WILSON WILL NOT RETURN; STATES LIKELY TO WORK FOR PEACE IN MEXICO

Armed Intervention Is Last Alternative of Four Solutions U.S. President Has Under Consideration—Ambassador Wilson's Report Disregarded in Determining Course That Will Be Taken—His Actions Viewed With General Disfavor By Leading Washington Officials.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—President Wilson, Secretary of State Bryan and Ambassador to Mexico Henry Lane Wilson conferred at the White House today for 50 minutes on the Mexican situation. It was for this conference that Ambassador Wilson was ordered to come all the way from Mexico City to Washington. The results of the conference and other recent events are these: 1. Henry Lane Wilson will not return to Mexico City as ambassador from the United States.

2. The plan for solving the Mexican problem presented to the president by Ambassador Wilson has not been read by the president and will not be considered by the president in determining what shall be the policy of the United States Government toward the Mexican republic. 3. The president has under consideration four solutions of the Mexican problem, aside from the one submitted by Ambassador Wilson, one of which he expects to make effective.

President's Four Solutions. The four solutions are in the order of acceptability, and which have the general approval of administration officials and members of congress are: 1. To send a representative commission to Mexico, consult with all factions, advise them to adjust their differences and hold an election followed by the establishment of a stable government and the restoration of peace.

2. To intervene, but only as a last alternative, and with the understanding that it will prove expensive, and that the occupation of Mexico must continue for a generation. No Discussion of Policies. At the conclusion of the conference the White House made it known that the president, secretary of state and ambassador to Mexico had discussed only the history of events in Mexico in the last two years—the revolution of Madero against Porfirio Diaz, the revolution of Orozco and Salazar against Madero, leading up to the assassination of Madero and Suarez, and the present revolution against Huerta by the Maderists and other rebels in the northern tier of Mexican states.

The president authorized the statement that there was no discussion of policies at the conference. The plan of solution presented by Ambassador Wilson was received by the president Saturday night, when the written report of the history of Mexico for the last two years, prepared by Ambassador Wilson, was handed to the president. The plan was prepared by the ambassador on the boat between Mexico City and New York.

Wanted Huerta Recognized. It provided for a recognition of Huerta and the enforcement to the letter of the neutrality laws, making it impossible for the rebels and federal troops, but particularly the rebels, to obtain arms and ammunition in the United States. The plans provided for the co-operation of the army and navy, the navy to blockade both coasts of Mexico and the army to enforce the blockade.

His Interviews Conflicted. Among other acts of Ambassador Wilson with which the administration is familiar are discrepancies in the interviews which he has given out to the newspapers and many of which he characterized as "muddled" interviews. It is generally believed here in Washington, that the report published in several papers, stating that Ambassador Wilson would submit to the president a recommendation as to a policy, and which would provide for a limited intervention in Mexico by the United States, was inspired by the ambassador.

HERE'S BAD NEWS FOR MEN WITH WHISKERS

Barbers West of Yonge Street Decide to Boost Price of Shave to Fifteen Cents on August 1—East End Barbers Will Still Charge Ten.

"After Aug. 1 the price of a shave west of Yonge street will be 15 cents." This was the answer given by a master barber of the city last night, when he was asked by The World whether the Master Barbers' Association had decided to raise the price of shaves from 10 to 15 cents.

The further questioned the representative of the association said that the Master Barbers in the east end of the city were up in arms against the proposal to raise the price. "We were going to put the question to a vote tonight," he stated, "but the men east of Yonge street claimed that very few of their men were out and that if they were given time they could get enough out to defeat the motion. We then decided to give them a chance and hold the motion for a week."

"Will the motion go thru?" asked The World. "I think it will," he replied. "If it doesn't all the barbers west of Yonge street will raise the price anyway. All the barbers on both sides of Yonge street will do the same thing, so that if a man doesn't want to pay the price he'll have to walk a block from Yonge street. After Aug. 1 all the barbers west of Yonge street will charge 15 cents."

New Health Rules. At the meeting held last night, Mr. Hoseack of the department of health explained the new regulations which were drawn up by Dr. Hastings. The main regulations, he stated, were those which called for newly issued licenses to be used for every customer, the sterilization of all barbers' instruments in a 60 per cent solution of alcohol, and hot water running at all times.

No Extra Cost. "These regulations," said one man, "are just going to be made the excuse for the raise in the price from 10c to 15c. The regulations mean no extra cost for me, or for many other barbers, for our places are sanitary already. This talk of extra cost is piffle. At 10c we can give a man a clean shave, and if we raise the price to 15c we will lose many of our customers."

MUST WIPE OUT LEVEL CROSSINGS COBOURG TO MAKE STRONG DEMANDS

COBOURG, July 28.—(Special).—"We are prepared to do our utmost to press before the Dominion Railway Commission for the entire wiping out of the level crossings in the vicinity of Cobourg." This was the statement made to The World tonight by Mayor Gummow, who said that public feeling had been strongly roused by the accident on Sunday afternoon, in which Mrs. Perrin was killed and two companions injured.

"There are several very dangerous crossings around Cobourg," added the mayor. "Particularly bad is one where traffic issues from the station upon the tracks of the Grand Trunk. At another danger point we have had an official taking count of the traffic."

CRIMINAL OPERATION CAUSED YOUNG GIRL'S DEATH, SAYS JURY

But Evidence at Annie Brown Inquest Was Insufficient to Point Out Guilty Person—Government Asked to Take Action to Curtail Sale of Noxious Drugs.

"In the opinion of this jury, Annie Brown came to her death in the new General Hospital on or about July 19 as the result of a criminal operation. The evidence does not show clearly whether or not the operation was self-produced or brought about by any person other than the deceased." The jury are very strongly of the opinion that as retail selling of noxious drugs in Toronto is rapidly increasing, the department of justice at Ottawa should immediately bring in an amendment to the criminal code so that no person could on any pretext sell any patent or other remedy known to contain any ingredient that could bring about either indirectly or directly such a condition, except on the prescription of a physician fully qualified and in good standing.

As shown by the verdict, the closing session of the inquest into the death of Annie Brown had little result in placing the blame for the girl's death. Several of the tangles arising out of the conflicting nature of the evidence given a week ago were straightened out, but no new lights on the case were gained. Dr. Willinsky appeared on the stand again to correct his statement of last week to the effect that his first visit to the girl had been on Wednesday. Reference to his books, he said, had shown him that he was mistaken, and that he had visited Miss Brown first on the Tuesday preceding her death.

P.)—At a meeting of the British shareholders of the Union Life Assurance Company held yesterday at the Hotel Cecil, A. M. DeBrook, president, the chairman said the committee had earnestly tried to bring about reconstruction, but without success. He criticized several members of the London advisory board and condemned the administration of the company, both here and in Toronto.

MRS. SEATON WAS DROWNED AT BALA. Mrs. Thomas L. Seaton of 192 Westminster avenue met death in Moon River, at Bala, Muskoka, on Saturday, when the canoe in which she and her 12-year-old son, William, were paddling was upset. Her husband leaped into the water from the bank and succeeded in saving the boy, but although Mrs. Seaton's body was soon recovered all efforts at resuscitation failed.

DR. SUN ASKS FOR END OF LOANS TO CHINA

Man Who Led Revolution Against Manchu Rule and Who Now Opposes President, Appeals in Name of Humanity and Justice to Powers.

NEW YORK, July 28.—(Can. Press).—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the first provisional president of the Chinese republic, who led the revolution against Manchu rule, today cabled the following proclamation to the Associated Press: "SHANGHAI, July 28.—When three months ago Yuan Shi Kai unconsciously concluded the loan with the bankers representing the five powers, almost immediately after the discovery of documents implicating the Chinese Government in the assassination of the Nationalist leader, Gen. Sung Chiao-Jen, I appealed to the governments and peoples of Europe to withhold payment of the loan temporarily, knowing that the Chinese people would denounce Yuan Shi Kai for the loan and for the murder and that Yuan Shi Kai would suppress their protest by force of arms."

"My appeal fell on deaf ears and Yuan Shi Kai, supplied with funds by the bankers, poured troops into the southern provinces to demoralize the governors and subjugate the people because they did not approve of his 'high-handed' actions, and insisted on a thorough investigation of the murder of Gen. Sung Chiao-Jen. "The Province of Kiang Si resisted the invasion of the northern troops sent by Yuan Shi Kai, and six other provinces rose and joined with Kiang Si to drive him away from office. "The present war would terminate as soon as Yuan Shi Kai retired from the presidency which he has disgraced."

"I cannot bear to see my life work destroyed and the despotism of the Manchus replaced by that of Yuan Shi Kai. "I will fight for the people's righteous cause which, notwithstanding great odds, must ultimately triumph. "The powers, misinformed of the situation in China, have assisted Yuan Shi Kai with funds, which has caused the present war. "I earnestly appeal to all desiring peace and an early cessation of a long and sanguinary conflict, entailing much misery, to cease giving further financial assistance to Yuan Shi Kai. I make this appeal in the name of humanity and justice."

Foreigners Narrowly Escape. SHANGHAI, July 28.—(11 p.m.)—(Can. Press).—After two nights of quiet, firing was resumed here at 9 o'clock tonight. Shells burst over the bandstand in the foreign settlement and a Portuguese boy received mortal injuries, and other foreigners had narrow escapes. At this hour the firing still continues. It is suspected that the rebels are deliberately training their guns on the foreigners in revenge for the Shanghai volunteers having disarmed 300 soldiers and 12 officers at Chapel Saturday.

NEWSBOY TOOTED AUTO HORN LIVELY STREET BATTLE ENSUED. Medico, Who is Also a Motorist, Proved a Tartar When Bystanders Made Attempt at Rescue, and Casualty List Was Heavy Before Scene Shifted to Police Station.

An automobile horn, a mischievous newsboy, two medics, a gang of "galant" street rowdies and a squad of police were the principal characters in a war drama staged at the corner of Yonge and Richmond streets last night. The lesser lights proved to be a few distraught women and a crowd of several hundred people. The feature of the attraction was the performance of a prominent Toronto practitioner in "cleaning up" a few roughs before the police interfered.

The doctors with a large party had stopped in their machines at Richmond and Yonge, and had gone into a refreshment parlor. A little foreign newsboy took advantage of their absence to "honk" the horn a score of times. At last one of the doctors, a chunky individual, whose well-knit form is well known to the staffs of the local hospitals, ran to the machine and caught the youngster. He grasped the newsboy by the arm and uttered threats so as to frighten him. To the Rescue. But at this point a tall, lanky fellow rushed up, shouted "Let the kid alone!" and threw himself upon the doctor. The doctor swung a solid right to the mouth, and the lanky fellow dropped. His brother stepped into the breach. The doctor swung a left, and the brother dropped. Then everybody wanted to have the honor of taking a punch. Some of them took the count as well as the punch.
