Money to Loan.

An Arkansas editor, in retiring from the editorial control of his paper, said : " It is with a feeling of sadness that we retire from the active control of the paper ; but we have the pleasure of knowing that the gentleman in whose hands we leave it is abler financially than we are to handle it. A gentleman too, well-known in the community. He is the sheriff.

A Yankee, guilty of any tongue but his own, was haranguing on a German railway platform a porter who was in the same predicament. An Englishman, seeing the expenditure of words with no corresponding result, offered his services as interpreter. " No, thank you, stranger," said the gentleman hailing from the land of the Stars and Stripes ; " I guess English is the language of the future, and he's got to understand it."

The proprietors of a museum in Chicago lately received the following letter :—
