

Academic Record of W. L. G. Williams.

Born, 1888.

Student, Haverford College, 1905-7, 1908-10; B.A., 1910.

Rhodes Scholar, Merton College, Oxford, 1910-13.

B.A. (Oxon), Honour School of Mathematics, 1913.

M.A. (Oxon) 1916.

Ph. D. in Maths., (magna cum laude), Univ. of Chicago, 1920.

Teaching Experience.

Miami University, 1913-18.

Pennsylvania College, 1918-19.

College of William and Mary, 1919-20.

Cornell University, 1920 to date.

Now Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Cornell University.

During the year 1923-24, holding a stipend from the Heckscher Research Council, Cornell University, for the purpose of carrying on mathematical research.

I have had experience not only in teaching all the ordinary elementary courses in mathematics, but also while at Cornell in teaching graduate courses and in directing thesis work for the Ph. D. degree.