. McLaughlin, the well-known representative of Parks and Blackwell, Toronto, says: "I have used Catarrhazone for years and can honestly say it is the only remedy that relieves me from a painful attack of Bronchial Catarrh. The inhaler for Catarrhazone is always in my pocket and I simply couldn't get along without it. I firmly believe Catarrhazone is a wonderful remedy."

Large size sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed $1.00; small size 50c. sample or trial size 25c. Sold by dealers everywhere.

The Rhinoceros.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

The rhinoceros is an armor clad cruiser, which frequents the plains and mountain-sides of Africa and is always in commission ready for battle.

There is no such thing as peace with the rhinoceros. He declared war against everything several thousand years ago and has been conducting hostilities ever since. When he discovers smoke on the horizon, he doesn't wait to see whether it is from friend or foe because he hasn't any of the former. He puts his head down with an explosive snort and wades in at full speed.

The rhinoceros is armed with one or two long sharp horns which stick straight up from his snout in a manner which would irritate any one who wiping his feet on him for a change. As a fair sized rhinoceros weighs upwards of two tons the human being whom he uses as a dog-mat is usually ruined by the process.

The rhinoceros has small red eyes and cannot see very well. This often enables his intended victim to step aside with a low giggle while the infuriated animal surges majestically on and is unable to find the way back. This trick is highly amusing, but as the natives of Africa have a very poor sense of humor, they do not avail themselves of this sort of fun as often as does the American who drives his automobile across the track four inches in front of an express train and then laughs at the engineer. The African native is painfully uneducated.

The rhinoceros cannot be taught to do pretty tricks like the elephant, being too independent and hostile. He is the bully of his territory and nothing surprises and pains him so much as to be compelled to stop and fall dead while engaged in trying to run over a small white man armed with a large gun.

MONTREAL, May 15.
Hon. F. D. Monk, M.P., is dead.

DETROIT, May 15.
A tank exploded this morning in the plant of the Mexican crude Rubber Company. Three men are dead, and ten missing, who may be buried in the debris.

BELFAST, May 15.
Another instance of the activity of Ulster volunteers in getting running came to light a few days ago, when the coast guards and police were exercising a vigilant outlook on the northeast coast, to prevent another raid. A number of autos were concentrated at a certain point, deepening the suspicions of the officials that a ship carrying contraband of war was expected. As a matter of fact this was a ruse designed to divert attention from a further distribution of guns which was accomplished.

LONDON, May 15.
Admitting that the low ministerial majority yesterday, had nothing to do with the conviction of the Liberal Party, the Morning Post regards the incident as showing that the Unionists are trying with all their might to defeat the Government's disastrous measure which it is trying to force on the country. "While there is life, there is hope," says the Post, urging English patriots to strain every nerve to arouse the country; it declares that Ulster must be given escape, without terms or conditions, from a Dublin parliament, short of which civil war is inevitable.

VERA CRUZ, May 15.
Mexican troops at Piedad barracks in Mexico City have revolted. Led by their major, the troops pronounced against Huerta in favor of Villa. Several of the officers in command, who refused to join were shot by the mutineers. Upon receipt of the news of the revolt, a detachment of General Blanquet's battalion carrying machine guns, was dispatched to the barracks. Before reaching there the men fled. They went towards the west, and it is supposed that their purpose is to join the Zapatists in the Altiplano mountains, or to effect a junction with them at Cuernavaca.

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferers and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Percie Johnson would provide for you this feared security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

AT THE NICKEL.

The week-end programme at the Nickel Theatre last night was one of general excellence and the large audiences were delighted with it. The programme opened with a travelogue entitled: "The Hairy Ainus," showing the lives of these strange people who at one time lived in Japan and who were driven to the Islands of the North.

Maurice Costello and Rosemary Theby did some clever acting in "The Weapon." There acting is difficult to surpass.

"Sisters All" is a story of Russian life not unknown in the present day. "The Will-be-Weds" is a splendid comedy. Miss Gardner sang, "Kiss Me Good Night" in her own attractive style and was tremendously applauded. Mr. McCarthy gave a pleasing rendition of "In the Heart of the City that this No Heart."

This evening programme will be repeated. Look out for Monday's performance.

REV. I

You invite correspondence to the question, "Are we living up to the Mount?" A careful study of the words and a glance at the conditions of modern life, as the precepts of the greater prophets, does not seem to be a long way from the Mount. The sermon or comment of several sermons, a manifesto of the Church, or Kingdom, these laws are observed in the details of daily life, and the basis of society will out, and creed, conduct will have to be and the only true, some of the Beatitudes, sermon begins, and with their modern Christ said, Blessed spirit, for theirs is Heaven.

The modern people are the rich in flesh, Kingdom of Earth. Christ said, Blessed for they shall inherit the Kingdom. The modern people are the millionaires, for they shall inherit the Kingdom. Blessed are they, for they shall be filled with the Holy Spirit. But much of this, says: Blessed are the hungry and thirsting, for they shall be filled. Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall be merciful. Blessed are the lowly, for they shall be exalted. Blessed are the peace-makers, for they shall be called the sons of God.
