GREAT BRITAIN'S BUDGET

EXHIBITS A SURPLUS OF OVER ONE MILLION POUNDS.

Not Alcohol, But Tobacco, Responsible for the Increase—The Revenue Tax from Tea Exceedingly Satisfactory—The Results Show Widely Diffused Prosperity Among Workmen.

LONDON, April 11.—The Hon. George J. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, presented the budget to the House of Commons to-day.

Mr. Goschen said good fortune again permitted him to submit a budget showing a surplus of £1,067,000. This was largely due to the expanding departments, for it was not so easy to cut down the expenditure of the revenue. There had been times when he suffered great anxiety. During January and February the budget was not bright, but during March it was better and this enabled him to submit a satisfactory result.

In the last budget the estimate of expenditure was £299,294,000. The actual expenditure was £298,227,000, leaving a surplus of £233,000. This was a remarkably small difference between the estimates and actual expenditures.

The total estimate of expenditures during the last three years was £294,000,000. The total difference in the expenditures was only £127,000. This statement was received with cheers.

Analyzing the revenue Mr. Goschen said that the total estimated £219,730,000, being £36,000 above the sum calculated on. It was not alcohol that caused the increase in the revenue. The revenue tax from tea was exceedingly satisfactory, yielding £34,000 over the estimate. Tobacco produced £23,000 and the duty on goods above the previous year. All this, Mr. Goschen declared, proved that wages had not fallen and that the economy still widely diffused prosperity among workmen.

The total revenue showed £243,000 over the estimate. The increase in the consumption of home spirits was greater in England than in Ireland and Scotland. Mr. Goschen estimated the revenue for the current financial year at £201,477,000 and the expenditures at £220,400,000. This will not allow of a remission of taxation, with the exception of a minor reduction in present rates on the duty on spirits. The duty on sparkling wines from 2s 6d and is per gallon to a uniform rate of 2s 6d. The duty on spirits is to be reduced to 2s 6d and the duty on wine to 2s 6d. The duty on spirits is to be reduced to 2s 6d and the duty on wine to 2s 6d.

Mr. Goschen fixed the general discussion of the budget for April 21.
