TORONTO L. C. HAS PLENTY OF PLAYERS

A Little Story of Lacrosse Discretion—Games Saturday and on Holiday.

There is discussion in the ranks of the Toronto Lacrosse Club, and some of the players are out for the season, including Stagg and Braden, the former suspended by the management two weeks ago, and the latter on Saturday. Captain Warwick and Manager Upthegrove are also said not to be pulling along like mates. The captain made a change on Saturday, as he thought, but the man he sent to the sidelines was ordered back by the manager, and not the substitute. These and other things have led to rumors of a strike, but the management are assured of sufficient players to give the Irish a tight on Saturday, and also finish up the schedule.

The first discussion was over the affair of Buck Yeaman. The Toronto players were willing to work against him in the Tecumseh tie-up, but have history how President Fleming and Manager Upthegrove had their way, declaring that they would not let the rank and file run the team.

The following is from the press agent: It does not matter where Tecumseh and Toronto stand in the league race. Every time they meet there is bound to be something done, and the players seem to always play a little above their average against each other. This season they have met four times at the beach and twice at the island. In both games at the beach, and in one of the games at the island they were forced to play overtime. Each team have won two fixtures, and as the Labor Day game at the island is the last meeting of the season, the players would like to have the advantage over each other this season.

Tecumseh play Nationals in Montreal Saturday, while the Toronto entertain the Irish-Canadians at the beach, so the two teams will be equal in regard to conditions. This Labor Day game is always the big fixture of the year, and the Toronto and Tecumseh have met for six years at the island on this day, and there is always a big crowd from the out-of-town lacrosse fans on hand.

The St. Simons and the Mainlands will play Labor Day for the City League championship, starting at 1:30 p.m., while the big game will occur at 4:30 p.m.

It is reported on good authority that the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association will have nothing to do with the Mann Cup, and that the new Canadian governing body in lacrosse will back up the O.A.L.A.

The team that won the Mann Cup for Vancouver and then went ahead and captured the championship of the Western Amateur League, joined the professional ranks after they had the amateur honors securely won, and now the club will be called upon to defend it. The Conservative Club of Winnipeg will have the first try at the champions.

The last meeting this season between the Irish-Canadians, this year's D. L. A. champions, and Toronto, should produce good lacrosse. The Irish are going at top speed right now, and have their machine well oiled, but Captain Art Warwick of the Blue Shirts has determined that his team shall hand the fast-paced leaders at least a good beating. He had his team out yesterday and gave them a tough and gruelling in preparation for Saturday's game with the prospective Minto Cup hunters.

Last Saturday was Longfellow's first game since the memorable game with the Indians, and he had not recovered all his old-time vim on the attack. "Fenny" too, was a bit at sea, so it looks as if Toronto must improve on last Saturday's game.

EASY FOR S. LANGFORD

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Sam Langford, the Boston "Tar Baby," scored a knockout over Paddy Flynn in ten rounds at the Allen A. A. here last night. The match was to have been a twelve-round affair, but with a second knock-out in the fourth round, Langford put Flynn away for the count with a mighty right jab to the jaw.

This is Langford's first appearance since he returned from Australia. Flynn showed great aggressiveness in the opening round, and floored the dinge with a crashing left drive.

FERGUS BEATS HANOVER BUT LOSES OUT ON ROUND

Goderich Defeats Clinton and Takes the Group—Holiday Game.

In the first round of the O. A. L. A. intermediate semi-finals yesterday, Fergus defeated Hanover at Fergus by the score of ten to five, but lost out on the round by one goal. Over a thousand people saw the struggle, and enthusiasm had reached fever heat long before the event. Both teams played good, clean lacrosse for so important a struggle. Hanover beat Fergus by the score of 13 to 7 in the first game, and they will now go into the second round. Frank Doyle of Toronto refereed.

In the final game for the decision of the group championship in the intermediate semi-finals yesterday, Fergus beat Hanover at Fergus by the score of 13 to 7 in the first game, and they will now go into the second round. Frank Doyle of Toronto refereed.

This ended a long drawn out series of games, in which a three cornered tie had occurred between Clinton, Goderich and Wingham. Clinton had to drop out because of their failure to get a team together, at the last, as several of their players left town. Ernie Doyle of Newmarket refereed the game.

Goderich will now go into the first round of the semi-finals and will meet St. Mary's at St. Mary's on Labor Day, the return game being played in Goderich on Wednesday, September 3.

Tecumseh juniors have defaulted their game here Saturday with Mainlands. The north end boys must have saved them because of their failure to get a team together, at the last, as several of their players left town. Ernie Doyle of Newmarket refereed the game.

The T. Eaton Cricket Club of Winnipeg won a championship on Saturday. They defeated the Western eleven by 10 runs. This gives the big store team the championship of the B. division of the Winnipeg Cricket League.

Eaton's great success this season is mainly due to the fine bowling of Malby and Hunt.

Anderson, C. Ledsham, b. Malby, 3; Scroggie, bowled Hunt, 14; Bridgman, bowled Malby, 6; Hall, bowled Malby, 6; Stirling, run out, 1; Wainman, bowled Malby, 1; Martin, bowled Martindale, 1; Wainman, bowled Martindale, 1; Montgomery, bowled Martindale, 1; Butterworth, not out, 1; Cooke, bowled Malby, 1; Extras, 2.

Total, Eaton's, 42; Malby, 1; Ledsham, C. Bridgman, b. Hill, 5; Hunt, not out, 64; Metcalfe, not out, 22; Extras, 16.

Liquid Aluminum.

According to the German press, experiments made to bring aluminum to a liquid condition, so that it may be spread when cold over any dry surface have been successful. The compound is applied like paint with a brush and looks when spread like a dull silver coating. It is said to be an excellent preventive of rust, to be resistant to heat, elastic, durable and resistant to atmospheric influences and to form an excellent substitute for tin plating.—American Machinist.

CLEANING GRIMY HANDS.

Automobilists who act as their own chauffeurs and mechanics will be glad to learn of a practical process for quickly cleaning the hands of asphalt and tenacious varieties of grime accumulated when adjustments or repairs are necessary. This process, as recommended in Les Annales, consists in a preliminary rubbing (twice repeated) with gasoline, followed by saturation, and rubbing with sweet oil or butter. The hands are finally washed thoroughly with soap and water, the nails being cleaned specially with a mixture of benzine and alcohol.

Speed Boat Races At Exhibition

Today's motor boat races at the Exhibition will see all the fastest of the local boats in action and several American flyers. Two races are down for decision, and the speed demons will churn up the waters along the waterfront.

At 2:30 p.m. there will be a handicap race for class B, which will be twice around the rectangular five-mile course. Class B includes all boats having a speed of 18 miles an hour and under.

In class A, at 4 p.m., a handicap race of 15 miles will be held, and this is open to all boats having a speed of over 18 miles an hour, or any others who wish to race. The following entries have been made: W. H. Gooderham's Heloise. This boat cleaned up the races here last year, and is a hydroplane of a very speedy type. The Hi Ball III, owned by George E. Fisher, is a new boat, and this is her first race. It is expected that she will give the Heloise a great race for the money. The Baby Reliance, owned by W. A. Dunn, is another new boat. She has just come from Saginaw, Michigan, and is a hydroplane of a very speedy type. The 125 horsepower type. Then there is J. D. Robinson's Marco III. H. Howard's Shaver, Josephine B. Vining's Malquay, H. E. Penman's Marjorie, the Schindler-Holmes Co.'s S. H. M. No. 4. Another dark horse of great speed possibilities is expected to arrive in the city today from Huntsville. She is a hydroplane, and from all reports will startle some of the local speed marvels. The Gaffy II, owned by H. B. Greening of Hamilton, is expected to race, too.

Stock Brokers' Team Play Eleven Innings

After the Kelley Krew of professionals finished their arduous labors for the day at the island stadium yesterday, the nine representing J. P. Bickell and Company defeated the Standard Stock Exchange in a game filled with thrilling plays from beginning to end. The final score after 11 innings was 5 to 3.

Had it not been for the superior knowledge of Jim Irwin, who officiated as umpire, and whose judgment, decisions, etc., clearly demonstrated where his famous American scout, received his early education in baseball, there might have been several riots between the opposing teams, but at the close of the contest the winners presented him with a large pewter trophy as a token of appreciation.

The contest was a pitchers' battle, the feature being the excellent pitching by Newman, the recently installed telephone operator for J. P. Bickell, who struck out 12 batters, while Merton, for the Standard, was hit for 10 runs. The Standard, caused 10 of the opposing sluggers to bite the dust. Merton would probably have equaled Newman's record had not Roylan been permitted to bat more often. In the field, Pat Cashman, McQueen, Deery and Al Shocktop covered themselves with dust and glory for the victors, while for the losers, too much credit cannot be given to Steve Dawson, Larach, Quill Robertson, Frank Stanley and "One-handed" Smith, whose lightning plays caused much surprise and loud applause.

The score was tied up in the ninth by a regular Al Shaw wallop into the bleachers by Frank Stanley, of the Standard, with two men on the bases. After this hit Newman was invincible and mowed the batters and batters down like lambs. The end finally came in the last half of the 11th inning, when with one man on and two out, Pat Cashman smote the ball and sent it over the right field bleachers into the bay.

After the game both teams thoroughly enjoyed a repast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin on the Point, and all present agreed Mrs. Irwin was as expert at cooking as Jim was at umpiring.

Crack Three Year Olds to Meet Next Monday at Saratoga.

Special Despatch to The World

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—August Belmont's Rockview and Frederick Johnson's Cock of the Walk will meet in a match race over the course of the Saratoga Association, next Monday. The distance will be either a mile and a furlong or a mile and a quarter. Each will carry 112 pounds. A pewter cup will be presented to the winner by the loser. The race will decide which is the better three-year-old.

Before the opening of the racing season at Saratoga it would have appeared ridiculous to think of Cock of the Walk having a chance with the start of the Withers, Realization, Brooklyn Derby and the Travers, but this same Cock of the Walk has been unbeaten record here, and all of his victories have been in handicaps.

He began well when he took down the Saratoga Handicap the opening day. He followed that up, scoring in the Champlain, and his most recent victory in the Hudson was a handsome trophy to afford him every right to have a try at Rockview for the championship.

While Cock of the Walk holds this unbroken record of victories, Rockview went down to defeat in the Saratoga Handicap, when he was readily beaten by Ten Point, Night Stick and Leochares over the distance. Excuses have been offered for that running, but it has not been necessary to find any excuses for Cock of the Walk. He has in fact shown that he can run fast and far, and can do more. It is probable that Mr. Belmont will ask that the distance be made a mile and a quarter, rather than a mile and a furlong, for the son of Rockland has never been nimble at the post, and the longer distance would surely afford him a better chance. Mr. Johnson is indifferent as to which distance is chosen, and with a fast track it ought to result in a stirring contest.

NIKWANA WINS FIRST MATCH RACE EASILY

Psammiad II. of Cleveland Proved an Inferior Yacht on Two Legs of Course.

In the first match race for the Jarvis Trophy yesterday, the two yachts, the Niwana of Toronto and the Psammiad II. of Cleveland, encountered totally different conditions than those which prevailed in the open race the day before. The heavy sea had given place to an abnormally calm, and the stiff southwester had died away, and instead a slight breeze from the northeast, not more than ruffled the lake, it was thought that under these conditions the Niwana yacht would prove to be a very dangerous opponent, but the Niwana again showed her heels and won easily.

The Niwana won by four minutes and two seconds, and the quarter of a mile. The race was over a triangular twelve-knot course, with each leg four knots in length. The race was rather a lull, because of the one-sided way the event turned out. The breeze, too, was too weak to cause any excitement in the handling of canvas, etc., which is always a risky affair in a strong breeze. The two yachts presented a very pretty appearance at the start, with the Niwana's white canvas stretched out in racing style, and as they hovered around the starting buoy, one could not but compare them to two huge birds with outstretched wings.

The Norman Gooderham again skipped the Niwana, and the youthful yachtsman jockeyed so well at the start that he led the slower Psammiad for the first line by thirty seconds, or about twenty yards. Characteristic of the masterful handling of the Niwana all year, Norman soon laid his boat to windward and started out to increase his lead. The first leg of the course was a broad sweep around, starting at the Eastern Bay point in the leg off the island shore. The slight breeze from the northeast barely kept the yachts moving, and they did not alter their positions until the open water was reached, beyond the lee of the island.

Niwana, with her lead, received the benefit of the unhampered breeze first, and opened up quite a gap before the first buoy was reached. The Niwana led at this point by five minutes and ten seconds.

The second leg was a free run, with spinnaker set, to a point southeast by the Canadian shore, and then back to the starting point. The Niwana was superior in handling canvas was plainly visible at the turning. The Niwana rounded the point and came down the line, and set her spinnaker in exactly the same position as at the start.

The American crew, on the other hand, leisurely waited for the turn and then proceeded to get the spinnaker down, and the operation it was dragged all over the fore deck, and finally, after one minute and fifteen seconds had elapsed, the operation was completed. The Psammiad started to overhaul the Niwana slowly, but surely, while the latter seemed to be out of the reach of the current of air that was driving the Psammiad, and would still the American skipper bring his boat about that at the buoy he had cut down the Niwana's lead to forty seconds, or about thirty yards.

With the rounding of the buoy, every expected a great race to result on the last leg, which was a close haul home, with several tacks near the end of the run. However, the yachts had hardly got under way when the local flyer started to leave his opponent and steadily increased his lead. Skipper Gooderham proceeded to lay close to the wind until about the halfway mark, when he tacked and finished with several short ones. The Psammiad tried to overhaul his rival by holding the wind all the way until the buoy had been lined, with the result that he was good for nothing.

The Niwana crossed the line four minutes and two seconds ahead of her rival, and Skipper Gooderham succeeded in giving his opponent a four minute victory, which was a very clever work, and he is deserving of great praise for his splendid work.

The official times for the race were as follows:

1st Buoy, 2d Buoy, Fin. Niwana, 3:20, 4:15, 5:36.15; Psammiad II., 3:26.15, 4:18.15, 5:40.42.

Elapsed time: Niwana, 2:06.15; Psammiad II., 3:10.17.

The time of 3:10.17 will be held today from the starting point, and it will be to windward and return, or to leeward and return, but this same Cock of the Walk has been unbeaten record here, and all of his victories have been in handicaps.
