THE LONDON ADVERTISER.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Weak and Dizzy Spells.

Heart Would Beat Something Awful.

Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells which come over people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but eventually they will come frequently, and at the same time more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills before their case becomes hopeless, for they have no equal for restoring the heart to its usual strength, and making the nerves firm and steady.

Mrs. Len. Kinney, Moose Mountain, N.B., writes: "I was troubled with weak and dizzy spells, and my heart would beat something awful. I got so I would try one medicine, and then another, but nothing did me any good until I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I can safely say they did me more good than anything I ever took. My friends often ask me what I have been taking, and I always say 'Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.' I tell all my friends who say their heart troubles them, to take your pills."

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated
Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what all your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath—remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

JURY HOLDS DRUG DR. W. J. STEVENSON RESPONSIBLE FOR WILL BE INDORSED M'ROBERT'S DEATH BY LABOR COUNCIL

Brings In Verdict of Death by a Self-Administered Overdose of Morphine.

DRUG VENDOR UNKNOWN

Mysterious "Wilson" Given as Source of Powder Supply—Six Witnesses Testify.

"That the deceased, Percy McRoberts, came to his death from the effects of an overdose of morphine, which, we believe, according to the evidence submitted, to have been self-administered."

The above verdict was brought in by the jury empanelled by Coroner Dr. A. V. Becker to inquire into the death of Percy McRoberts, a linenman, who died last Thursday morning at 252 Wellington street. After only a short adjournment the jury brought in their verdict. Six witnesses testified.

The first witness called was A. J. Slack, analyst at the Institute of Public Health. He swore that the stomach of McRoberts submitted to him for analysis, contained an alkaloid which corresponded to morphine. The powder found in the room was morphine sulphate, the same drug as that in the stomach. There was no sign of cocaine.

Dr. Gordon Jepson, who conducted the post-mortem, was the next witness. When he arrived at the residence where McRoberts died life had already expired, death having resulted about half an hour previous. The powder was found on the dresser four or five feet away from the bed upon which McRoberts was lying. The body was face upwards, and in a natural position. Two young men were present in the room at the time of his entrance. He was not acquainted with their identity. A liquor bottle which was found beside the bed contained water. Both lungs and the tissues covering the brain were congested. Otherwise conditions were normal. Indications pointed strongly to the fact that death had resulted from asphyxia.

Pill Box on Table. He had known deceased for seven or eight years, and was a roomer at 252 Wellington street. He testified that McRoberts had come to the house about 10:30 o'clock, and had inquired for one of his roomers, Harold Vandecar. McRoberts was accompanied by his brother-in-law, and they had finally gone upstairs to Vandecar's room. He stated that there was a pill box on the table containing some white powder. Finally becoming tired he lay down on the bed. McRoberts, he asserted, had by this time picked up an egg cup which he proceeded to fill with some of the powder. Water was added to the contents, and McRoberts drank the mixture, remarking, "that will make me feel good now."

Asked for Needle. Beside himself and McRoberts, three other men, White, Pryson, and Andrews were present. He testified also that McRoberts took another dose of the mixture and then requested that someone get him a hypodermic needle. This was secured from some source, after which McRoberts rolled up his sleeve and injected the contents into his arm. This was about midnight, the witness asserted. After the injection McRoberts lay down on the bed. Continuing, the witness asserted that being unable to sleep in the room because of the undue commotion he had moved to the room below. Upon awakening in the morning he had returned to the upper room and found the occupants asleep.

"Wilson" Supplied Drug. Harold Vandecar then gave his testimony. McRoberts was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Albert Pierce, and Harry Andrews. McRoberts was apparently sober. Vandecar corroborated the statements of the former witness. The morphine which he stated he had placed on the dresser by the name of "Wilson," with whom he was not acquainted. Wilson, he alleged, had the morphine in his possession.

Unable to Arouse Him. In the morning McRoberts was still sleeping, and repeated attempts failed to rouse him. As he and Andrews were dressing they had noticed that the lips of the sleeper were slowly becoming blue. It was then that they were summoned, and McRoberts had expired before medical aid arrived.

Had Been Drinking. Albert Price, the brother-in-law of McRoberts, swore that on the night in question he and McRoberts frequently drank from a bottle of liquor. McRoberts had asserted that he owed him some money, and that he intended to get it that night. When intended to reach the room the influence of liquor caused him to become drowsy, and he fell asleep on the floor at the foot of the bed. That was all that happened of the evening's happenings. In the morning he was awakened by a street car. It was then probably 6 o'clock. Failing to awake his brother-in-law, at the remonstrance of Vandecar, who advised him not to disturb him, he left the house for his home. He received no intimation of the death until some time later.

Mary Jane Mack, a resident of the house, testified that she was in her room at the time the men entered the house and knew nothing of the proceedings.

The jury empanelled were: Messrs. C. F. Reid (foreman), J. E. Jury, Percy Ashton, Arthur Mann, Theodore Thomas, Albert Lawson, B. Lortie, Benj. Trieb and Stewart Marshall.

Ex-Alderman To Have Support of the Union Men in the Mayoralty Race.

OPPOSE LOAN SYSTEM

Proposal To Lend Grobb Manufacturing Company $25,000 Turned Down by Unionists.

Ex-Ald. Dr. W. J. Stevenson will be endorsed by the trades and labor council for the mayoralty if he chooses to make the race. At the trades and labor council on Wednesday night the election committee was asked by unanimous vote of the council to meet Dr. W. J. Stevenson and offer him the endorsement of the trades and labor council if he will be a candidate for mayor. One of the delegates expressed the opinion that the Grobb Manufacturing Company would have been elected had he received the endorsement of the trades and labor council, but before his candidature was announced the information of the council had gone to Mayor Graham.

Oppose Grobb Bylaw. The labor men voted to oppose the proposed industrial bylaw to lend $25,000 to the Grobb Manufacturing Company, proprietors of the London Foundry, unless the company makes a right-about-face in its attitude towards organized labor. Organizer Lucas, Hamilton, of the Ironworkers' Union in the demand that the London Foundry be unionized.

One delegate moved that the council do not endorse the bylaw unless the company change its attitude on the matter. Delegate Jacobs, at once moved an amendment declaring that the motion was not strong enough.

"I move that we knock it, and knock it hard, and show them that 2,000 labor men will go solidly against them unless they unionize," he said. "They put an ad in the papers for 25 machinists. They couldn't get them into their shop. It was just a boast for themselves to make a hit with the industrial committee," said Mr. Jacobs.

Union Labor Only. One of the delegates asked whether union labor was going to be used exclusively on the new labor temple to be erected by the Arbeiter Ring. Unless such was the case, the Trades and Labor Council would not in any way support the project. Delegate S. Gallant, a member of the Arbeiter Ring, explained the policy of that organization, and assured the delegates that labor would be employed in building the temple. He asked them to give what support they could, by the purchase of shares in the stock of the building.

Mr. J. A. Edy, who asked the support of the council as a candidate for alderman, raised some discussion when he pointed out that on the temperance question, if elected, he would not be bound by the dictates of the Trades and Labor Council. He was a temperance man, and would vote accordingly if temperance unopposed came up. Delegate Jacobs pointed out that the Trades and Labor Council had nothing whatever to do with temperance, religious or moral reform questions, but that if Mr. Edy received the endorsement of the Trades and Labor Council he would have to be bound by their policy on all matters respecting labor. This was satisfactory to Mr. Edy.

One hundred dollars was voted to the election committee for the support of candidates receiving their endorsement.

Will Rush To Help of Ships in Danger

Special Little Vessels To Answer "S. O. S." Wireless Calls.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—Between now and April 1 a score of the little vessels of the revenue cutter service will patrol the waters along the American shore to be in readiness to aid the men "who go down to the sea in ships." These vessels have started on their winter cruise when the weather is so bad that the great Atlantic liners of the approach of dangerous ice bergs and floes.

By proclamation of President Wilson these vessels are sent out to assist all ships in distress and to keep an ever-watchful eye on derelicts that may drift into the ship lanes. These they destroy.

Particularly are they told to listen always for the dreaded "S. O. S."—the less signal that comes from a vessel in distress.

NOT CAUGHT YET

[Canadian Press.]
Bingham, Utah, Dec. 4.—It was decided by Sheriff Andrew Smith today to continue for another 24 hours the snuggles which were ignited in the Minnie mine Monday afternoon in hope of driving Ralph Lopez from his hiding place. Coal tar will be employed today in the generation of gases, and it was announced that the mine would not be opened until Friday afternoon.

Lopez has now been a fugitive for two weeks, and in that time has killed six men, one a countryman with whom he had engaged in a quarrel, and five peace officers who attempted to arrest him. He took refuge in the Minnie mine last Thursday, but many believe he made his escape from the underground workings either Saturday or Sunday, before the work of filling the mine with poisonous gases was begun.

ARVA.

Arva, Dec. 4.—Mr. Ed. Hawkins, who has been ill for some time, has left to take treatment in a London hospital. Farmers all through the district are busy finishing up the last of their work before the winter sets in. All are well satisfied with the season just ended.

At the regular meeting of the Epworth League on Friday evening, Rev. G. N. Hazen, of London, will give an address. The choir is preparing a fine song.

Mr. E. McNab has just purchased a splendid new driver from Mr. Reeve at a fancy figure. Messrs. Wm. Taylor and Charles Mackey have returned from the West, where they spent the summer. The children of the Methodist Sunday School are very busy preparing for their Christmas entertainment, which will be held on Dec. 23.

DECLARE MANY WOMEN DO NOT WANT VOTES

Opponents of Suffrage Marched to the Capital in a Body.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Dec. 4.—Opponents of woman suffrage appeared before the House committee today to argue why a committee on woman suffrage should not be created by the House. The delegation was headed by Mrs. A. M. Dodge, of New York, who yesterday was re-elected president of the national association opposed to women suffrage.

The delegation marched to the House office building in a body. In that respect they followed the plan of the American Woman Suffrage Association, which yesterday sent a delegation of nearly 1,000 women to present the suffragist side of the argument to the rules committee.

Speakers for the opponents declared working women were opposed to the franchise, because they would lose more than they would gain. This was in answer to a statement of the suffragists that the working women needed the franchise and was strongly in favor of it.

It was contended that the suffrage movement was sporadic in its nature, and that the ballot was not wanted by as many women as the suffragists claimed. It was denied that the suffragist movement had grown to such proportions as to demand a House committee.

OTTAWA PAPER SIDES WITH BISHOP FALLON

Another View of Controversy Arising Out of Recent Banquet Speech.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Another view of the Bourassa-Fallon controversy over the speech made by Bishop Fallon at St. Andrew's banquet recently was contained in an editorial in the Ottawa Journal last evening.

The editorial in part was as follows: Mr. Bourassa preached the desirability of separatism. Bishop Fallon said, "Get together." Mr. Bourassa cried, "Walk alone." The British Empire, Bishop Fallon declared, was a greater thing for civilization, freedom and Christianity, than any part of it could be, or all the separate parts if the empire were broken up. He appealed to Canadians to hold to the greater good. The British Empire, Mr. Bourassa held, will only get into a mess if it tries to remain a unit; the best thing is to split it up so that each part will not interfere with any other.

Test of Argument. "Well, let us see whether the respective arguments would lead, if carried to extremes. Sometimes that is the best way of testing an argument. Bishop Fallon's principle would lead to world union. Co-operation carried to the utmost would mean a confederation of all nations, and universal peace. Then would come the federation of nations, the federation of the world, of which Tennyson sang.

Nerves Are Sore and Painful

Neuritis, or inflammation of the nerves, is the most painful of nervous ailments. You may feel the soreness or tenderness throughout the body, or it may be confined to certain nerves. In the head it is called neuralgia; in the hips and legs, sciatica; in the face, ticdolorous, and in the chest, intercostal neuralgia.

The application of dry heat affords relief from the lance-like pains, but the essential thing is to build up the exhausted nervous system by the persistent use of such a restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You will have depleted condition of the nervous system, and this is your opportunity to restore to the body the energy and vigor of health.

While this great food cure is in effect, stilling new vitality into the starved nerve cells it is also forming new firm flesh and tissue, and, by noting "our increase in the benefit being obtained by its use. This is Nature's way of curing diseases of the nerves, and it is the only way to obtain lasting benefit.

With great self-satisfaction, the ideal of what he calls the principle of political autonomy. His application of the ideal stops at a point convenient to his purposes.

Made No Reference. "Bishop Fallon, without a word of reference to Mr. Bourassa or Mr. Bourassa's theories, applied a magnificent corrective at a fitting time and place.

"At his alma mater, Ottawa University, and throughout the city, where he is known generally, the address Bishop Fallon made at London is being widely discussed. "His doings and sayings are always followed closely here, especially at a time when the idea of imperial federation is so strong."

The Eternal Question

WHEN you write a letter there is always the question, "How long must I wait for a reply?" Momentous issues often have to wait upon the delays and uncertainties of the post or railway service! How different when you use the Long Distance Telephone! Before your letter could be written you are making your proposition right to the ear of the party you wish to reach. He gives you his answer at once and the transaction is closed—uncertainty or suspense is impossible.

Often the measure of success in business nowadays is in direct ratio to the use made of such time-savers as The Long Distance Telephone.
