

judge, and Major Andrew C. Stuart was promoted to the command.

On the 11th March, 1883, the regiment met with a sad loss in the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Stuart, who had been seriously ill for some time. His funeral took place on the 13th and was attended by the whole regiment. The firing party of 150 men was under command of Major Scott, and the gun sleigh was furnished by "A" Battery in charge of Captain Peters.

General orders of 22nd May contained Major Scott's promotion to the command of the regiment and this year (1883), Captain W. E. Russell raised a signal corps of thirteen men.

H.R.H. Princess Louise and Lord Lorne left Canada permanently by the ss. "Sardinian" on 27th October, on which occasion the regiment furnished a guard of honor on Allan's wharf, of one hundred men and band under Captain Arthur Ahern, Lieutenants Stuart and Miller.

In March, 1885, the North-West rebellion broke out, and the regiment, which was at the time performing annual drill, held itself in readiness, hourly expecting marching orders for the front, and two companies under Major LeSueur did garrison duty on the Citadel for one month.

On the 6th March, 1886, Lieutenant-Colonel Scott retired from the 8th, and Captain H. J. Miller, as senior officer, took command and was gazetted Lieutenant-Colonel on the 31st March.

The annual inspection took place this year on the 24th May on the Plains of Abraham, before the Governor-General and Lady Lansdowne.

From the formation of the regiment to 1887, the roster contained the names of 115 officers. The 25th anniversary was celebrated on the 21st February, 1887, by a ball, given in the Academy of
