In addition to the above we must not forget the Canadian School at Calcutta, now we hope, opened and in operation.

Such is the list at present, and far does it exceed our expectations when the plan was first proposed. Let our young readers continue to interest themselves in this great work, and above all let them manifest their interest by praying often and earnestly to God, that He may bless all connected with the mission, both in India and at home.

CHUNDRIE, THE MARATHI MONITRESS.

The Editor has received from Mr. Wright of Edinburgh information as to this interesting girl, who is supported by St. Andrew's Church Sabbath School, Montreal. In the Report of the Ladies Association Schools at Bombay, for January 1858, there occurs the following passage.

"It is pleasant and delightful to inform you about Chundrie. She is getting on remarkably well both with her studies and needle work: and she is now able to give assistance in instructing others."

We trust that she may be enlightened in the knowledge of the truth and prove useful to her darkened heathen sisters.

MOUNG-MOUNG.

Dr. Judson was one of the first missionaries to Burmah. After learning the language, he built a zayat, where he used to sit and teach the new religion of Jesus Christ. One day a Burman officer passed with his little son. The child looked into the zayat, and cried, "See; there is Jesus Christ's man. Amai! How white!" And every time they went that way the child looked in and smiled, and raised his nut-coloured hand to the missionary, as much as to say, "Good morning, Mr. Teacher; I am glad to see you." The missionary's heart was drawn towards the child, and he longed to tell him of the Saviour.

At length the Burman and his son stopped at the zayat, and the child had brought a tray full of golden plantains, which he placed at the missionary's feet. "My little son," said the father, "has heard of you sir, and he is very anxious to learn something about Jesus Christ. It is a pretty story you tell of that man, and it has quite delighted Moung-
