

THE ELEPHANT

is the largest inhabitant of the forest in the world. This is an undisputed fact. SUNLIGHT SOAP has the largest sale of any Soap in the world. This, also, is an undisputed fact. The great value of the Elephant's tusks is well known, but far better known to good housewives is the great value of

Sunlight Soap

It enjoys a well-deserved popularity. Its mission is cleanliness—its standard is purity. Increasing leisure, and reducing work it is used by delighted housewives all over the world in preference to any other.

391st Day of the War

TO-DAY'S Messages.

11.15 A.M.

ANOTHER SAYVILLE FALSEHOOD.

BERLIN, To-day. Passengers who arrived at Amsterdam yesterday afternoon by the Holland American steamship Ryndam, brought report of a British transport, carrying 2,000 Canadian troops, being torpedoed, August 15th, off Scilly Islands. It is said about one thousand were saved. The Ryndam arrived at Rotterdam on August 2nd and has since sailed on the return voyage from New York to Europe. The report to Amsterdam requires only a few hours, though it is probable the Ryndam passengers who proceeded to Amsterdam reached there on August 22 or 23. It is possible, however, that the same steamer or date of the passengers' arrival at Amsterdam has been confused in the transmission of the wireless message from Berlin.

REPORT CONTRADICTED BY AUTHORITIES.

OTTAWA, To-day. The military authorities issued the following official statement regarding the above report: Between 21st July and 24th August only two troops ships with more than 300 troops aboard have been despatched from Canada, they both arrived safely at their destination. Moreover, every troopship carrying Canadian troops which was at sea on August 15th arrived safely at their destination. There is no Canadian troopship overdue. If the story coming via Sayville has any basis of truth it must refer to the torpedoing of the Canadian Northern steamship Royal Edward in the Aegean Sea, the report of which event reached Canada on August 17.

PRESIDENT WILSON HOPEFUL.

WASHINGTON, To-day. President Wilson has decided definitely to remain at Washington, until the situation between the States and Germany is cleared up. Officials have been urging him to go to Corvish, N. H., for a rest, but he has announced he will stay here pending the receipt of further word from Berlin. The President it was said authoritatively, has been led by statements of Count Von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, and Secretary Lansing reports received from the American Ambassador at Berlin, that a solution for the submarine controversy with Germany will be found. He is waiting, however, for the Imperial Government formally to disavow the attack on the Arabic and the assurance that lives of Americans traveling on unarmed merchantmen will not be endangered again. Count Von Bernstorff left to-day for Summer Embassy, on Long Island. He is still confident that within a short time a formal communication will reach

Washington from the Berlin Foreign Office disposing of the situation, growing out of the sinking of the Arabic and paving the way for an amicable adjustment of all issues between the American and the German Governments.

JAPAN'S OFFICIAL ASSURANCE.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Japan's decision to assist Russia by increasing her output of war munitions has been communicated officially to Petrograd. A telegram from Japan has notified Russia she is preparing to mobilize her entire industrial resources for this purpose.

ZEPPELINS PAINTED GREY.

PARIS, To-day. Germany's fleet of Zeppelins has been repainted leaden grey, similar to the color of battleships which renders it difficult to see them even when flying beneath the clouds. A telegram from Zurich, published by the Milan Stampa says during the recent flight over Lake Constance Zeppelins appeared in their new dress. The latest models resemble a large fish. Both ends taper so that they have lost to some extent their familiar cigar shape.

A WILFULLY UNFRIENDLY ACT.

BERLIN, To-day. The Overseas News Agency says, Bulgaria, previously reported to have signed a treaty with Turkey, has postponed the ratification of the agreement on account of the sharp warning from the Entente Allies. The News Agency says Bulgaria has postponed for some days the signing of the treaty with Turkey, the Quadruple Entente having notified her that such action at the present time would be regarded as a wilfully "unfriendly act." Nevertheless the two powers are in complete agreement.

SEEKING INFORMATION ABOUT PERMITS.

WASHINGTON, To-day. A request for information as to the progress of private negotiations for the safe conduct of American ships from neutral countries was forwarded to London on Saturday by the British Embassy. Persistent reports of brokers in London securing permits for such shipments have led to considerable activity by trade advisers of the State Department, which failed thus far to secure definite results.

CHOLERA IN GERMANY.

BERLIN, To-day. Owing to two cases of cholera along the River Oder and Spree, the Prefect of Police has issued a warning to the populace against using unboiled water from these rivers.

1.45 P.M.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON RECRUITING.

LONDON, To-day. The News of the World says that a Cabinet Committee, consisting of Lord Selbourne, Marquis Crewe, Winston Spencer Churchill, Austen Chamberlain, Lord Curzon, and Arthur Henderson is preparing a report on the question of recruiting and on enlistment. The newspaper hints that the report will recommend that the United Kingdom follow the South African precedent under which each locality is obliged to furnish its quota of men.

GERMAN ADVANCE AT STANDSTILL.

LONDON, To-day. The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: for two or three days the German advance towards Dvinsk and Vinnia has been practically at a standstill but it is admitted that the Russian resistance to the West of the latter town merely aims at holding back the enemy until the work of evacuation is completed. The same is the case with Grodno and Bialostok. Generally speaking the Russian retirement is taking place with deliberation and tranquility and will be continued until a position has been reached on which we are authoritatively assured, it has been decided to make a firm stand, where that position is we have yet to learn.

GERMAN TROOPS NEAR ROUMANIAN FRONTIER.

LONDON, To-day. The Bucharest correspondent of the Times says according to information from trustworthy sources 200,000 German troops have arrived at Brasso in Hungary near the Rumanian frontier during the last week.

DESTRUCTION OF LONDON DEMANDED BY GERMANS.

LONDON, To-day. A very decided campaign in favor of more air raids on England has been carried on in the German press, evening Berlin papers demanding Government to turn all their attention possible to attacks on the British people in their homes and declare that nothing less than the destruction of London will satisfy Germany.

Bis Grace at Bell Island

Special to Evening Telegram.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 30. Archbishop Roche delivered a very powerful and practical discourse from the pulpit of St. Michael's yesterday. His Grace began by referring to just a year ago when he addressed them on the occasion of the Jubilee. Now he was present in his official capacity as Head of the Catholic Church in Newfoundland. The late lamented and venerated Archbishop Howley was presiding then; now the call from the highest seat of apostolic authority had come to him though unworthy. In replying to the address and presentation, he thanked the people for the grand reception accorded him, as he was fully aware that Bell Island would not be behind any other place, and he was glad to state that his expectations were realized. The growth of the industrial centre was firm and strong both materially and morally. We were not met here by those great disturbances which prevail in the great marts of labor. He might imagine that the people for the least we expect accord, when the Empire is struggling for her existence, confronted with a great division on the question of labor. It is gratifying to find here on Bell Island such accord, peace and harmony prevailing amongst all classes. The employers respected their employees and mutual harmony prevails. His Grace paid a merited tribute to the large corporations working here for their interest in the workmen and their families. The obligations which labor and capital entail are carried out and fully recognized by all parties. His Grace was consoled and pleased as Bishop of the Church at the standard of morals prevailing on the Island. The people were making good along the lines of morality and right living. We must not lose sight of the Eternal while providing for our material wants. The Gospel of the Sunday showed how we could not serve two masters, God and mammon. He hoped they would continue to seek first the Kingdom of God and his justice and all things else would be added unto them.

UNDER THE PAINT—A GRAND DRAMA.

An all-feature picture programme will be given at Nickel theatres and patrons will no doubt attend in large numbers. The great attraction is a beautiful three-part Vitaphone story of the stage, entitled "Under the Paint." Helen Gardner, the well-known actress, is in the lead and she is supported by the cleverest assistants. The story is of a rich young man who falls in love with an actress, but they are separated by his father. She becomes a great star, and then an incident reunites them. The story is a fascinating one and it is told in a charming manner. The acting is about the finest ever seen in St. John's. The title is "Our Mutual Girl" and other splendid films, making one of the best programmes ever given at the Nickel. Be sure and attend to-day—and go early.

What the War Has Shown Prof Hobhouse.

"Germany is not materialistic or irreligious as people say. She has a faith, and an infernal faith it is, too—the vilest birth of time! Shelley might justly have called it. Now I, for one, never understood this till the war began," writes Prof. L. Hobhouse in the Contemporary Review.

"The course of the war has made me feel that there is here not the break-up of a civilization, but the clash of two civilizations with two religions—on the one hand, the god is Force, and the other a god whose service is perfect Freedom.

If We Had Been More Faithful Servants.

"Between these religions there was bound to come a decision. If we had been more faithful servants, perhaps, we might have conquered by moral means. If the Western nations had shown the world the example of a life embodying in the arts of peace that same Perfect Freedom, they would have converted the world.

"At the beginning I feared that we had blundered into a war devoid of historic necessity through surrender to the militaristic elements among ourselves. As events came crowding on, I, for one, saw—and I am sure that countless others had much the same experience—that the struggle was quite different from anything I supposed, that essentially it was not a fight between one country and another, but a struggle for the elements of a free and human civilization as we understand the terms. In such a struggle many things may go under, but as long as we fight in this spirit we shall save our souls alive.

"There is always danger after a war of the reactionary parties coming to the top. As to this, I should only like to say in passing that Burt, the economist, who insisted on enlisting as a private, and has pretty good means, therefore, of sampling the temper of the men in his battalion, tells me that while they are perfectly resolute about the task before them, they are equally resolved that there shall be no more wars or military service if they can help it. James—an ex-Pacifist like myself—tells me the same thing of the French soldiers.

"But let us grant the possibility that out of the confusion of parties may come political wreckage. Unfortunate, of course. Still, I claim that if we have saved our souls alive we shall in the end sweep away political reaction and reconstruct the movement of liberation. People will have come to feel much more genuinely about many things—nationality, for example, and public right—than ever they did in the past. I can conceive a new Holy Alliance coming about, which should not be anti-democratic, but should be more like Mazzini's dream. That, however, is as it may be. All I contend is that the vital element is safe. There had grown up in Europe a giant Power, which, with all the science and material culture of the West, rejected its new ideals and lived by a light of its own. Had we been infinitely wiser and better and better than we are we might have wrestled with it successfully on a higher plane. But Germany brought the question suddenly to an issue of life and death.

A Calmity, but Not Corruption.

"It is a calamity, but a calamity that has befallen us from within of which nations perish. The loss of young life overwhelming, and the destruction of so many of its best must impoverish Europe for thirty years. The surplus of wealth that we needed for social reorganization is mopped. But under all this the essential truth remains. Civilization—our free Western civilization—has saved its soul, and shall live."

McGILL MEN FOR THE FRONT.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—Ten thousand people gathered on McGill University campus this evening, when His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught reviewed and addressed the 333 men who comprise No. 3 Company, McGill University Battalion, going to the front to reinforce the sadly decimated numbers of the Princess Patricia's Regiment. Eight hundred members of the McGill auxiliary battalion training corps, turned out with No. 3 Company.

The Duke's address contained a personal note, as was to have been expected when he touched upon the glory won by the Princess Patricia's Regiment. Eight hundred members of the McGill auxiliary battalion training corps, turned out with No. 3 Company.

The Duke, who was accompanied by Lieut.-Colonel Stanton, A.D.C., and Major Duff, returned to Ottawa shortly after the review.
