Great Development in Iron, Steel and Agricultural Industries-Increasing Influx of Settlers.

New York, Nov. 3 .- Bradstreet's istue of Saturday says:

In agriculture Canadians have been far from idle. There has been a large increase this year in the cereal production. In Manitoba and the Northwest, which are inclined to claim to be "the future granary of the empire," the production of all grains this year exceeded for the first time the 100 .-000,000-bushel mark. The settlers who went into the West the past ten months did not break ground for crops this year, and they, with the many others now going into the country, will cause a still further increase in the

While the Americans have been fairly liberal consumers of Canadian goods, Canadian trade with the United States shows a much larger expansion in imports than in exports since 1896. The imports from the United States of dutiable goods rose from $29,000,000 in 1896 to $60,000,000 in 1902. Free goods in the same time rose from $29,000,000 to $60,000,000. The imports of dutiable goods from Great Britain rose in the same time from $24,000,000 to $35,000,000 and of free goods from $8,000,000 to $14,-000,000. These figures are especially interesting, owing to the fact that they cover the period that the preferential duties on British goods have been in In 1896 $17,000,000 duty was collected in connection with the $8,000,000. London, Nov. 3.—It is rather surprising that Mr. Chamberlain's prospective visit to South Africa excites an enormous amount of comment, not Kentuckian's Brutal Treatment only in this country, but throughout Europe. FROM ANOTHER STANDPOINT

London, Nov. 3. - Mr. Chamberlain's determination to visit South Africa to see for himself what is going on there has not unnaturally received a general chorus of approval. "A" Company, of the Seventh Regipractice Saturday at the Cove ranges. They did not follow the old manner of practicing, but adopted a new style, which made it more interesting and enjoyable. They fired at the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges in the usual way and the company was then divided into two sections which competed with each other in firing upon disappearing targets while advancing and retiring. Under these conditions the men made some very fine scores. No. 1 section won by 18 points, but No. 2 section had the greater number of hits. After the shooting supper was served at the range and the company enjoyed themselves for an hour or more. No. 1 section was made up as follows: Corp. Sutherland, Corp. Donald, Pte. Fitzgerald, Corp. Among the publications that came to our exchange desk this week is that little annual messenger, Dodd's Alman-ac, published by the Dodds Medicine Company, Limited. This is its eighth annual appearance, and its growth in the estimation of the public is attested by the fact that in the eight years of its life its circulation has grown from thousands to many millions, and that it is now printed in many languages, and is found in almost every Englishspeaking home, as well as in nearly every quarter of the civilized world.

Dodd's Almanac differs somewhat from other publications of the kind, in that it is filled from cover to cover useful information. The data, weather indications, etc., are prepared by expert scientists, and have established a reputation for acucracy, while the antiquated joke that has made the ordinary almanac a byword, is ban-ished from its columns, which are filled instead with simple, straightforward talks on the rules of health and inter-esting accounts of some of the various cures that have been accomplished by Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

And it might be remarked here that many people who are prone to overlook such reading simply because the cures are the work of what they call a proprietary medicine, devote much of their time to gorging their minds with less interesting, less wonderful and far less the way of reading matter.

But aside from its value as a book of reference to the healthy and sick alike, Dodd's Almanac is a wonderful evidence of how an enterprise will flourish when it is founded on merit. As the circulation of Dodd's Almanac has grown from thousands to millions, so has the domain of Dodd's Kidney Pills extended. Eleven years ago they were placed on the market in Toronto, after years spent in the investigation Kidney Disease and its cure had led to their discovery. They had their own "A" Company, of the Seventh Regi- way to make, and they made it. As ment, had their annual ball firing one man or woman was benefited by them he or she told another. Their fame has spread till it covers one continent and has made inroads into every civilized country in the world, and the Dodds Medicine Company has grown into one of the largest concerns of its kind, and we might even say one of the largest influences for good the American continent. And all this immense structure has been built by he hands of those whom Dodd's Kidney Pills have raised from beds of sickness and suffering. Each one told others. That is the secret of it all.

But it is not the intention here to go nto the theories on which the Dodd's Remedies work, nor to mention any of the wonderful cures they have accomplished. Those are now almost com-mon knowledge, for, like Dodd's Alnanac, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, have found their way into every community and into almost every home. The intention is to simply welcome Dodd's Almanac for 1903 and to commend it to the consideration of the public generally.
