OWNER OF ESTATES IN ENGLAND DIES IN WANT

Medicine Hat, Sept. 9.—Though the owner of a vast estate in England, Fred Winterbottom, who was found dead here today, died in absolute poverty. For years he has been a notable character around the city, sleeping wherever he happened to be when night overtook him. He came of a notable English family, but refused to accept a pension from his property. He was found dead in a local garage. Whisky was the cause of his downfall and death.

Dr. Telford Goes to Woodstock
Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 9.—Rev. W. B. Telford, whose last pastorate was at Old, Alberta, will likely be the next pastor of the Oxford Street Baptist Church, in succession to Rev. W. C. Weir, who resigned some time ago. The congregation of the church have decided to give a call to the Alberta pastor, and it is likely he will accept.

WM. RANDOLPH HEARST, NEW YORK EDITOR, SAYS WILSON WILL WIN

Says Roosevelt Has Failed to Unite the Progressive Element of Both Old Parties—Condemns the Weak Democratic Platform

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Evening Standard today publishes the following:

Mr. William Randolph Hearst, the well-known American newspaper man and politician, today made a critical analysis of the unprecedented political situation in the United States and in discussing the chances of the candidates in the race for the presidency showed how Dr. Woodrow Wilson in all likelihood would be Mr. Taft's successor.

In doing so, Mr. Hearst expressed the opinion that the new party movement would not be successful until the progressive wings of both the Democratic and Republican parties combined had formed an independent party of consolidated progressives. This united party, Mr. Hearst said, would succeed and would exercise a potent influence on the future of American politics.

It seems to me," Mr. Hearst began, "that the report in New York that, in view of the Vermont state elections, Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt may retire from the presidential contest in favor of Mr. Taft, is a suggestion of an entirely irresponsible suggestion. If it means anything definite, it probably means that a good many independent Republicans would like to see both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt retire in favor of some third person, but I do not think there is the slightest possibility of such a thing happening.

"The independent movement in the United States is a real and powerful force.

Reasons for Accepting T. R. "Mr. Roosevelt undoubtedly realized the extent and independence of this third party sentiment, and when he was defeated for the Republican nomination at Chicago he at once offered himself as the leader of this third party movement. He was gladly accepted as the leader on account of his vigorous personality and because of the strength of his following in the radical wing of the Republican party, also because the strength of the third party movement would be greatly increased by the leadership of a man who had twice been president of the United States.

"Mr. Roosevelt adopted in their entirety the principles which the Independent League advocated, subtracting little or nothing from the national platform it adopted at Chicago in 1908.

"The advocates of this third party movement are enthusiastic. They believe absolutely in the necessity of a third party to free the country of corruption control of both old parties. They believe that both of the old parties are in the grip of privileged interests and that the struggle of the two special interests cannot be broken. They also believe that there is no desire on the part of the leaders of the old parties to terminate this association with the privileged interests, as it is a profitable association and enables them to get large campaign contributions.

Combination Impossible "The third party supporters believe ardently in their program, the main purpose of which is to take the control of government out of the hands of party machines and privileged interests and restore it to the hands of the people. Nearly all the measures of the third party platform are aimed directly at that and you will see, therefore, how impossible it is for that

GEN. ARTHUR MACARTHUR DIES WHILE SPEAKING

Was Addressing Survivors of His Old Regiment When He Suddenly Succumbs

Lapses Into Unconsciousness and Death Follows in a Few Moments

Milwaukee, Wis., September 10.—General Arthur MacArthur, retired, former commander in chief of the army, was suddenly stricken with acute indigestion while speaking at the reunion of his old regiment, the Twenty-ninth Wisconsin, at 10 o'clock tonight.

He had been in ill health, the heat was intense, and he sank back in his chair, saying he could not continue. He lapsed into unconsciousness and died in a few minutes.

With the stroke came General MacArthur was recalling the deeds of the Twenty-fourth Wisconsin Volunteers in the Atlanta campaign.

Within a few minutes after the venerable General fell to the speakers' platform in the midst of his address, Edwin B. Parson, a Captain and member of the regiment, suffered a paralytic stroke on the right side from the shock of seeing his comrade fall, and had to be carried from the hall.

MAINE TURNS BACK INTO REPUBLICAN COUNTRY

William T. Haines of Waterville is Elected Governor Over Fred W. Plaisted

The New Legislature is Expected to be Republican by Small Majority

Portland, Maine, Sept. 9.—Maine turned back to the Republican party in the state election today. William T. Haines of Waterville being elected governor over Governor-elect Fred W. Plaisted, his Democratic opponent, who sought a second term, while the Republicans gained one of the congressional seats.

The corresponding vote for 1910 was: Fernald (Republican) 65,556; Plaisted (Democratic) 67,501.

These results show a Republican gain of nine per cent. and a Democratic loss of 3 per cent. If the same percentage maintained through the state, Haines' election is assured by about 3,750 plurality, compared with 4,600 given in 1910.

Returns for the legislature showed eight Republicans and 28 Democrats. The Republicans claim 51 seats in the house of 151. The last legislature was heavily Democratic in both branches. The Republicans claim to have won their victory for the head of the ticket, their claim being supported by the administration.

BRITONS SCRUTINIZE THE MORMON MISSIONARIES

English Home Office Perturbed by Activities of Latter Day Saints

Watch Is Being Kept on the Movement of American Mormon Agents

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The home office is carefully watching the movements of American Mormon agents who are carrying on a propaganda of hitlerio unequalled magnitude and thoroughness all over England.

Great Britain is now divided into 13 conferences, each of which has as its head a president. These have under their control a certain number of elders, who again are assisted by teachers and priests. Thus every part of Great Britain is included in the organization, and there is not a part of the country but what will be visited at some time or other during the next few months by these well-spoken men from Utah, who it should be remembered, are carefully chosen for work in the mission field for the twin qualities of diplomacy of speech and that subtle magnetic power that powerfully affects the young men to whom they pay special attention.

Many Missionaries How complete is the organization of the Utah Church may be gathered from their official organ, the Millennial Star, published monthly in Liverpool, which gave the official figures recently for one year's proselytizing campaign in the United Kingdom. This states that there are now at work 1,175 active missionaries, and that they are gaining the month under review 35,545 houses visited, 25,143 gospel conversations were recorded, with not fewer than 36,000,000 leaflets and 46,722 books were person-

OLD SUPERSTITIONS OF THE CHINESE PASSING

Chinese medicine may be regarded to some extent as a survival of the dark ages, much of it being based upon a belief that all diseases are due to supernatural causes and are mainly occasioned by offended evil spirits which the native practitioner seeks to propitiate or drive off by charms, incantations, or other devices.

Disguise Real Mission But these elders do not come openly as Mormons—and therein is one of the most subtle dangers connected with this haunting campaign. They know that if they did so, in most cases their reception would be a hostile one, as "Mormonism" and "polygamy" are synonymous terms in the minds of most.

Therefore, they call themselves "Latter Day Saints." Carrying a conspicuous banner, they enter the homes of the end of which will be found a "ready reference" to texts of scripture apparently supporting a plurality of wives and well dressed, these men present the appearance of evangelical gospel or church workers.

Moreover, they distribute leaflets that are well calculated to deceive the most cautious. Of the millions that were sown like tares during last year, not a few have been sown in the minds of the people, or indicated that those who distributed them were agents of the Utah Mormon Church. Further, these leaflets are liberally bespattered with texts, and set forth that they are the "first principles of the Gospel." At the bottom of them in small type, is found the simple announcement that "meetings are held" at a certain address, and the whole concludes with "Searchers after Truth are cordially invited."

BINGER LOCK WILL BE MADE NAVIGABLE

Berlin, Sept. 10.—At Bingen on the Rhine, the dangerous Binger Lock is to be made more easily navigable. The Rhine, which is only navigable for large ships as far as Strasbourg, is to be made navigable as far as Basel. The Mosel and Saar, tributary rivers of the Rhine, are to be deepened and canalized as well. By this means the industrial district of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg will gain immensely. These provinces have been developing their industries by leaps and bounds during the last ten years and will get a great impetus by enjoying canal freights.

OPERATES ON McNAMARA

Appendicitis Sends Dynamiter to Prison Hospital

San Quentin, Cal., Sept. 10.—James B. McNamara, serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison here for dynamiting the Los Angeles Times, was operated on Thursday at the prison hospital for appendicitis. This became known today with the announcement that McNamara was out of danger and would recover.

"McNamara is in no danger," said Warden Hoyte tonight, "and will be out of the hospital in a few days."

Steamship Hits Alaska Reef

Ketchikan, Alaska, Sept. 10.—The steamship Worthland of the Northland Steamship company, struck on Pond reef, Tongass narrows, late last night and is hard and fast on the rock. The vessel is resting on its side, and is exposed to the sea. Five hundred tons of ore in her cargo has been discharged to lighters, and it is believed the Northland will be floated on the next high tide.

The Northland had the barge Washington, loaded with ore, saved from the wreck of the barge Charger, in tow, and when the steamer struck the barge overran her, inflicting some damage to her stern. It is believed the Northland will be able to continue her voyage to Seattle, where repairs can be made.
