DIAMOND ROBBERY AT NEW YORK CITY NETTED BIG SUM

Gems to the Value of $300,000 Taken From a Pawnbroker's Shop.

Thieves Tunnel Into Place, Evade Burglar Alarms, and Make Clean Getaway.

New York, March 16.—Uncut diamonds and diamond jewelry valued at $250,000, perhaps $300,000, were stolen on Saturday night from the vault of Martin Simons & Sons, pawnbrokers, 94 Hester street. The thieves tunneled under a cellar wall, popped up through the floor and got into the vault by making a hole through two feet of brick. In doing this they evaded a network of burglar alarm wires, and made no sound that was heard outside. They came and went through a hole in the ground so small that a child would have to squirm to pass through it. The contents of the vault were worth about $300,000. Negotiable bonds worth $130,000 they cast aside, and $100,000 in negotiable notes they scattered on the floor of the vault or jammed in pigeon-holes. Neither did they take many thousands of dollars worth of gold watches. Diamonds were their game. The bundle of loot that they carried away must have staggered them. Nobody saw them go. Because of recent East Side robberies there is a special detective squad scattered through that territory. The store is protected also by a patrol system. Yet the perpetrators of this huge robbery worked their will and went away, and there isn't a clue except tools and gloves that they left in the store.

The janitor of the building, descending tonight to get some coal, found a little hole through the coal-bin wall, by which the burglars had entered the pawnbroker's cellar. He flew to tell the police, and that the burglary was discovered.

Thought Impregnable.

The vault in which the pledged articles were kept is so strong and so well protected by electric wires that Simons believed it impenetrable. It is 9 feet high, 12 feet long, and about 10 feet wide. It has a double steel door with a combination lock. The burglars didn't bother with the door or the lock. They didn't have to. All around the vault is a casing of plaster. Beneath it is solid masonry, clear down to the cellar.

The top of the vault, underneath the brick shell, is a solid steel sheet made of regular railroad rails, laid side by side lengthwise of the vault. Everywhere outside the vault are wires of the burglar alarm system. The walls of the store are wired. The floor is wired. The cellar is netted with electric wires, five inches apart, and tampering with any of them would bring a flock of patrolmen to the store. The burglars dug every wire, store. The burglars dug every wire, store.

When the burglars reached the pawnbroker's shop they found a step ladder conveniently near. On it they mounted the vault, and once on top started digging. First they tried to dig their way into the vault near the centre of the top surface. They did get through the brick and bumped into the steel rails. At that point, that point of attack they shifted to a point at the top of the side wall, whether the rails did not extend. They made a big hole in the brick as they penetrated the side wall, and laid bare the wall of the vault itself.

A lot of misunderstanding and misapprehension was cleared up.

FRIEDMAN TREATS TWELVE PATIENTS AND LEAVES FOR N.Y.

Between 60 and 70 Sufferers Sought Treatment by Scientist. Doctors From Out of Town Not Well Pleased With Reception.

After spending the day in this city and inoculating twelve sufferers with the new serum, which he believes to be a cure for tuberculosis, Dr. Friedrich Friedman, German scientist, upon whom the eyes of the civilized world have been cast since the announcement of his discovery, left Saturday night for New York, where he will continue to give treatments.

Arrival Not Pre-Announced.

With the exception of a few persons, the arrival of Dr. Friedman in London on Friday night at a late hour was unexpected. The Londoners, who went to Ottawa to witness his demonstration there, returned with the information that although a pressing invitation had been extended Dr. Friedman to come here, he did not expect to be able to extend his Canadian trip this far.

Was To Be 10 O'Clock.

Ten o'clock at the Institute of Public Health was the hour at first set. Later it was found necessary to postpone the clinic until the afternoon. It was given between three and four.

In order that they should benefit by such advantages as usually come to those who arrive early, many physicians, medical students, relatives and friends of ailing ones, besides a throng of the curious, gathered at the Institute of Public Health on Ottawa street at an early hour. Contrary to expectations none were admitted.

Remained Outside.

Even the out-of-town doctors, some of whom had come from places as far distant as Sarnia, were not extended the slightest courtesy. Those in charge at the institute declared that their orders provided for such a reception, and that they were without alternative.

The weather was not pleasant. A drizzling rain descended intermittently. Preceding days had brought warm weather, the ground had lost its winter frost, and lay soft and wet, and perfect gusts of chilling March wind. It was an unfortunate day to stand outside, as hundreds did at the institute.

Went Away Discouraged.

Some of the doctors who had come from other places to gain whatever added knowledge they could for the benefit of their patients, are said to have been so offended and discouraged by the chilliness of their reception that

FLOOD WASHED AWAY MANY HYDRO POLES

New Hamburg Was Without Power For Some Time.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Walkerton, March 17.—The turn to cooler weather was welcomed here yesterday and today, as the Saugeen was rising so rapidly that it was feared that considerable damage would result. The ice went away with a rush on Saturday afternoon, and the water rose rapidly, flooding many cellars. There is a lot of snow and water in the swamps yet to come, and had the mild spell continued a big flood would certainly have resulted.

DID $5,000 DAMAGE.

[Special to The Advertiser.] New Hamburg, March 17.—The water in the Nith reached the highest mark here, yesterday since 1882. There was an immense jam above Stewart's mill, but the cement structure stood the strain. As a result of the hydro poles being carried away the town was without power for a time. About $5,000 damage was done.

WOMAN WAS SWEEPED OVER THE CATARACT

Slipping Into River Near Brink of American Falls, She Was Whisked to Death.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 16.—Miss Josephine Kigittich, of 53 Titus street, Buffalo, N. Y., slipped into the river from Luna Island and was carried over the American fall at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. The accident was witnessed by Mr. Wogsick Naciejowski and Miss Mary Naciejowski, of Buffalo. So far as the reservation authorities could learn, no one else saw the unfortunate woman go over the falls.

According to the story told the authorities by the two surviving members of the party, the three Polish women came here from Buffalo early this afternoon and wandered over to Luna Island. Miss Kigittich walked toward a clump of bushes near the river's edge, and as she did so pointed out to a sign warning the public to beware of going on the ice near the edge of the island and warned her companions to heed it. Next moment the two women heard a scream.

Turning, Mrs. and Miss Naciejowski saw their companion struggling in the river. Three seconds later her body disappeared over the falls. At the point where the woman fell into the river the current is very swift. It is only about 50 feet above the brink of the cataract.

Immediately after the accident, Mrs. and Miss Naciejowski reported the matter to Reservation Secretary Chas. N. Atwood. They were greatly agitated, and the official had difficulty in learning their story. They were placed on a Buffalo-bound trolley and returned home.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Stratford, March 16.—While driving to the Stratford market early on Saturday morning, Thomas Woods, a farmer of Ellice Township, discovered the body of James Gallagher, of Hamilton, lying dead beside the roadside. Besides a widow he leaves seven daughters and two sons to mourn his loss, most of the children residing in Hamilton. Coroner J. P. Rankin, of Stratford, deemed an inquest unnecessary.

GAS MAIN BROKEN IN FLOOD AT BRANTFORD

Hundreds of People Had to Eat Cold Meals Following Washout.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Brantford, March 15.—Hundreds of people suffered from cold here today, as a result of the high water of the Grand River washing away the big gas main which is the main supply to this city. The break occurred in exactly the same place as it did during the freshet last year. The pipe projects across Cooksfoot bridge, and runs along the top of the Grand River valley. The water went down and broke the pipe. The people today had to resort to all kinds of makeshift measures to keep warm. Mayor Hartman keeps an investigation into the gas company's method of laying the pipe. The water in the river went down, and the waterworks system was imperilled. A close watch is being kept on the dikes, which are reported in good shape.

Several inches of mud washed over the track was responsible for the derailment of a Brantford and Hamilton radial car, about Anker early this morning. The passengers were transferred to another car, being forced to walk ankle deep in mud some distance.
