Again, we object to the city making an agreement with the company because it has tried to bribe our public men and aldermen by issuing paid-up stock to them. These certificates have been brought into this office. They either mean something, or they mean mothing. If they are valueless and were given merely to hoodwink the recipients, the fact proves our contention, that the company is knsincere and unworthy of our confidence. If they possess any value, and if the recipients include, as we have been informed they do, our aldermanic representatives, then the company is guilty of an offence that ought to bar them from our consideration. No member of it has yet come forward and denied the statement of The World, that the stock certificates had been lavishly distributed in quarters where it was expected they would be serviceable in securing for the company the privileges it was after. There is much greater reason for enquiring in this case of wholesale bribery than into Again, we object to the city making been lavishly distributed in quarters where it was expected they would be necessary to enable the city to change the bonds to four per cents the privileges it was after. There is much greater reason for enquiring in this case of wholesale bribery than into the alleged blackmail in the electric light affair. That matter ought to be clared up before the Council consents to consider that company's draft agreement.

We have before this called upon Mr. Hughes or any other reponsible member of the company to explain this wholesale issue of stock certificates. The one above referred to is No. 56. Who are the parties that received the preceding 55 pertificates? And the ones that follow? We have seen others for $30,000 and $40,000 and such sums, and certain parties have been told that they could get the same. And for what purpose were these certificates given? How many of them were held in trust for other parties.

May E. A. Macdonald, President's statement the earnings have exceeded expectations. The net profits, after deducting expenses of management, reservation of interest and making full provision for bad debts, aggregate $264,-817, or 13 1-4 per cent. on the paid up capital. Out of this, shareholders were paid 8 per cent. for the year, and some $100,000 was carried to "rest" account. This fund now amounts to $1,-300,000, or 65 per cent. of capital. The fund for the rebate of interest has been increased some $20,000, making it $80,-000, which is in excess of the amount that can ever be brought against it. The bank is indebted in a measure for such a satisfactory statement to the able management of Mr. Wolferstan Thomas.
