has recently near from the discharge or a guitted in an overruling.

Providing that we are about to lay before our readers the subjected starting to ident, and which but for a merciful subjected starting in ident, and which, but for a merian interpretation, migra have had the result of plunging a whole nation into menting. A few days agonis Royal Highness the prace of Wales was permitted to accompany his royal parent in one of his shooting excursions in the neighbourhood of Ostorne, her Majesty also, with her usual royal attendants, being present as a speciator of the sport. attentiants, tening present as a spectator or me sport. It appears that just as Lord Canning was about to shoot a bare, a bird fell from the gun of another of the party, and the Prince of Wales, running forward in playful eagerness to pick it up, placed himself exactly between Lord Canton and the playful eagerness. to pick it up. placed hinself exactly between Lord Canning's gun and the hare he was about to shoot; when Colonel Grey, observing the danger rushed forward so as to cover with his person the object of a nation's hope, and in doing so received in the skirt of his coar upwards of 20 shoots from Lord Caming's gun, which but for Colonel Grey's promptimely would in all probability, have taken effect on the head or tace of the Prince of Wales. The abook which was communicated to the whole of the royal marks an electrical. Lord Caming not know in what anota was electrical. Lord Carming not knowing what mischief he might have perpetrated, fell down in a fainting ht at the moment of the discharge of his gun; while Lady Caming, who was of the party, observing her noble hus-band fall was impressed with the idea that his gun had burst and was for a few resoments in a state of indescribable susand was for a few moments in a value of index models against the sensation of the whole party, especially of her Majesty and the Prince Consort, whom it was ascertained that no real muschief had ensued from the discharge, may he readily conceived. Colonel tires's coat having fortunately been of sufficient thickness to prevent the shots penetrating his hady.

At the Central Criminal Court, on Wednesday, Henry Bathurst Monkhouse, aged twenty-eight, was tried for firing a publi at his father. The particulars of the case have been already related. On the cross-examination of Mr. Monkhouse, the father, it was elicited that the prisoner had been sent to sea as a common sailor though educated at a gentleman's school. In the defence, no attempt was made to deny the son's firing at his father; but it was suggested to the jury that the young man was so drunk and excited at the time that the count charging an intent to muider could not be maintained. Witnesses were called to prove the excessive quantity of drink he had taken, and its effects upon him. The jury gave a verdict of "Guilty" on the count charging an intent to do some grievous builty harm; but recommended the culprit to mercy on the ground that he was excited by drink. Mr. Justice Coloridge said he could not allow such a recommendation to influence his judgment on the prisoner, and he passed sentence of transportation for fifteen years .- Dec. 27.

MINISTERIAL PROJECTS .- (From the United Service Gazette.)-REDUCTION OF THE ARMY AND NAVY .- An important and disastrous piece of information has reached us, namely, that it is intended that a reduction shall be made in the number of soldiers and sailors remired for the enumina maneral year-1850-51. We make this announcement thus early to give our powerful contemporaries an opportunity of aiding us to defeat a measure so ill-advised, and so fraught with danger to the best interests as well as to the glory of Great Britain.—Reduction of the There per Cents.

The report, we presume, arose from the circumstance of —Another of the most important subjects that have occas. Mr. Robinson having interceded for the Indians, who somed the daily Cabinet meetings has been the proposition were illegally taken to Toronto from their homes, and to get up the public funds to par, and then to reduce them having succeeded in procuring money from the Government of 25 per cent, interest. We hear also from good authority ment to enable them to return to Lake Superior. It is that this measure has been absolutely decided upon, and that the money saved by the reduction will enable the Goment to carry out their intention of abolishing the Cabinet during the last ten days, and various the surmises as to the weighty affairs of State which have so portentously as to the weighty affairs of State which have so portentously occupied their attention. We have, however, reasons for boldly announcing that the question of abandoning Canada as a British Colony has been the most absorbing topic, and we learn, from authority in which we are up to place firm reliance, that it has been all but determined to give up Canada as a dependency of the Euglish Crows.—16.

Sir John Rich-ardson expressed strong grounds of hope that the missing expedition may be abut up under circumstances which are compatible with its reappearance. According to him the lands in the neighbourhood of which the lost expedition abould most probably be looked for abound in animals which should most probably be looked for abound in animals which might supply the failing stores on board the ships; and he that should fir John Franklin's provisions become as the failing stores on board the ships; and he that should fir John Franklin's provisions become as David Bigelow, brothers, and James Ryckman, a cousin, far reduced as to be inadequate, with this aid, to a winter's came to their deaths by drowning in the Desjardins' Caconsumption, it is not likely that he would remain longer by his ships, but rather, in one body, or in several, with least cot down as as to be light enough to drag over the ice, they left home about 10 o'clock in the morning, to got built expressly for that purpose would and again to shading in connector with another woman brother, and an or built expressly for that purpose, would endeavour to make their way eastward to Lancaster Sound or southward to the mainland, according to the longitude in which the ships were arrested. THR "STATE PROSECUTIONS."—On Thursday, his Worship the Mayor waited on his Excellency to as the most important commercial table of the year. It recommend the liberation of the prisoners, but was anti-is calibrate from, and the Exports to foreign pated by a note from his Excellency requesting his atten-dance, which was put into the hands at the gate of Eliusley Villa; His Excellency then intimated to the Mayor his de-sire to extend a full pardon, and his worship had the satisfaction of communicating in person this intelligence to "the Rieters." We commend his Excellency for this prompt and spontaneous action, and feel that he will lose nothing by this act of lemency, even though it be. as we are thoroughly convinced, a simple act of justice, We have heard that the Attorney General had pre-viously expressed his opinion that there ought to be re-prosecution. Whether this report be exactly true or not, the general impression in Court was, that had be been able have a pestilent lack of a mething to say, when he fills his columns with such dismal twaddle. Without fear of contradiction do we assert, that the annuls of Ministerial vindictiveness and imbeculity do not record a more scarrey attempt to magnify a mole-hill into a mountain, than these famous" Nate prosecutions" present. Why, in England, the affair would have been deemed almost too pairry for the cognizance of a Police Magistrate; and the most cross-grained London Dogberry would not have visited the delinquents with a more stringent penalty than a fine of half-a-crown. And yet, during the whole of this blessed week, the Globe has been gobbling, like a superannuated and over excited turkey-cock, at the glorious triumph achieved in the conviction of these Toronto Guy Fawkes! The only interessing matter connected with the trial was the episode of Dr. Conner sadly losing his temper, because the Counsel for the prisoners presu-med to hint that the present Canadian Cabinet was not composed of Pitt's and Fox's, Of course it was very naughty for Counsel to make any such insinuation aneut the strong Government, but still, that was no reason why the Dector should have run the risk of spoiling his diges-tion by gefting out of humour. Seriously speaking, it is "condrous pitiful" to behold the precious time of our jurymen, and the equally precious hard cash of our poor vince, frittered away in such judical tomfooleries!-
